ABYSSINIANS HAIL KING

Ras Tafari Dons Gold Crown

Scion of Solomon Becomes Emperor Amidst Exotic and Lavish Pageantry

America Represented During Unparalleled Ceremonies Costing $3,000,000

ADDIS ABABA (Abyssinia) Nov. 2. (AP)—Amidst barbaric splendor and lavish pageantry, Ras Tafari Makonnen, the 39-year-old Prince who has been regent of Abyssinia for fourteen years, was crowned at noon today as Emperor Haile Selassie I.

The United States was represented at the ceremonies by an official delegation and by private citizens from various sections of the country from Seattle to New York.

SEVERAL TITLES

The coronation gives Ras Tafari, who claims descent from King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, the title of Emperor, Lord King of Kings of Ethiopia, Conquering Lion of the Tribe of Judah, the Elect of God and the Light of the World. Simultaneously, the royal consort, Princess Wasiru Menen, a stout, rotund woman of 40, was crowned as Queen Elega Menen, Queen of Queens of Ethiopia. This actually was the Queen's "coming-out party," as she has heretofore been confined to her housewifely and motherly duties in the royal household. She has five children, two of them married, and has taken no active part in court and state affairs.

The coronation ceremony, performed by the venerable Coptic archbishop of Ethiopia, was unparalleled in modern times for splendor, color and magnificence. The cost to the government was estimated at $3,000,000. For six months the nation has been preparing holiday garb for the occasion.

CANNONS THUNDER CHEERS

As Their Majesties rode to the throne through streets of the mountain capital, which were packed with tens of thousands of their braves and chieftains, the masses thundered forth cheers and wild, savage cries of acclaim. Scores of natives were trampled in the dust as the crowd surged to catch sight of the coronation party.

On either side of the colored potentates, acting as escorts of honor, were olive-skinned, black-bearded and curly-headed Ethiopian princes and tribal chiefs. They were multicolored costumes of silk and satin, embroidered in gold and silver. Their shields were of hippopotamus hides, and they had medieval swords and scabbards. Behind the monarch and his Queen were the high priests in vestments of scarlet, green, yellow or purple, carrying gold and silver croziers or incense lamps. Following the priests were groups of princes and grandees in black silk ceremonial capes, and the members of the cabinet and government in their national shammas.

ELECTION SURVEY POINTS TO GAINS BY DEMOCRATS

But Control of Congress Unlikely; Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Illinois Have Hottest Races

A preliminary survey of the election next Tuesday made by the North American Newspaper Alliance indicates that the result will be in accord with the historic rule of a midterm setback for an administration which rose to power in a landslide.

Many reasons are given for this change in political sentiment. The depression in business, a return of the Democrats who bolted their party in 1928, and, more generally, the need seen by many in some sections for some change in the prohibition law, will affect the result.

The main question to be decided Tuesday is whether this general dissatisfaction is strong enough to wrest the control of Congress from Mr. Hoover's party and give it to the Democrats. To accomplish this, the Democrats will have to gain ten seats in the Senate and fifty-three in the House of Representatives.

Reports from pivotal States do not quite show this radical change, but do indicate that both houses will be closer in membership than they have been for some years, and that the question of modifying or repealing the Volstead law will be an outstanding one in 1932.

ILLINOIS

CHICAGO, Nov.2.—Illinois Democrats expect a landslide for James Hamilton Lewis for Senator, while the Republicans do not see how Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick can lose.

After putting the aggregate of canvasses and surveys by party leaders into a hat and shaking well that which comes out indicates the following forecast:

Mrs. McCormick should have a majority of around 100,000 in a total of 101 counties, while Lewis should win in Cook county, including Chicago, by around 150,000.

ALABAMA

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Nov. 2.—Pre-election indications are that the Democratic party regulars will remain in power, with Senator Heflin retiring to private life, after twenty-six years of holding public office, with election of John H. Bankhead to the Senate.

Competent political observers say the bulk of the 127,000 votes cast two years ago for Alfred Smith will be cast for the regular Democratic nominees, that Senator Heflin will poll not more than 45,000 Republican votes and not more than 50,000 votes of Democrats who bolted the party in 1928 to support President Hoover.

PENNSYLVANIA

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Pennsylvania, bulwark of Republicanism, is in the home stretch of its most hectic political campaign in years, with a Democrat straining to overcome natural voting habits and gain the Governor's chair.

John M. Hemphill is the Democrat standard bearer and he also is the candidate of the Liberal party, an organization pre-empted after the primary by the wet interests, who are fighting to prevent Gifford

PARIS RAIDS ANTI-FASCIST HANG-OUTS

Over Hundred Taken in Effort to Meet Wish of Premier Mussolini

PARIS, Nov. 2. (AP)—One hundred and nine Italians were caught today in a police dragnet thrown over five wards of the city in an effort to break up the Italian anti-Fascist organization. Fifty-four of the prisoners were later released.

The police raided lodging houses and cheap hotels, demanding the identification papers of more than 1000 individuals. Many were found facing decrees of expulsion. Others had criminal records and will be expelled to Italy.

The public regarded the raids as the start of a great police drive against the anti-Fascists, of whose Paris activities the Mussolini government has been complaining for years. The attempted killing of Luis Carti last Wednesday by anti-Fascists who considered him a renegade is believed the immediate occasion of the police action.

The authorities said they found proof of a vast militant anti-Fascist organization in the city.

Rail Watchman Killed Trying to Prevent Wreck

EAST ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2. (AP)—An attempt to prevent a crossing accident here tonight cost William Lamb, a watchman for the Terminal Railroad, his life.

When he saw a Missouri Pacific passenger train and a motor car approaching, he ran from his shanty waving his flag for the car to stop. The car moved onto the tracks and was struck by the pilot of the locomotive, wreckage of the car projecting from the locomotive, struck and fatally injured Lamb.

Thomas Hannon, 13 years of age, a passenger in the car driven by his father, also was fatally injured. Michael Hannon, 42, the driver, John and Mary Hannon, 6 and 3, respectively, and Henry Timper, 38, all passengers in the car, were injured.

Ortiz Rubio's Sons Unharmed in Auto Crash

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 2. (AP)—Guillermo and Ferdinand Ortiz Rubio, sons of the President of Mexico, emerged unscathed from a motor-car accident here today.

A roadster in which the youths, students at St. Benedict's College, Atchison, Kan., were driving, and another machine, the driver of which said he was Lloyd O. Watson, lumberman, collided.

The cars were damaged considerably and the brothers Ortiz Rubio, as a result of the crash, were late for tea at the home of Charles M. Bush, their host. Later they were dinner guests of Carlos Gaxiola, Mexican Consul.

Knockout Saves Life of Woman

SYDNEY (N. S. W.) Nov. 2. (AP)—An aviator here developed today a rough but effective method of preventing serious injury to a passenger.

Pilot Daish, while flying over Sydney at an altitude of 500 feet, saw a woman attempting to jump out of the cockpit. Letting loose of the controls Daish landed a quick blow on the woman's chin, knocking her unconscious.

Taking the controls again the pilot made a safe landing and lifted the woman out of his machine. By that time she had recovered consciousness. Her only injury was a bruised chin.

DAM START ADVANCED

Boulder Project to Be Hurried

Construction Will Begin on or Before April 1, 1931, Under New Plans

Single Contractor to Handle Huge Job Costing More Than $60,000,000

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Actual work will be started on the construction of the Boulder Dam on or before April 1, 1931. This project, costing between $80,000,000 and $70,000,000, is to be let to one contractor for all the work.

Bids will be asked for by the Secretary of the Interior December 1, next, and ninety days will be granted prospective contractors to bid on this greatest of all government peace-time construction projects ever undertaken by the United States. On March 1, the bids will be opened and in a few days the award will be announced.

Actual construction is scheduled to start about six months earlier than first contemplated and the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible, in the hope that the project may be completed two or three years earlier than first contemplated.

FIRST TASK AT SITE

The first of the tasks at the dam site will be that of driving four tunnels, each fifty feet in diameter and about one mile long, through the solid volcanic rock cliffs on either side of the canyon. These tunnels alone will cost from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

When these tunnels are completed, a coffer dam eighty feet high will be constructed some distance above the site of the permanent dam, and a similar one below the dam site. The purpose of these dams will be to divert the water, no matter how great the floods, through the four great tunnels during the time of construction. This will leave the river bed between the coffer dams dry.

HERCULEAN JOB

The initial task at the actual dam site will be to remove from the bed of the river the loose boulders and dirt that lies above bedrock.

This loose material is from 100 to 150 feet thick and it will be a herculean task to sweep the bedrock clean of it. Not until the tunnels are completed, the river diverted, and the bedrock exposed can the actual construction of the dam itself begin.

Starting at bedrock this great concrete structure, 650 feet long at the base, sloping to a width of forty-five feet at the top, will begin to arise to its ultimate height of 727 feet. Here it will constitute a span 650 feet long over which a transcontinental highway will pass. Building this wedge which will reunite the ends of a severed mountain chain will be the final task to be figured on by contractors.

SINGLE PROJECT AIM

Originally it was thought it might be wise to let the different items in this final undertaking of dam construction to different contractors. One concern might drive the tunnels on one side of the canyon and another those on the other side. A different contractor might build the coffer dam, might excavate for the great dam, might erect that dam. After careful study and consultation with the leading contractors of the nation, however, it was decided that this entire undertaking, through the elimination of duplication, could be more economically handled as a single project.

There are a score of contractors in this country capable of handling an undertaking of this size and a number of bids are expected.

Kidnapers Fail to Appear for Ransom Money

DETROIT, Nov. 2. (AP)—Relatives of Charles Kaier, kidnaped wealthy retired real-estate man, are awaiting further word from kidnapers tonight, following unsuccessful attempts by Mrs. Kaier to deliver $2000 of the ransom demanded, at a hotel here last night.

Kaier left his home Thursday night with four men who posed as Federal prohibition agents and said they were taking him to the United States District Attorney's office.

The kidnaping was not made public until last night, after Mrs. Kaier returned home in an hysterical condition after spending several hours in the lobby of a hotel waiting for representatives of the kidnapers to appear and receive part of the ransom.

WILD GUSHER FIRES RIVER

"Christmas Tree" Curbs Well in Nick of Time as Oil on Stream Blazes Into Skies

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 2. (AP)—The wild Morgan Petroleum-Stout gusher, rampant in the Oklahoma City oil field since Thursday night and threatening the city hourly with danger of fire, was shut in at 3:30 p.m. today. Simultaneously there came reports that oil on the Canadian River had caught fire seven miles downstream from the well.

The river, coated with crude oil from the wild well, runs toward the northeast. Oil has been traced fifteen miles downstream.

Vast clouds of smoke arose from the stream. Several companies of firemen were rushed to the scene.

It was the second active threat to the city from the well. Yesterday a grass fire near refuse pits caused alarm. It was extinguished without damage.

The river fire, seven miles north of the well and downstream, was caused by oil from the gusher itself, which is situated on the river bank. Later reports indicated only a small area was being burned and that the flaming oil was gaining no headway in the direction of the well, because of the current of the river. Likewise it was burning itself out downstream.

Flames leaped forty feet into the air over a space about sixty feet long, sending huge clouds of black smoke into the air. At sight of the smoke hundreds of motorists drove to the fire scene, preceded by fire fighters.

The cause of the river blaze is not known.

The gusher itself, although brought under control by the huge iron "Christmas tree" or die nipple connection, may yet give more trouble, oil men hastened to point out. It could not immediately be learned if there was danger of leakage despite the new device.

The renegade gusher has been described as the worst menace to Oklahoma City in its history. Its rampage—much more dangerous than the eleven-day spree of the outlying Mary Sudik well in the same field last spring—caused evacuation of many homes in the near-by Negro districts, closing of six schools, the calling out of National Guardsmen to enforce strict fire regulations and the constant spray-

THOMPSON TAKES TURN FOR BETTER

Chicago's Mayor Gaining Ground, Though Still in Danger, Say Doctors

CHICAGO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Mayor Thompson gained ground today in his fight to recover from an emergency appendicitis operation, and while not out of danger attending physicians regarded the outlook as more favorable.

The crisis, expected to occur this afternoon, will not be reached until tomorrow, Dr. Milton M. Portis, one of the doctors in charge, said.

Health Commissioner Kegel after a visit said the patient is in exceptionally good mood and has manifested much interest in the events incidental to conclusion of the current political campaign.

Although Thompson was denied a request to scan the political reports in the newspapers, his secretary, Robert J. Lyman, announced arrangements are being made to carry election returns to his bedside Tuesday night.

The Mayor passed a restful day after a refreshing sleep. Following a consultation the attending physicians issued a bulletin to the effect his "pulse, respiration and temperature are consistent with present findings. No new complications have arisen. While not out of danger the outlook is a little more favorable."

Kingsford-Smith, Father of Flyer, Dies in Sydney

SYDNEY (N. S. W.) Nov. 2. (AP)—The death of William Kingsford-Smith, father of Charles Kingsford-Smith, conqueror of both the Pacific and Atlantic oceans, was announced today.

The famous flyer's father was confined to his bed after the excitement and strain incident to Kingsford-Smith's flight across the Atlantic last summer. He rallied for a time after the flight, however. Kingsford-Smith recently completed a flight from England to Australia.

Mr. Smith requested his ashes be scattered on the waters of the Pacific Ocean. Friends said his famous son probably will perform the sad duty.

Federal Man Struck by Car

SOUTH SUDBURY (Mass.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Dr. Cyrus F. Goddard, 49 years of age, Washington, touring the country for the United States Department of Labor, suffered a possible fracture of the skull here today, when struck by an automobile, the driver of which sped away after the accident. Dr. Goddard was taken to a hospital.

STORM FLAG HOLDS DO-X IN HANGAR

Start of Amsterdam Flight Delayed by Warnings of Bad Weather on Coast

ALTENRHEIN (Switzerland) Nov. 2. (AP)—Storm warnings from English and Dutch weather stations today caused postponement of the departure of the German flying boat DO-X for Amsterdam on the first leg of the flight to Lisbon, whence she will fly to New York.

However, instructions were issued to officers and crew to report at 7 a.m. tomorrow for a possible start at that time. It is believed the storm which developed along the route so quickly may clear up just as suddenly. No definite announcement as to the start is expected, however, until the early Monday weather reports can be studied.

Officials at the Dornier works today repeatedly emphasized that the Amsterdam flight is not regarded as a start for America, but only as the first stage of a flight to Lisbon, whence the DO-X will fly toward New York by stages.

Spokesmen admitted that the distinction may be difficult for the lay mind to grasp, but said their official information is that until their ship arrives at Lisbon it will not be regarded as leaving for America.

The exact time of the departure from Lisbon depends, the same as the departure from Altenrhein, on the weather.

Jeweler Dies Aiding Autoist

SAN JOSE, Nov. 2. (AP)—Awakened early this morning by Miss Antoinette Zillman, San Jose State College co-ed, whose automobile had run out of gas, Henry J. Musgrave, 55 years of age, San Francisco jeweler living on the Los Gatos highway, was injured fatally when the girl's car was struck by another as he was pouring gasoline into the tank.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 2.

[To the Editor of The Times:] Come pretty near having two holidays of equal importance in the same week, Halloween and election, and of the two election provides us the most fun. On Halloween they put pumpkins on their heads and on election they don't have too.

Candidates have been telling you that if elected they would "pull you from this bog hole of financial misery." Now is a good chance to get even with 'em by electing 'em, just to prove what liars they are. Personally I think this is the right year for a good man to be defeated in.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

FRANTIC SOS FROM SHIP

Craft Disabled in Raging Sea

Japanese Freighter Tosses Rudderless With Liner Rushing to Rescue

Crew of Forty Men Carried; Cargo Shifts Causing Dangerous List

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Wallowing helplessly in heavy North Pacific seas, the Japanese freighter Seiyo Maru sent out frantic messages late today in an effort to make a rescue ship understand her position.

The freighter, carrying a crew of about forty men, wirelessed she has lost her rudder, is listing dangerously and is in a sinking condition.

The steamship California is trying to go to the aid of the helpless craft in the stormy waters southwest of the Aleutian Islands. But radio messages received by the Dollar Steamship Company radio station at Mussel Rock indicated the rescue ship is having difficulty understanding the distress calls of the Japanese vessel.

SIGNALS MISUNDERSTOOD

"I can't make you understand English," the radio operator aboard the Seiyo Maru told the California the Dollar station reported.

At 3:55 p.m. (Pacific standard time,) the California was reported twenty-five miles away from the distressed ship after plowing through the seas for several hours in search of the freighter.

First word of the plight of the Seiyo Maru was received here through the President Grant, when the Japanese craft began sending out distress signals at 5 a.m. She reported her position as latitude 50.15 north, and longitude 178.25 east, which placed her southwest of the Aleutians.

CARGO SHIFTS

The freighter struck heavy seas shifting her cargo badly.

At 1:45 p.m. she wirelessed: "Having 18-deg. list, lost rudder and drifting helplessly."

The Seiyo Maru, en route from Portland to Yokohama, carried no passengers, her agents said.

She is a steel vessel of 6500 gross tonnage, owned by the Mansei Kisen Kaisha and operated by the Yamashita Shipping Company. She was formerly owned by the Togo Kisen Kaisha, which was merged with the N.Y.K. Lines. A vessel of that name was formerly in the south coast-Orient service of the old T.K.K. Line. She was built in Glasgow in 1913.

CREW OF SINKING MOTOR CRAFT SAVED

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP) — The Mackay radio station at Sayville today picked up a message from the steamer Sud Uruguay saying it had saved the crew of the sinking motor craft Jupie of Yarmouth, N. S., in latitude 38:04 north, longitude 69:35 west. The position indicated is about 400 miles east of Cape May.

Further messages said the Jupie was bound to Yarmouth from St. George, in the Bermudas. Those saved include Capt. Gardner of Bermuda, Oscar H. Van Kassel of Digby, N. S., and Erskin Mitchell of the Bahamas. They had been drifting seven days when picked up. Although they were out of food, the Sud Uruguay said the men are all in "fine condition." The vessel had no cargo.

Three Killed in Air Crash

TORONTO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Harry Taggert of Toronto, a former airmail pilot, and his two passengers, Jean and Kathleen McColl of Englewood, Ont., were killed today as the plane in which Taggert was stunting crashed from a height of 100 feet at an airport here.

GALE RAKES ENGLISH COAST

Ships Battered and Passengers Injured as Storm Churns Up High Waves in Channel

LONDON, Nov. 2. (AP)—A storm which caused considerable damage and injured a number of persons tore at the English Channel and the Southern and Midland counties of England today.

The cross-channel steamer Maid of Orleans reported four passengers injured when a great wave struck her while she was en route from Boulogne to Folkstone. Two windows on the port side of the ship were stove in.

The Essex shore near the mouth of the Thames was struck by a miniature tornado. Motor cars were blown over in the streets, pedestrians were thrown down, several roofs were stripped and large trees were unrooted. The wind continued at tornado violence for only two or three minutes, but an extraordinary heavy thunderstorm, with sleet and rain continued over the area all day.

The Greek steamer Menelaos signaled during the afternoon that she was very seriously damaged, messaging from two miles south of St. Catherine's Point, Isle of Wight. A lifeboat put out from shore and was standing by late today.

From other points on the southern coast came reports of barges and other small craft in trouble and of rescues by lifeboats or motorboats. No loss of life had been reported early tonight.

That the gale extends across the southern North Sea was disclosed by Lloyds' report from Flushing, saying the British brigantine Cecilia was stranded in stormy weather on a sandbank off the harbor. Her topsails were torn to shreds and marine authorities said she probably would be wrecked if her anchors gave way. Lloyds' report said, however, that the captain refused assistance.

Lloyds' register of shipping gives the Menelaos as a steamer of 2450 tons. She was built in 1898. The brigantine Cecilia was not listed in available marine registers.

TWO DEAD, MANY HURT IN PARIS STORM

PARIS, Nov. 2. (AP)—Fierce storms struck Paris today, causing the death of two men and injuries to many. One man was killed by a falling electric light pole and another in a different part of the city by a falling chimney. Seven injured were taken to hospitals. Property damage was heavy.

"TIMES" ELECTION SERVICE

The Times has made arrangements to cover the general elections in California and other States tomorrow with its accustomed accuracy and dispatch and to make the results known as expeditiously as possible. Beginning at 6:30 p.m. and at frequent intervals thereafter until midnight or thereabouts election returns will be broadcast from KHJ, the Don Lee station. Results from other States will be given over a national hook-up of the Columbia system, with Frederick William Wile at the microphone in Washington. First California returns will be available probably about 7:30 o'clock, the polls closing at 7. In addition to the local and national broadcasts, returns will be made public in special street editions and by telephone to all who call The Times, MAdison 2345.

in the imperial chariot which once belonged to former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany. The carriage was drawn by six snow-white horses.

Arriving at the Church of St. George, they descended from the chariot, their coronation robes of scarlet and gold glittering in the sun. The sunlight was reflected fiercely from the gold and diamonds on their crowns, where the figure of the lion of Judah symbolized the national power.

The foreign princes, ministers and delegates already had taken their places in the church, which proved too small, in spite of recent additions, for the throngs which clamored for admission. Their Majesties found difficulty in making their way through the crowd to the inner sanctuary, where the Coptic Archbishop performed the religious rites and ceremonials.

DWARFED BY QUEEN

Small of stature, thin, frail, with delicate, almost feminine features, Ras Tafari nevertheless assumed a look of great dignity and solemnity as the Archbishop placed the crown upon his head, yet the Emperor seemed dwarfed by the Queen, who is of Amazon proportions.

"God has annointed you to rule with justice," intoned the Archbishop, as he crowned his liege. Then spoke the pontiff:

"Gird the sword on your loins, and rule in peace. May the Lord God, Supreme Ruler of men, bless and glorify your reign, and may he ever keep you and your consort in his bosom."

The coronation was followed by a dance of the high priests in front of the church, to the time of low, rhythmical chants, accented by monotonous drumbeats and the clash of cymbals. The priests swayed their bodies violently to and fro according to the peculiar Ethiopian ritual, and waved their long, gold-headed "prayer-sticks" like wands.

LIONS GUARD THRONE

After the royal pair left the church, they were driven, amidst fresh outbursts of applause, to a great, lavishly decorated coronation dais in the big square in front of the palace. In front of them, tethered to the platform and growling like captive beasts in a Roman arena, were a quintet of fierce-looking lions with beautiful golden-brown manes, guardians of the throne of Ethiopia and national symbols of power.

The ruling princes and chiefs from the outlying provinces were admitted to their presence in processional order. As they approached the rulers, they prostrated themselves, touching the earth with their foreheads as an indication of their submission and homage. Besides the sovereigns stood the crack guardsmen of the palace, tall, stalwart youths, brilliantly uniformed, who guard their monarchs' lives and lead the way into battle.

CRIMINALS FREED

To signalize his coronation and spread peace and good will among the country's 10,000,000 population, the King released several hundred political and criminal offenders, and also conferred the Order of the Conquering Lion of Judah on a number of Cabinet members, princes and tribal chiefs.

The most striking of the day's festivities was a gargantuan open-air banquet of raw meat and "etj," or wine made from fermented honey and flavored with herbs, which the Emperor gave to 25,000 of his tribesmen. Five thousand cattle were slaughtered on the spot for the feast.

The young Emperor considered it a day of triumph. At the end of the ceremonies, he fell on his knees and gave thanks to God. Abyssinia has been a Christian country for 1600 years.

Among the Americans who attended the coronation of Ras Tafari were:

Addison E. Southard, United States Minister resident here, and Mrs. Southard; Prof. Thomas Whittemore, president of the Byzantine Institute of America, who was a guest of the Emperor; Dr. Alexander Wilson Pollock, Thompsonville (Pa.) medical director of the United Presbyterian Mission in Abyssinia; Dr. Thomas A. Lambio, Pittsburgh, medical director of the Abyssinian Frontiers Mission; Rev. George William Rhoad, Bath, Pa.; Frederick L. Russel, Seattle, treasurer of the United Presbyterian Mission in Ethiopia; Dr. Stuart Bergama, Grand Rapids, Mich., chief surgeon of the United Presbyterian Mission Hospital and physician to the Emperor; Daniel R. Alexander, Troy, Mo., the only Negro American missionary in Ethiopia; Miss Ellen La Motte, Washington, D. C.; James Loder Park, American Consul to Ethiopia; Andre La Barre, Honolulu, and Mrs. Franklin Adams, Washington, D. C. H. Murray Jacoby, Brig.-Gen. William Wright Harts, and Charles L. Cooke were designated to represent the United States as special emissaries. The Duke of Gloucester represented Great Britain.

Clover Seed in Iowa Guarded by Armed Farmers

McGREGOR (Iowa) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Grain elevator men and farmers in this part of Iowa are guarding their clover seed with guns following four successful robberies of the costly seed.

The first elevator touched was that of Hall Robertson, Postville, which was robbed of $400 worth of seed. Since then the Winnesheik Equity Association elevator at Decorah has been robbed of twelve sacks of clover seed, the farmers' elevator at St. Olaf of clover seed valued at $500, and the elevator at Farmersburg of around $1000 worth of seed. At Farmersburg, the robbers stole the car of the proprietor to haul their booty away.

OKLAHOMA CITY GUSHER CHOKED

ing of many sections of the city with oil.

Because of the gas-saturated atmosphere in the district surrounding the well it is not believed the stringent rules in force since Friday morning will be lifted immediately.

The gusher, which cut loose its connections before the driving power of diamond-like sand, has kept the entire city in constant fear of fire. The apprehension was increased yesterday afternoon when oil-soaked grass a mile and a half from the gusher was ignited, but the blaze quickly was extinguished. Today's Canadian River fire coming shortly before the gusher was shut in, added to the fears of many East Side residents whose homes, lawns and trees virtually are dripping from the spray of the gusher.

THREE FLYERS LEAVE TO HUNT MISSING TRIO

SEATTLE, Nov. 2. (AP)—Three Seattle aviators took off from Lake Union here today to scout the coast line south of Prince Rupert, B. C., in search of Pilot Robin "Pat" Renahan and his two companions, who dropped from sight last Tuesday while flying north to the aid of Capt. E. J. A. Burke of Vancouver, B. C., his mechanic, Emil Kading, and Robert Martin, a prospector, missing since October 10 in the Liard Post region in Northern British Columbia.

BANANA OIL TO WARN OF MINE PERIL

Offensive Odor Shot Via Ventilation Lines Will be Used to Avert Disasters

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—The acrid fumes of banana oil shot through ventilation lines at nearly a mile a minute, are to be used to warn miners of peril in American ore borings, the American Standards Association announced today. Tests of various signaling methods by experts of the United States Bureau of Mines showed workers recoil from offensive odors more quickly than they give heed to other warnings, the announcement said.

Mines which comply with the provisions of the American Standard code for fire fighting have approved the new method, the association's report said, after its submission by the National Fire Protection Association and the American Mining Congress, acting for the government investigators.

Other chemicals producing disagreeable but harmless odors which will be employed are butyl mercaptan, ethyl mercaptan, ranced butter fumes and the banana distillation, amyl acetate.

Passenger in Plane Wreck Badly Injured

MECCA, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Miss Dorothy Lynch, 22 years of age, of Coachella, was injured seriously here today when an airplane in which she was flying with an instructor and a student pilot, cracked up in landing during an air circus presented by Los Angeles commercial aviators. She suffered a broken nose and concussion of the brain and was unconscious at a late hour tonight. Bert Eckstein, instructor, and Eugene Runyon, 23-year-old student flyer, escaped with minor bruises. The mishap endangered the lives of scores of spectators lining the field.

Runyon, who was at the controls, failed to level out properly in negotiating the landing. One wing snagged on some brush and sent the ship careening into a ditch about which a large crowd had gathered. The ship, a Handley-Page biplane, was badly damaged.

Divorced Wife and Self Slain

BRISTOW (Okla.) Nov. 2. (AP)—John B. James, oil worker, and his divorced wife were shot to death today in the yard of the woman's home here. A revolver was clutched in the man's hand and police said it is apparent he shot the woman and then killed himself. The Jameses were divorced last month. They had two small children.

VOTE TREND IN ENGLAND DISCLOSED

Large Loss by Labor and Conservative Gain Shown in Municipal Elections

LONDON, Nov. 2. (AP) — Final returns from the municipal elections in about eighty of the largest cities and towns in England and Wales show the Labor party lost at least ninety-two seats and gained only twenty-seven in the recent voting.

The Conservatives gained seventy-nine and lost ten, while the Liberals gained nine and lost seventeen. The Independents gained twenty-four and lost twenty.

While municipal and parliamentary politics in Great Britain proceed on greatly different lines, and experts disagree as to what extent municipal elections can be considered representative of national political feeling, it is generally agreed that the results are remarkable. They were unexpected in view of the fact that in the last municipal elections Labor gained 113 seats and lost only twelve.

Overdue Lake Vessel Safe

SAULT STE. MARIE (Mich.) Nov. 2. (AP)—The Canadian grain carrier Ashbay, overdue here since Wednesday, passed through the locks of the Soo Canal at 3:05 a.m. today.

The United States Coast Guard cutter Swinole returned to its base here today without having found any evidence of a ship in distress as had been reported last Friday by the lighthouse keeper on Michipicoten Island in Lake Superior. Officers of the Coast Guard said they believe all ships on Lake Superior are accounted for and that the ship the light keep thought he saw through a heavy snowstorm "probably was imagined."

Father and Two Sons Meet Death

RED BLUFF, Nov. 2. (AP)—A father and his two sons were crushed to death when their heavy truck plunged off the old Hooker road west of Cottonwood and rolled down a 200-foot embankment today.

The dead are Roy Gould, 47 years of age, farmer, of Anderson, Shasta county; Glenn Gould, 10; George Gould, 7.

The three were returning home from delivering a load of wood when the machine failed to negotiate a sharp curve at the top of a long grade. The truck landed with its wheels in the air, pinning the Goulds beneath it.

MONTANANS' ROW FATAL

KALISPELL (Mont.) Nov. 2. (AP) Climaxing what neighbors termed a six-year quarrel, Phil Swarthout was shot and killed here last night by Carey Fine. It was the tenth killing in Flathead county since June 13.

THIEVING YOUTH SLAIN ON RANCH

Body Discovered in Patch of Sugar Cane

Bullet Hole in Head Shows Fate of Boy

Companions Tell of Flight; Killer Sought

SANTA PAULA, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Love of succulent sugar cane and a foray into a small patch last night to obtain the stalk without permission of the owner is believed by authorities to have been responsible for the slaying of Clement Velasquez, 12-year-old Mexican schoolboy.

Young Velasquez was found beneath a lemon tree in the midst of a patch of sugar cane this morning on the Rancho Sespe, four miles west of Fillmore, with a bullet hole through his forehead. In his hand was clutched a small piece of the sugary stalk.

BOYS TELL STORIES

From two companions, authorities established the slaying as a result of the boys' efforts to steal the cane after darkness last night. They evidently were surprised in their foray.

The two companions of Velasquez told the officers that they were in the patch and suddenly a gun fired. They started running and did not know that their pal had been killed. They said that they were too frightened to tell of the affair.

Ventura county officials are seeking Pedro Martinez, who cultivates the small prtch of sugar cane on a plot of ground where he makes his home. Martinez and the Velasquez family are employed as laborers on the ranch and are near neighbors.

MISSING FROM HOME

Martinez and his wife have been away from home since early last night, and the authorities desire to question him. Martinez, according to the officers, has been raising sugar cane on his place for several years and has been selling a quantity to the children of the neighborhood.

The body of the slain boy was discovered after his father reported that he had not returned home all night. The boy, the father said, left home about 6 p.m.

RASKOB URGES VAST HIGHWAY

Backs 500-Foot National Road Plan of Du Pont

Says Country Needs Web of Super-Thoroughfares

Proposal Made to Restore Normal Employment

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—Superhighways across the United States were advocated by John J. Raskob in a radio address tonight over a nation-wide hook-up during Collier's hour, as a measure to restore prosperity and fulfill a national need.

"We have reached a point where the number of motors are so clogging the highways that motoring on week-ends and holidays is no longer the pleasure it used to be," said Raskob.

"We must, therefore, develop and build what I will term superhighways, thus not only providing work for millions of people over a long period of years, but making possible the further building up of our industries to care for the automobile demands of 7,000,000 or 8,000,000 motor cars annually, requiring the production of countless millions of dollars of materials of every kind with consequent more stable employment conditions."

Mr. Raskob urged adoption of the plan of former Senator Coleman Du Pont, providing for an appropriation of $5,000,000 to cover a survey for a 500-foot right of way to carry a superhighway across the United States. He said this work could be undertaken immediately.

Flyer Escapes From Prison

CONCEPCION (Chile) Nov. 2. (AP) The American aviator Edward Orville De Larin unofficially was reported today to have escaped from the detention quarters where he had been held since his arrest for asserted participation in an abortive revolt September 23.

De Larin and Reed Smith, another American aviator, brought a group of Chilean revolutionists by airplane from Argentina. When the revolt failed the Americans were arrested along with the conspirators.

LADY KEITH MILLER TO MAKE CUBA HOP

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2. (AP)—Harwood H. Smith of Pittsburgh announced today he has completed arrangements for Lady Keith Miller, noted woman flyer, to attempt a nonstop flight from here to Havana, Cuba. The try will be made, Smith said, on either the 10th or 11th inst., depending on the weather.

5,000,000 CAMEO Porcelain ENAMEL SIGNS

FROM a tiny business in 1904, this company's progress has been one of amazing growth with present production exceeding 500,000 signs per year. The past decade has seen more than five million CAMEO Porcelain Enamel Signs manufactured and erected throughout the western states.

Not one of these signs has ever faded or lost its original lustre due to weather exposure in any climate. The signs of 1920 are as bright and colorful as those which went up yesterday. Here is positive proof both of popularity and performance... proof that CAMEO Signs are far more economical than signs of any other type.

Let us tell you the CAMEO story and show you how we can fit CAMEO into your picture. Inquiry entails no obligation. Write or telephone today for full details.

Security-First National Bank has MONEY to LOAN on REAL ESTATE

THIS BANK loans money on residential or business property. The Bank's rates are moderate. It charges no "commission" for money thus loaned...only the necessary expenses of the transaction.

Because of this policy of moderate charges, the demand for loans from this Bank is naturally heavy. We are perhaps the largest lender on real estate in Southern California.

Wise borrowers come first to the Bank to see about financing, or re-financing, their real estate loans.

Many people find they can re-finance, at a more moderate rate, loans made on an installment basis on which they have increased their equity by steady payments until it comes within the Bank's margin of security.

We make loans both on straight term, and on an installment or "amortizing" plan. Loans may be arranged for at any Office or Branch with equal facility.

HEAD HUNTERS' VILLAGE TAKEN

Japanese Storm and Destroy Rebels' Stronghold

Savages Flee to Jungle as Planes Rain Bombs

Native Loss Set at Eighty; Nippon's Not Told

TOKIO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Press dispatches said Japanese troops completely occupied the Central Formosan village of Mahebo at 1:30 p.m., today in their battle to subdue revolting Taiyal tribesmen.

Several hundred aborigine warriors were seen retiring to nearby hills and valleys. After the occupation Mahebo was destroyed by fire.

An official report to the Ministry of Overseas Affairs said the savages Friday held a "festival of heads," piling up the heads of victims killed when they captured Musha, a village six miles west of Mahebo, and dancing and chanting around them.

DON TIN HATS

Further reinforcements of artillery and machine-gun sections have been ordered to join the Japanese expedition against the savages. Increased Japanese casualties resulted in an order for 500 steel helmets to be sent to the front from Taihoku, Formusa seacoast town.

The capture of Mahebo was regarded as an important victory by Japanese authorities. The village was a natural fortress, virtually surrounded by precipitous cliffs and deep gorges spanned only by suspension bridges, which the aborigines destroyed.

Driven to Mahebo from other villages by the Japanese advance, the tribesmen concentrated there until their number totaled about 600. They possessed seventy rifles, seized when they stormed Musha police stations last Monday, and two months' provisions.

Japanese authorities expected a long-drawn siege of Mahebo.

TAKEN BY ASSAULT

However, a determined attack was launched against the savage stronghold yesterday afternoon. Japanese troops advanced from three sides, while military planes bombed the village from the air. At first the attack was only partially successful, but the Japanese returned to capture the village today.

Dispatches failed to state Japanese casualties today. Yesterday, however, two officers were killed.

The Japanese asserted it was impossible to state accurately the Aborigine losses since the savages carry off their dead whenever possible. It was estimated at least eighty tribesmen were killed yesterday and many wounded.

Prior to Saturday loss to Japanese forces was reported as three killed and seven wounded. This did not include the at least eighty-six civilians massacred by the savages when they occupied Musha last week.

RED CROSS BUDGET PUT AT $4,042,000

Outlay During This Year, However, Will Be Larger Due to Many Problems

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, announced today his organization's budget for the year ending June 30, 1931, is $4,042,000, but that actual expenditures will greatly exceed that sum because of "the huge relief problems facing the nation."

Reporting on expenditures last year, Judge Payne said $4,254,700 had been spent for national and international work, and that 3550 chapters had spent $5,000,000 more despite the fact that no major disasters occurred.

Relief furnished in minor domestic disasters caused the largest expenditure last year, one of $1,208,151, the Red Cross chairman reported. The second largest, he said, was of $882,350 for work with disabled veterans and their dependent families.

After listing various other expenditures, together with outlays in the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico, Judge Payne said this program "gives an idea of normal Red Cross annual expenditures" in years in which there is "no great disaster necessitating large relief funds."

Two Racketeers Killed in Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Two men were shot to death in a beer flat today, a continuation, police believe, of the recent upheavals and killings among minor racketeers. The dead men were William (Smooth) Sierza, an ex-convict, and Frank Smulo, who has a record for petty larceny and thievery.

Sierza was known to the police as one of the first liquor hi-jackers in Chicago. Smulo was one of his lieutenants.

Lone Gangster "Put on Spot"

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—To their ever-lengthening list of slayings attributed to gangsters, police today added one more name. The body of a man identified as Felix Lopreste, 25 years of age, was found in a vacant lot in Astoria.

Detectives said the man had been arrested four times in the course of his career but never had been convicted.

POPE WILL CREATE MORE CARDINALS

ROME, Nov. 2. (AP)—Giornale D'Italia said today Pope Pius probably would call a consistory for between December 15 and December 20 to create new cardinals. There are nine places vacant now, but it is understood not all will be filled. It is considered certain, however, a new cardinal will be designated for Turin, as that post has been vacant since the death of Cardinal Gamba a year ago.

NANKING OPENS DRIVE ON REDS

Chinese Nationalists Move on Ravaging Hordes

Military Forces Proceed Via Land, Air and Water

Wiping Out of Communist and Bandit Bands Aim

SHANGHAI, Nov. 2. (AP)—By land, water and air the Nationalist government moved tonight against the Communist and bandit hordes which have ravaged the central provinces for months and constitute the principal obstacle of Nanking's effort to establish order throughout China.

Legions of infantrymen, numbering more than 100,000, were dispatched to the provinces of Hunan and Kiangsi, with orders to rescue the populace from the grip of the Reds. A squadron of bombing planes, well supplied with bombs, was sent to Nanchang, Kiangsi, to serve as eyes for the infantry. Several gunboats were dispatched into the inland waters of Poyang Lake, Kiangsi and Tungting Lake, Hunan, around whose borders the Reds have been active. The armed vessels are slated to undertake to sweep Communists from the vicinities of these waters.

DRIVE INDICATIONS

Indications the Nationalist government is proceeding with the drive against the Reds as announced a fortnight ago by President Chiang Kai-shek, are seen in statements by numerous Nanking officials on week-end trips to Shanghai. They assert 35,000 soldiers already have passed through Hankow into Hunan Province while 80,000 entered Kiangsi through Kiukiang and smaller cities farther up the Yangtze River. The troops, officials say, are preparing to proceed southward in three columns, hoping to sweep the provinces clear of outlaws o' every description.

Nanking officials say that north of the Yangtze the anti-Red plans also are functioning with 20,000 infantrymen arriving in Northern Hupeh and Southern Honan provinces along the Peiping-Hankow Railway to undertake a systematic campaign against outlaws in those districts. Additional forces, they state, will enter Anhwei and Northern Kiangsu provinces soon. The officials anticipated the initial clash with the brigands throughout the central provinces will start soon.

While Nanking is preparing to start an anti-Red offensive, those brigands continue pillaging and killing unrestrained, apparently not worrying about their possible destruction. Latest advices from outlying communities in Hunan and Kiangsi indicate the bandits continue firmly in control, while along the Yangtze River Communist batteries continue to attack passing ships with possibly increased severity.

FATE OF CAPTIVES

Meanwhile the fate of numerous captive missionaries remains uncertain. The Reds continue to demand huge ransoms for the release of these unfortunate persons who are threatened with death if the money is not paid. Missions continue to urge Nanking to effect the captives' release, while Nanking asks the various provincial military to seek to rescue the captives and frankly admits beyond that the government is helpless to assist the trapped missionaries. Fate of the missionaries seems to depend entirely on the whims of their respective captors who may release them eventually, or on the other hand, may not.

LYNCHINGS REPUDIATED BY WOMEN

Georgia Meeting Called by Interracial Commission Denounces Mob Violence

ATLANTA (Ga.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Lynching as "a defense of womanhood" was repudiated in vigorous language at a meeting here of twenty-one white women who are prominent in the religious, educational and social life of eight southern States.

Putting themselves on record as opposed to lynching "in every form and under all circumstances," a statement by the women declared: "We are profoundly convinced lynching is not a defense of womanhood or of anything else, but rather a menace to private and public safety, and a deadly blow at our most sacred institutions."

The meeting was called by the Commission on Interracial Co-operation and the day was spent in planning a South-wide crusade against mob violence through all available agencies.

Lynching was characterized as a "relapse into barbarism."

WREATH FROM HOOVER ON HARDING'S TOMB

DON'T BLAME the food! It's Intestinal Fatigue that's troubling you.

END THAT listless feeling! Turn to Fleischmann's Yeast.

FULLY 90% of our common ailments come from intestinal neglect.

Is your APPETITE GONE . . Tired by Noon?

YOU know the feeling . . . appetite lacking, your interest in things gone. The day's work is a sorry round of drudgery that has you worn out before the day is more than started!

All too often it's the common ailment, Intestinal Fatigue . . . a congested condition of the intestines.

As a result of Intestinal Fatigue, waste products collect in the intestines. They produce poisons that flood the whole body. They must be cleared away . . . but by gentle, natural means that won't harm delicate tissues.

For 75 years medical authorities have recognized the value of fresh yeast in such cases. This corrective food softens the accumulation of undigested material in the intestines. It stimulates the natural action that removes such waste matter.

Thus poison-forming accumulations are swept away. Appetite returns naturally. Reserve strength increases. You enjoy new energy.

You may eat yeast in many ways. In water, milk, fruit juices or just plain. You get it . . . the familiar foil-wrapped Fleischmann's Yeast cake . . . almost anywhere—at grocers', restaurants, soda fountains. Eat three cakes daily, according to the directions on the label.

Begin eating Fleischmann's Yeast today. Try it for two months. Every cake is rich in three indispensable vitamins—B, G and D.

CONVICTS FACE MURDER CHARGE

Sing Sing Warden to Confer With Prosecutor

Cells Searched After Four Attempt Escape

One Prisoner Killed by Guard in Battle

OSSINING (N. Y.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Three Sing Sing prisoners are in solitary confinement today facing possible murder charges, a fourth is dead, and prison authorities are conducting an investigation into last night's unsuccessful attempt by four to shoot their way out of prison.

Meanwhile 100 keepers searched 2200 convicts and their cells in an attempt to determine whether any others have guns. They found none, but in a cell block they discovered a hook and long rope similar to those the four men used in an effort to scale the wall.

BODY CLAIMED

Relatives today claimed the body of Harry Gordon, 23 years of age, Bronx robber, who took part with his three accomplices in a pitched battle with armed guards in the huge prison yard while sirens shrieked and floodlights glared.

Gordon, after slightly wounding Keeper Howard Marquard, was himself killed by four bullets from the gun of Marquard, who is an expert shot. Herbert Davis, serving five years for grand larceny in the Bronx, is recovering from a slight scalp wound received in the battle. Edward Ryan, who escaped from the prison in 1928 and was serving a long term for assault and gun carrying, showed no ill effects from the fight with the guards, nor did William Lapere, convicted robber, from Manhattan, although they were captured only after tear gas had been used.

MAY PROSECUTE

Warden Lawes disclosed today there is a possibility the three surviving prisoners may be prosecuted for murder. A precedent for such action was seen in the conviction and execution of three prisoners who took part in the Auburn riot in which a convict was killed. They were convicted because a life was lost during commission of a felony.

Mr. Lawes, said, however, he will confer with the District Attorney before deciding what action will be taken.

TIDE OF CRIME RISING IN NATION

Murders Mount Sharply in First Nine Months

Justice Department Bureau Conducts Survey

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—A mounting trend of crime in general, with an especially sharp ascendency in the number of murders during the first nine months of the present year, is shown in figures from a nation-wide survey conducted by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Justice Department's Bureau of Investigation.

At the beginning of the year, the report showed, murderers were claiming an average of three victims a day, while in September the average approached five a day.

The total of all "offenses known to the police" dropped slightly last February, rose in March, fell off again in April and May, and then began a gradual upward curve without interruption. The number of murders steadily established a new high peak for the year since May.

There was a decline in "negligent manslaughter" during the nine months from an average of four persons killed each day through negligence in January to "three and a half" persons last month, the report showed.

Chicago was placed at the top of all cities in the number of murders, having had 282 during the nine months' period, or an average of approximately one a day. Figures for New York City were not included. Philadelphia was second in the list with 109 murders in nine months, while Detroit was third with 104.

SENATE COMMITTEE SETS CHINA HEARING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee named by the last Congress to study trade relations with China will be told of conditions in that country by four delegates to the recent International Road Congress at a hearing Tuesday. Hearings were held during the summer at San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle and Salt Lake City, with a view to developing means of improving commercial relations with the country. Senator Pittman of Nevada is chairman.

BISHOP CANNON'S INFECTION SPREADS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Dr. R. Lyman Sexton, who has been attending Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, said tonight the arthritis infection suffered by the churchman has begun to spread and now is above the right knee. Bishop Cannon's condition was described as "serious but not critical." Dr. Sexton reported the infection appeared to have been checked during the day but that a relapse had caused it to advance to joints not not hitherto affected.

A CONSOLIDATION OF

BANK OF ITALY

NATIONAL TRUST & SAVINGS ASSOCIATION

AND

OF CALIFORNIA

Effective Monday, November 3

THE CONSOLIDATION of these institutions unites the resources, facilities, service, prestige and good will of two great statewide banking organizations and marks one of the greatest forward strides in the financial progress of America. ▸ It completes the structure begun by A. P. Giannini, bringing to every center of business, of industry and of agriculture in California the complete metropolitan service of this billion dollar bank. ▸ The growth of Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association and Bank of America of California is one of the outstanding features of American banking history. Both organizations have distinguished themselves in constructive achievement and in helpful, human, statewide banking service. They have attracted a combined patronage greater than that of any other bank in the United States. Woven into the fabric of this momentous consolidation are the traditions and policies of constructive banking in California. ▸ Although greater strength, greater ability and greater national prestige will result from the union of these two vigorous and progressive institutions . . . the same time-tested policies and sound banking practices . . . the same democratic spirit and impartial attitude toward everyone, rich or poor, will prevail. All California has helped to build these banks. To apply Lincoln's immortal words, Bank of America is "of the people, by the people and for the people" of California.

Bank of America National Trust & Savings Association . . . a National Bank . . . and Bank of America . . . a California State Bank . . . are identical in ownership and management.

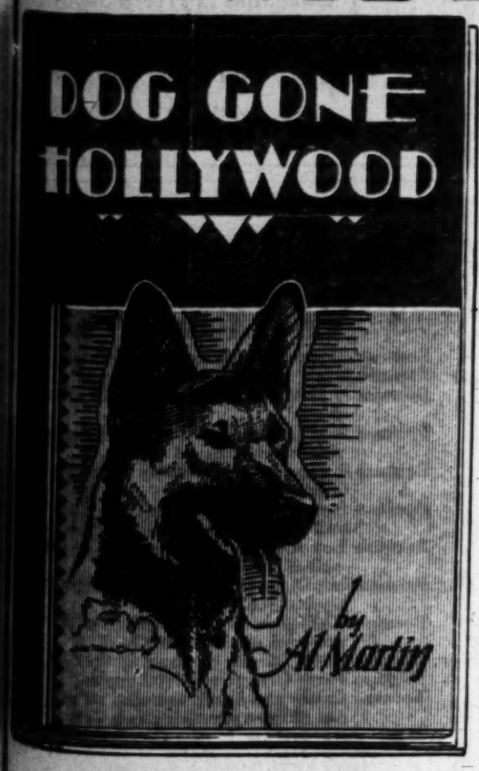
SIM CRABILL SAYS:



Al Martin's amusing book, "Dog Gone Hollywood," sure takes some sly digs at life in general and Hollywood life in particular. And Al is a boy who should know.....

PERHAPS you, too, may be inspired to be an author, although the chances are that you won't write anything funnier than the book above. Reach for a typewriter and we'll print anything you turn out—that is, almost anything. Some of the boys here might even be persuaded to write the book for you.

And further, ladies and gentlemen, we'll print it any size, shape and color you want—even if your "book" turns out to be a letterhead, catalog or a snappy direct advertising piece. The fact is—we print everything—except U. S. currency—and there's a law against that.

BRITISH GRANT WOMEN PLACE

King's College Hospital to Be Coeducational

Directors at Length Admit Sex Indispensable

Modesty of Instructors Held Reason for Exclusion

(Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The sex war which has been shutting King's College Hospital to women medical students has ended by the complete capitulation of the directors of the college on the grounds that women are indispensable in the treatment of certain diseases.

The exclusion of female students was demanded by the men on the grounds that the two sexes are unable to mingle in the study of medicine; that women are unsuccessful as doctors and that they interfere with the scholastic and athletic lives of the male students.

TEACHERS TIMID

The real reason was the embarrassment of some of the staff in teaching bisexual classes in some stages of their training.

Seven hospitals here still bar women. Most of these today indicated that they will maintain their attitude despite the declaration of the house governor of King's College, who said, "It is a mistake to pursue an antifeminist policy," and his revelation that there is an actual shortage of women directors in London.

"SEX INVALUABLE"

"It will take some time to supply the deficiency caused by the shortsightedness of the hospitals," said a famous physician today. "Certain other hospitals will follow the example set by King's College. The argument that girl students are a distraction to the men does not hold water against the fact that in gynecological work and in the treatment of children and women they are invaluable."

The principal of King's College said "no difficulties have ever arisen from teaching the two sexes side by side and we have found that women medical students are a valuable element in the life of the college. Although at present there is a real need for more women doctors, there has been a strong body of opinion that their training should be confined to schools devoted solely to women. I do not agree with this attitude."

WHALES BAY. ON TOURIST ITINERARY

British Firm Will Run Excursion to Seat of Byrd Expedition

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (Exclusive) The Antarctic ice barrier from which the Byrd expedition returned last June is to be made a stopover point on a tourist route. Formal announcement of the project was made here today by Howard Benedict for Lunham & Moore, shipping brokers, acting for a British tourist firm which organized summer cruises to the Fjords of Norway and other points farther north.

As a winter feature of a southern cruise around the world, the tourist firm decided to take advantage of the Antarctic summer at this season and turn aside for a trip to the Bay of Whales where the Byrd expedition spent fourteen months on the ice in 1929 and 1930, and where Amundsen made his base in 1911 and 1929. The site is about 700 miles from the South Pole.

Cairo Students Shot in Attempt to Burn School

CAIRO (Egypt) Nov. 2. (AP)—Five students were shot and several others arrested today in a riot at the Boulac Technical School after attempts had been made to set fire to the building. The wounded were taken to a hospital.

Premier Ismail Sidky Pasha held a long conference with the Director of Public Safety regarding measures for maintaining order. There were disturbances in three other schools yesterday.

There has been acute tension in Egypt for some time due to differences between the government party and the Liberals over proposed constitutional reforms. Police and cavalry were ordered out to patrol the streets late last month.

FUNDS FOR FARMERS WILL BE REQUESTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—Representative Aswell, Democrat, Louisiana, said today he intends to introduce a joint resolution at the next session which would authorize $60,000,000 to aid farmers in drought and storm-stricken areas during 1931.

Secretary Hyde has said he favors an appropriation to enable farmers whose resources were exhausted during the drought to make a crop.

ANGELENO RATES HIGH IN STUDENT CONTEST

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 2. The OBJECT of the Electric Railway Tax Equalization Amendment (Number Four on the ballot) is to reclassify for taxation purposes the electric railways of California as distinct from the steam railroads and to place the taxes of the electric railways on an equality with taxes paid on common property and by the motor bus and stage companies. It is:

BASED on the California Tax Commission's findings that the electric railways "bear a disproportionately large tax burden."

APPROVED unanimously by the Senate Committee on Revenue and Taxation and the Assembly Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

ADOPTED by the State Legislature for ratification by the voters.

CLASS WILL DRY TO FIDE OFF CODES

Cornell University Plans New Attack on Common Snifles by Prevention

ITHACA (N. Y.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Cold-prevention classes, a new form of attack on the common cold, are being organized by Cornell University among its students.

The preventives are a combination of half a dozen of the latest scientific treatments and old-fashioned principles. Included are ultra-violet light, alkalinization by food that reduces hyperacidity, diet, ventilation, special nose and throat studies and catarrhal vaccination.

Convinced that cold control among the susceptibles will "go a long way toward preventing cold epidemics among the whole student body," Dr. Dean P. Smiley, medical adviser of Cornell, asks that the "cold-prevention classes" be joined by those having four or more colds yearly. The treatment is "weekly ultra-violet light baths, alkalinization, instruction regarding diet and ventilation, and in selected cases a special study of the nose and throat and use of a catarrhal vaccine."

Texas-Mexico Bridge Opened in Ceremony

PRESIDIO (Tex.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Clipping of a ribbon of national colors today severed the last bond separating the United States from Mexico over the new international bridge constructed by the Santa Fe Railway for its line linking San Angelo, Tex., with Chihuahua City, Mex.

Luis L. Leon, former Secretary of Commerce and Labor of Mexico, as official representative of President Ortiz Rubio dedicated the new bridge with a speech appealing for good will between the two countries.

He clipped the ribbon stretched across the bridge as a last symbol of separation and drove the last spike in the railway line amid cheering from several thousand nationals of both countries gathered to witness the ceremony.

Youth Killed by Companion

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov 2. (AP)—Lee Naylor, 11 years of age, was shot and killed by a companion while hunting birds south of this city today. An informal inquest conducted after the accident found the shooting was accidental

Officers said Naylor was walking a hort distance in front of Richard Schouten, 12, who was carrying a small-caliber rifle Schouten called to Naylor to kneel down as he wished to shoot. Lee stooped but the bullet struck him in the head, killing him instantly.

C. W. CROCKER'S EX-WIFE SUICIDE

Former Hollywood Beauty Dead in New York

Wed Rich San Franciscan After Merry Party

Had Remained in Seclusion Since 1925 Divorce

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (Exclusive) Mrs. May B. Crocker who took her life last night in her luxurious apartment in East Seventy-third street, has been identified as the former wife of Clark W. Crocker, San Francisco millionaire. Police had listed the name of her former husband as W. C. Crocker.

A beauty and a leading spirit in social life in Hollywood and San Francisco before her marriage in 1924, Mrs. Crocker had lived in virtual seclusion since her divorce from the young banker in 1925, The News says.

Her sister, Mrs. Edythe Whitzell of East Seventieth street, said she had suffered from melancholia for some time. She was a former Ziegfeld and motion-picture actress and her acquaintance with Mr. Crocker dated back to their school days on the west coast.

BRILLIANT MARRIAGE OF PAIR RECALLED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—The romance of May Beck and young Crocker dated back to a boy and girl friendship in the local John Swett grammar school in their childhood and skyrocketed into a hasty and impromptu wedding when they met after a long absence during the World War period. Crocker was in the navy and Miss Beck with her mother in the East. When they met again she was just getting a foothold in the movies and had made a success of a role in the Rudolph Valentino picture "Monsieur Beaucaire," and Crocker was beginning a business career as a bond salesman.

Their wedding by a justice of the peace, August 16, 1924, followed a merry party at a downtown cafe during which they "fell in love at first sight," they said, and decided to marry at once.

ROMANCE FADES

The impromptu wedding, however, was not so enthusiastically received by the bridegroom's mother, the late Mrs. Mary Crocker, who was killed in an automobile accident at Atherton a year ago. Love's young dream for the romantic couple soon went glimmering and eight months after they were married the young wife instituted action for divorce. She charged cruelty and testified that her husband humiliated her before his wealthy relatives and friends. A property settlement was arranged out of court.

Young Crocker belongs to one of California's most noted families. His father, Henry J. Crocker, was a cousin of W. H. Crocker. He died a number of years ago.

Mrs. Mary L. Crocker, his mother, was greatly beloved for her many charities and was deeply mourned when her car in which she was riding with Mrs. Louise Monteagle and Mrs. Fannie Crocker McCreary, was struck by another machine, and Mrs. Crocker and Mrs. Monteagle were killed.

WORKS AS STEVEDORE

With his brother, Henry J. Crocker, Jr., and two sisters, Miss Marion Phyllis Crocker and Mrs. Arthur Martland Scully of Pittsburgh, Pa., Clark Crocker inherited his mother's large estate. His share was left in trust, "not subject to assignment or to creditors."

Crocker enlisted in the navy as an ordinary seaman and after the armistice startled his aristocratic friends by turning his back on the usual activities of a scion of wealth and working for a time as a stevedore. His family eventually prevailed on him to return to Yale to complete his university course.

Mrs. Crocker was the daughter of Mrs. Martha Beck, who came to San Francisco from Harrowgate Eng., about twenty years ago. Mrs. Beck died in 1923.

BANK OF ITALY NAME TO BE CHANGED TODAY

MRS. CLEAVER LANDS PLANE AT WICHITA

WICHITA (Kan.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Mrs. Adele K. Cleaver, British aviatrix, flying her small plane in a leisurely fashion from New York to Los Angeles, arrived here late today from Kansas City. She said she expects to resume the trip tomorrow, but declined to give her destination, saying she was following no set schedule. Mrs. Cleaver said she will spend some time in Hollywood and indicated she will fly later to Mexico City.

GERMAN HELD AFTER POLISH-LINE SHOOTING

WARSAW, Nov. 2. (AP)—A German citizen named Schrader was captured and arrested after a shooting affray today on the Polish-German frontier near Rybno. Polish authorities assert that four Germans crossed the frontier and without any motive opened fire on a shepherd in Polish territory. They fled when Polish border guards arrived but Schrader was caught.

NECKLACE LOSS MARS WEDDING

Betty Best's Mother Misses $5000 Diamonds

Hundreds of Society Folk at Woodland Event

"Gin Marriage" Law Defied to Obtain License

WOODLAND, Nov. 2. (AP)—Disappearance of a $5000 diamond necklace worn by the bride's mother during a fashionable lawn wedding here yesterday marred the marriage of Miss Betty Best of Woodland and Paul O'Neil of Sacramento. Two hundred and fifty society folk attended the wedding.

Mrs. C. L. Best, the bride's mother, said she was wearing the necklace—fifteen diamonds set in platinum—when the ceremony started, and it was gone when the ceremony concluded. She does not know whether she lost it or whether it was stolen. Authorities are investigating.

"GIN-LAW" DEFIED

The bride is one of the Pacific Coast's leading horsewomen, exhibiting prize-winning horses at most of the major shows on the Coast. O'Neil is assistant District Attorney at Sacramento.

In their marriage the couple defied the common interpretation of the "gin-marriage" law. Previous interpretations and court rulings were that three days should elapse between the day of filing notice of intention of marriage and the granting of the license. Neither the day on which the notice was filed or the license granted were counted.

RULING OBTAINED

The couple filed their notice Wednesday and, under previous interpretations, could not have obtained their license before Sunday. But the day had already been set and many prominent Californians had been invited to the wedding.

So they appealed to Dist.-Atty Chalmers of Yolo county, who ruled the three days begins with the filing of the notice. It is understood Atty.-Gen. Webb already has the question under consideration.

Father Whelan, president of the University of San Francisco, performed the ceremony.

FOUR BOYS SHOT WHEN MAN FIRES

Denverite Grows Irate as You'ths Kick Football Into His Back Yard

DENVER, Nov. 2. (AP)—A football kicked in the yard of Gennaro Ruscetto's home resulted in the wounding of four boys today, when the man is asserted to have fired a shotgun into a group of boys playing football.

Most seriously injured was Harold Clark, 16 years of age, back of the Annunciation High School team. The left side of his face was torn by the shot and physicians fear he may lose the sight of his left eye.

The others, Charles Galligan, 16; Dan Connolly, 15, and Jack Shannon, 11, were only slightly wounded in the thigh.

The shooting, police said, resulted after the boys had kicked their football into Ruscetto's back yard. The man tossed the ball back and is said to have admonished them to quit playing. An argument followed and the man went into his house, returning with a shotgun. He told police he had no intention other than to frighten the boys and that the gun was accidentally discharged when he pointed it at them over the back fence.

MEDICAL VETERAN OF NAVY EXPIRES

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Commodore Dwight Dickinson, 83 years of age, Medical Corps United States Navy (retired,) died at the home of his daughter here last night. He was at one time in charge of the Naval Hospital at Washington, and also of other important hospital units of the Navy. He was a former fleet surgeon of the Pacific fleet and participated in the ceremonies attendant on the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands while in that capacity.

TWENTY-FOUR SEIZED AS RUSSIAN PLOTTERS

MOSCOW, Nov. 2. (AP)—Twenty-four persons were arrested by the secret police today and charged with counter-revolutionary activities in the economic field. Most of them are well-to-do employees of the state co-operative stores in Moscow. They were accused of illegally obtaining goods from the stores and disposing of them to private traders. The secret police assert all confessed to having participated in a plot to undermine the co-operative system.

MELLON NAMES AIDE FOR LEGAL MATTERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Secretary Mellon today announced the appointment of B. H. Bartholow of Washington as special assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury in matters of legislation. Bartholow will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Ellsworth C. Alvord. He formerly was assistant to the general counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau and has been connected with the legal staff of the bureau for seven years.

Patsy Jefferson Morris

DAUGHTER OF AUTHOR WILL WED

South Sea Romance Leads to Troth of Patsy Morris and Big Game Hunter

DEL MONTE, Nov. 2. (AP)—A South Seas romance culminated in the engagement of Miss Patsy Jefferson Morris, daughter of Gouverneur Morris, author, to Maj. Ramsay-Hill of the British army. It was learned here today.

The romance began in Papeete, where the Morrises were "marooned" after the sinking of the ill-fated liner, Tahiti, in the South Seas. While the author and his family were on the island, Maj. Ramsay-Hill arrived from a big-game hunting expedition in India. A whirlwind courtship followed, ending in the engagement, which was announced here today.

Miss Morris, her sister and the Major are now returning from the South Seas. The date of the marriage was not announced.

Convict Injured in Cell Battle

SAN QUENTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—An argument over whose turn it was to clean up the cell sent John E. Worth, 42 years of age, San Diego forger, to the prison hospital, and his cell-mate, Vincent Bohac, Sacramento robber, to the dungeon.

The fight, Warden Holohan revealed, occurred Friday night when the two convicts disagreed as to who should "police" their cell. Worth was hit over the head with a pipe, cutting his scalp.

Blast Wrecks Boston Building

BOSTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—An explosion wrecked a five-story building two doors from the La Grange Street Police Station here tonight, causing damage estimated at $100,000. Seven persons were injured, one may die, police say.

The explosion shook the entire theater district and attracted thousands of spectators.

NICARAGUAN ELECTION QUIETEST IN HISTORY

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Nov. 2. (AP)—The Nicaraguan Congressional elections, supervised by 300 United States sailors and marines and the National Guard, took place today They were the quietest in the country's history. Incomplete returns, tabulated up to 8 p.m., showed the Liberals leading in most of the districts. In Granada, hitherto a Conservative stronghold, they won one district and lost La Parroquia by a small margin.

ADMIRAL'S DAUGHTER DIES OF PARALYSIS

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—Miss Bancroft Gherardi, 16 years of age, died late last night in the Medical Center. Miss Gherardi, daughter of Rear-Admiral Walter R. STATE NATION'S GARDEN PATCH

California Leads World in Supplying Green Foods

More of Six Items Shipped Than Rest of Country

Federal Rail Bureau Learns Some Surprising Facts

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—California leads the nation in supplying six of the eighteen most popular fresh fruits and vegetables. In fact, it gives the United States practically all of the lemons in the sixty-six principal markets. In addition, it sends to the rest of the nation 92 per cent of the grapes, 70 per cent of all the cantaloupes consumed by the American appetite; 60 per cent of the lettuce, 63 per cent of all the oranges consumed and more than one-half of all the pears enjoyed by the country.

A study just completed by the Bureau of Railway Economics into the origin and distributing of the eighteen principal fresh fruits and vegetables produced in this country during the year 1929 and unloaded at sixty-six large consuming markets declares:

GREEN FOODS GAIN

"Domestic fresh fruits and vegetables unloaded in the sixty-six markets in 1929 aggregated 615,587 carloads, an increase of 19,294 carloads, or 3.2 per cent, over 1928 and an increase of 31,035 carloads, or 5.3 per cent, over 1927.

"Florida led in three of the eighteen products, furnishing 87 per cent of the total grapefruit; 37 per cent of the celery and 28 per cent of the tomatoes.

"The leading States supplying the remaining products were Georgia, which furnished 42 per cent of the watermelons and 27 per cent of the peaches; Washington, 34 per cent of the apples; Louisiana, 17 per cent of the strawberries; New York State, 24 per cent of the cabbage; Texas, 22 per cent of the onions; Maine, 23 per cent of the white potatoes; Virginia, 29 per cent of the sweet potatoes, and Idaho, 36 per cent of the plums and prunes."

New York City constituted the largest market for domestic fresh fruits and vegetables, there having been unloaded 130,702 cars, or over 21 per cent of the total unloads. Chicago ranked second with 63,108, or 10 per cent. Other cities follow in the order named: Philadelphia, Boston, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, St. Louis and Los Angeles.

USE TRUCKS HERE

While reports as to the use of trucks for the movement of fresh fruits and vegetables are not completed for the sixty-six principal markets, tentative reports show an increase in the use of such means of transportation, large quantities of fresh fruits and vegetables having been received by truck at sixteen of the sixty-six markets

The market receiving the greatest quantity of fresh fruits and vegetables by truck was Los Angeles, where they aggregated 21,405 equivalent rail carloads. This compared with 17,044 cars that entered that market by rail. At Los Angeles truck unloads exceeded rail unloads for thirteen of the eighteen commodities, the relationship of rail and truck unloads of total carloads for eighteen commodities combined at Los Angeles having been 44.3 and 55.7 per cent, respectively.

STATE PRISON BOARD GIVES TRIO PAROLES

SAN QUENTIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—The State Prison Board today paroled three convicts of San Quentin, set nineteen future dates, postponed action on thirty-one cases, denied one application and ordered two prisoners deported. Charles Hicks, 45 years of age, and Frank Wood, 47, both sentenced to eight years for burglary in Tulare county, were granted paroles in one year, as was Simon Andozola, 30, convicted of burglary in Sacramento.

WANT TO LOOK YOUNG?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr Edwards Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They help bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

VOTE PLEA ISSUED BY DRYS

Six Prohibition Groups Join in Request for Backing of Antiliquor Candidates

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—An appeal for support of candidates in the election Tuesday who favor the maintenance and effective administration of the dry laws was issued jointly by six national prohibition organizations.

At the same time the weekly Clip Sheet issued by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, asserted the recent wet ballyhoo "challenges the competency of government to make decisions and bring them into effect," and "strikes at democracy itself."

SIX GROUPS JOIN

The six prohibition organizations said "in view of questions raised in the present election and the consideration of prohibition enforcement by the government, we join in the declaration that the friends of prohibition will not compromise the principle of national, constitutional prohibition."

The statement was issued by the Anti-Saloon League; the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South; the International Order of Good Templars, the International Reform Federation and the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

SINCERITY ASSAILED

"Any modification by writing into law a legal fiction giving a special privilege to the manufacturers of beer and wine to monopolize a trade in intoxicants," the statement said, "would impugn the sincerity of the Constitution and strike at the integrity of government.

"Our organizations and the multitudes of people who support them can never consent to the participation of the government in the liquor business by so-called control or otherwise."

Albert J. Galen, native Montanan, justice of the Supreme Court, and ardent advocate of a change in the national prohibition laws. On the other hand, the Democratic party is standing solidly behind its three-times successful candidate, Thomas J. Walsh, dry, austere and dignified.

Though Republican campaigners have stressed the prohibition issue, not a word on that question has issued from the lips of Senator Walsh in the campaign. Dry Republicans are said to be going over to Walsh in large numbers.

Walsh's friends are claiming his election by a majority of at least 15,000, while Galen's supporters insist it's a horse race.

KENTUCKY

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 2. (Exclusive) Kentucky Democrats are closing their Congressional campaign confident of reversing the seven-to-four majority now held by the Republicans in the State's delegation, and hopeful of gaining nine of the eleven seats.

Predictions of the two parties vary widely concerning John M. Robison's prospects of succeeding himself in the United States Senate. Two Democrats are opposing Robison—Ben Williamson for the short term and Judge M. M. Logan for the long term.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (Exclusive) The re-election of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt by a plurality of at least 200,000 votes, and perhaps much larger, is indicated as New York's State campaign comes to a close.

The Governor's campaign managers claim for him a record-breaking plurality in excess of 350,000, while friends of Charles H. Tuttle, his wet Republican opponent, are publicly claiming victory by a small margin, but privately admitting they hope for nothing more than that the result will be close enough to justify the party's declaration for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Mr. Tuttle has waged his campaign on one issue: "Tammany corruption" and Gov. Roosevelt's failure to order a wholesale investigation of charges of corruption in the New York City judiciary growing out of Mr. Tuttle's own investigations as United States Attorney.

At least three Republican Congressional seats are in danger: Those of Mrs. Ruth Pratt in New York City, Representative Fred M. Davenport in Oneida county and of Frank Crowther in the Schenectady district. The latter two are drys opposed by wet Democrats.

NEW JERSEY

TRENTON, Nov. 2.—Election of Dwight W. Morrow, former Ambassador to Mexico, to the United States Senate appears to be a foregone conclusion, although Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, Democratic boss, has rallied his forces, apparently with the hope that the vote of his organization will combine with the apathy or overconfidence in the Republican counties to put over State Senator Alexander Simpson.

The Republicans believe that Mr. Morrow will carry with him all of the present Republican Representatives.

KANSAS

KANSAS CITY (Kan.) Nov. 2.—Arthur Capper and Henry J. Allen are expected to be returned to the Senate with good majorities, slightly reduced from that given Capper in preceding years.

The fighting on House seats is confined to a single district, the Third. There Harold McGugin, a new candidate, is seeking the seat vacated by W. H. Sproul. Earl Knight is his Democratic opponent. The Republicans believe they have every district won except the Eighth, where the veteran W. A. Ayres, Democrat, is regarded as in.

Kansas may be counted upon to return six and probably seven Republican Representatives.

NEBRASKA

LINCOLN (Neb.) Nov. 2.—A battle for political regularity is in progress in this State and, while chances favor victory for Senator Norris, apostle of irregularity, predictions of his defeat are not unheard. Should he be defeated three factors will be responsible: A last-minute change of the large Catholic vote in the State, desertion from the ticket of the large dry Republican women vote, desertion of a large faction of Republican voters through the organizing influence of anti-Norris Republican leaders.

Former Senator Hitchcock's managers now are interceding with the Catholic voters of the State to stand by Hitchcock, arguing that they discharged the debt they owed to Norris for voting for Al Smith by obtaining Norris's nomination in the recent primary.

Norris, Gov. Weaver and Atty.-Gen. Sorensen have been campaigning together, urging each other's claims for re-election. Other State candidates have had to shift for themselves. The leaders have given no support to the Congressional candidates. The result is that Republicans face a possible loss of two members of the House, possibly three. Candidates regarded as in most danger are Johnson in the Fifth District, up for re-election, and Baldridge in the Second (Omaha) District, who seeks to succeed Representative Sears. Former Representative Shallenberger opposes Johnson and Edward Burke opposes Baldridge.

Representative Sloan in the Fourth District, opposed by former Representative Norton, has a hard fight on his hands, but stands to win.

MASSACHUSETTS

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—Capture by the Massachusetts Democracy of a second seat in the United States Senate is a conceded possibility in Tuesday's balloting, but few, if any, Republican losses are anticipated in the State's sixteen Congress districts.

Though interest centers in the Senatorial contest between former Senator William M. Butler, Republican, and Marcus Coolidge, Democrat, both candidates, staid business men, are lacking in the qualities which stir popular emotion.

Having declared himself early in the campaign in favor of the Eighteenth Amendment, Butler's strategy has been to express his interests in bread rather than beer. His major promise has been to crusade for a national forty-eight-hour law by constitutional amendment, if elected to the Senate, in the hope of compelling southern mills to compete with New England textile plants on a 50-50 basis.

The Republican appeal has been that Butler, with his experience in the textile industry and in national politics, is a better bet for Massachusetts in the present depression than electing a man affiliated with the southern democracy.

With the G.O.P. holding twelve of the sixteen seats in the lower house of Congress, Republican candidates are thought to be in danger in only three of their present bailiwicks and admittedly have a chance to recover the seat now occupied by Representative William J. Granfield, Democrat, winner in the special election last winter in the Springfield district.

The repeal of the State prohibition Enforcement Act in the referendum on this issue is generally anticipated.

INDIANA

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 2.—As Indiana will not elect a Governor or United States Senator in Tuesday's election the contest in this State has centered around the election of thirteen Representatives in Congress and control of the lower branch of the State Legislature, which has been Republican for fifteen years.

Democrats now have only three of the thirteen members of Congress and an impartial survey points to a certain increase in this number. The more conservative believe Democrats will make Congressional gains in the First, Third and Eleventh districts. Two other districts, now Republican, can be placed in the doubtful column. These are the Thirteenth and Fifth. These calculations do not take into account the possibility of a Democratic landslide in the State because of unrest in the rural communities and unemployment in the cities.

GOV. BALZAR DOWN WITH ERYSIPELAS

Nevada Executive, Too Ill to Attend Rally, Will Speak From Sick Bed

RENO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Pronounced so ill he will be unable to participate in a Republican rally in a drive for his re-election here tomorrow night, Gov. Balzar of Nevada will make his plea for votes from his sick bed. The Governor is stricken with erysipelas.

Members of the Republican State Central Committee said tonight arrangements have been completed to place a microphone at the Governor's bed. His voice will be carried by a public address system to the auditorium of the Washoe County Library Building, where all Republican candidates for State offices are slated to speak.

ACTRESS PLANS SECOND DIVORCE

Dorothy Dunbar May File Reno Suit Today

Reported Seeking Freedom From Mystery Man

Seen Often in Company of Fighter, Max Baer

RENO, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Dorothy Dunbar, Maurice-Wells-De Garson, former society girl and film beauty, will file a divorce suit here tomorrow, it is understood, to free herself from her third husband, a Spanish mystery man, who, from his home in London, has refused to sign a waiver.

As soon as Miss Dunbar files her suit she will be compelled to go abroad in an effort to obtain service on the husband, of whose past so little is known.

The girl, whose screen work attracted considerable attention when she played opposite Richard Barthelmess in "An Amateur Gentleman," is being importuned by her first spouse, Maurice, a theatrical producer, to remarry him. The photo of Max Baer, inscribed "To My Darling Dorothy," graces her boudoir table, and she has been constantly in the company here of the fighter, who recently was freed of the charge of killing an opponent in the ring.

The lovely Dorothy's matrimonial career has overlapped in one instance the even more checkered career of Eugenia Bankhead-Hoyt-Butt-Lee, who recently was freed of her third husband (of twelve days) and fourth marriage.

As Dorothy Dunbar she married the producer, Maurice. Divorced from him, she married the film actor, Thomas B. Wells, in October, 1926. This marriage flopped when Wells skipped to Paris. Shortly after this episode, when Dorothy was preparing to divorce Wells in Reno, she received a cable from him to come to Paris, where he was dying. She rushed to the French capital, forgave him, and he died in her arms.

Later she met and married De Garson, whom she now seeks to divorce on grounds that she refuses to make public.

HAVANA CONTINUES TO COUNT BALLOTS

HAVANA, Nov. 2. (AP)—The counting of ballots cast in yesterday's Congressional elections continued today, but officials believed three more days would be needed to complete the official tally. The Department of the Interior stated probably 60 per cent of all eligible voters went to the polls, but anti-government factions placed the figure at less than one-fourth that. Conservative observers declared it was about 30 per cent. The light ballot was blamed on lack of party organization for getting out voters.

Death Claims Eastern Man at Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—The death of George Richardson Burt, for many years a high official of the Portland Cement Company, was revealed here today with the departure of his body in a private car bound for his home at Battle Creek, Mich. He died of cancer of the throat at the Cottage Hospital last Wednesday night.

Mr. Burt, who was 57 years of age, retired from business in 1925 and came here in search of health about three months ago, occupying a house at 199 Schoolhouse Road, Montecito. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Nellie Burt, and a son. Wellington, who were with him at the end and are taking the body East. A daughter living in Battle Creek also survives.

COURTHOUSE SAFE ROBBED

ELLENSBURG (Wash.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Cracksmen invaded the Kittitas County Courthouse last night, opened four vaults and escaped with an undetermined amount of cash, bonds and valuable documents. Members of the Sheriff's force, on duty in the office across the street, were unaware of the robbery until this morning.

Woman Found Dying in Road

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Her skull fractured and her clothes partially torn from her body, Carrie Hense, 26-year-old county employee, was found in a dying condition on the Folsom road, six miles from here, early tonight.

The young woman was found by Mrs. Mary Muldoon and Harry Patton, who told police they were motoring in the direction of Folsom when they saw her limp form by the side of the road.

Have You Ever Tried To Kid A Cow?

• Babies and cows can't be fooled successfully.

Both of them are slaves to nature. Cows give milk at certain predetermined times and babies go on a schedule that would make the best Swiss watchmakers hide their heads in shame. Speaking of watches brings us to Daylight Saving. Don't let anyone tell you it's a good plan. It's one of those cute little money-making schemes through which the few would prosper at the expense and discomfort of the many. Intelligent people know it would throw California into chaos. Agriculture is opposed to it because any change in time would disrupt nature's unchangeable schedule; which, incidentally, has been quite satisfactory for a million years or so. Labor is against it because it would create more unemployment. Legislature is against it and has vetoed it five times in California. You in your home are opposed to it. With everything to lose that's natural. Why should you stumble around in the dark of a spring or autumn morning for the doubtful pleasure of eating supper in a fast disappearing twilight? Why should you take a chance on your bankroll by throwing California's economic foundation into a state of demoralization?

• For the love of California and incidentally, for the respect of your own welfare,

QUINN CAPTURES AUTO RACE

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 2.—The first automobile races staged here in many years under sanction of the A.A.A. were given an auspicious start here today when Francis Quinn, Los Angeles, set a new world's record for the mile on dirt tracks in his qualifying round and came back to win the twenty-five-mile sweepstakes over a field of kings of the dirt track before 16,000 fans. In his qualifying round Quinn broke the dirt track record for the mile when he turned the distance in 39:41 seconds. His time for the twenty-five-mile event was 18m. 32 2-5s. Johnny Kreiger of Long Mount, Colo., was second in the twenty-five-mile event turning in the time of 19m. 12s. Chester Gardner, Los Anfieles, finished third; "Stubby" Stubblefield, Los Angeles, fourth; Vic Felt, Denver, Colo., fifth, and George Young, Milwaukee, Wis., was sixth.

Billy Arnold, national champion for 1930, won two of the five-mile heats this morning, but was forced out of the main event on account of injuries to his arm.

KELLEY KARS WRECKED

Royal Giants Capture Twin Bill, 3-2 and 9-1, at Wrigley Field; Suttles Clouts Homer

BY BOB RAY

Hitting the ball hard and opportunely, the Royal Giants struck their winning form out at Wrigley Field yesterday where they vanquished the Kelley Kars in both ends of a Winter League double-header by 3-to-2 and 9-to-1 scores.

The opener was a sizzling mound duel between Frank Shellenback, spitball ace of the Hollywood Stars, and Georgs Britt, with the colored chucker gaining the verdict when the Giants shoved over the winning run after two were out in the ninth. The Giants had too much dynamite in their bats in the nightcap and won with ease by pounding Glenn Gabler and Augie Walsh hard in two big innings. After his mates had piled up a big lead Willie Foster, Giant southpaw, retired from the mound and let Lefty Cooper finish. The finale was called in the sixth on account of darkness.

FRANK SHELLENBACK

That first game was a real thriller that gave the 2000 customers plenty of thrills right to the finish. It took some flashy and daring base-running on the part of Jud Wilson to bring over the winning tally. Wilson led off with a walk and stole second on Kelley Kars, who weren't used to playing baseball that way. Suttles's long sacrifice fly to Stats moved Wilson to third. Harris sent a short fly to Statz and Wilson dashed home just ahead of Jigger's throw to Bassler and the game was over.

The Giants took a two-run lead off Shellenback in the third when Mackey singled, Allen doubled and both scored on Dixon's hit to right.

The Kelley Kars got one in the sixth when Statz and Durst singled, Berger hit into a double play and Schulmerich drove Jigger home with a hit to right center. The tieing run came in the eighth when Britt balked while pitching to Bassler with the bases full as a result of two walks and an error by Wells.

In the finals the Giants got a run off Gabler in the first in-

Boyle and Patterson Dash for Touchdowns to Defeat Santa Clara Eleven

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. (AP)—St. Mary's Gaels defeated Santa Clara's Broncos, 13 to 0, in their annual battle at Kezar Stadium here today before a crowd of 30,000.

FRED STENNETT

Held scoreless during the first period, the Gaels scored two touchdowns in the second. Stennett, left half, passed 15 yards to Boyle, who ran 33 yards to score the first touchdown. Ebding scored the try for point with a place kick.

A few minutes later, after Santa Clara had marched the ball from deep in their own territory to St. Mary's 19-yard line, Patterson, quarterback, intercepted Machado's pass on the 3-yard line and ran 97 yards for the second counter. The try for point failed.

It was a bitter battle all the way

Yale Disappointed at Tie With Dartmouth

BY JOHN P. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—As one of the two powerful football teams that will show their wares on the West Coast late this season—Notre Dame demonstrated Saturday against a comparatively weak Indiana team, which they trounced, 27 to 0. Knute Rockne's "shock troops" played forty of the sixty minutes and were held scoreless—his regulars went into the game toward the end of the second quarter and left about the middle of the fourth quarter. During their twenty minutes of play (all straight football) the Ramblers amassed four touchdowns by tearing through the Indians' forwards almost at will.

KNUTE ROCKNE

The other gridders—Dartmouth's big Green team, who will play Pop Warner's Cardinals at Palo Alto, held the powerful Yale bulldogs to a 0-0 score, in a game that was full of thrills and exceptionally good football. Yale would have won the game had not one of Albie Booth's companions been ruled offside. Booth, from a play on the Green's 30-yard line got clear and crossed the Dartmouth goal line but was called back. Dartmouth, however, played the game without the assistance of their star right end, Stan Yudickey, whose loss through injury suffered in the Harvard game greatly hampered the attack of the Hanoverians.

REASON FOR CHANGE

In the Notre Dame-Indiana game Rockne again let his heavy-duty man, Joe Savoldi, do most of the work, although Joe was ably assisted by the elusive Marchy Schwartz, and Rockne's new ball-carrier, Marty Brill. Up to this year Brill was Rockne's star blocking halfback, who cleared the way for Jack Elder and the others. Marty, during the last two games Notre Dame has played, demon-

The Best Turn

WHEN you check back over the week's contribution to football history, the best turn of a busy afternoon must be awarded to Columbia University.

Two weeks ago Lou Little's Lions left Hanover with practically no hide left upon their football systems. Two weeks later, a team beaten, 52 to 0, comes back to beat a strong Cornell team that had been unbeaten up to this point.

Here was a comeback of extraordinary character. It was led by Hewitt, one of the best backs in football, but it had to be accompanied by the skill and undaunted spirit of the entire squad. For Cornell is strong this year and it took a good football team to overpower the invaders from Ithaca, who made the mistake of letting Columbia get the first and the vital jump. As Tom Shevlin once said, "most football games are won and lost in the first two seconds of play."

Next to Columbia's stand, the second best award must go to William and Mary for what happened on Harvard's playground.

Fordham's ability to go unbeaten through another hard test, still preserving an uncrossed goal line, was another high-class contribution, for the list of the untied and the unbeaten is now thinner than the segment of a toy balloon.

Dartmouth, Cornell, Kentucky, Detroit University, Clemson, Kansas and Georgia were among those to be tied or beaten where up to date their slates had been unmarked.

Dartmouth's Team

The tide can swing in savage fashion from one Saturday to another in this modern football swirl. Dartmouth came to New Haven with a powerful line and a fast, hard-running set of backs. But Yale again proved that the winner must have a set of forwards to establish superiority over the other set. Dartmouth was never able to rip up, push back or dismantle that Yale line, which has been improving steadily from week to week.

Loeser, Linehan, Hare, Vincent Wilbur were a complete match for Andreas, Bromberg, Hoffman, Crehan and Barber, and the slashing defensive play of Parker, Crowley and other Blue backs was a trifle more than the Green assault could break through.

Albie Booth proved that he could go the full sixty minutes against a big, fast team, but Dartmouth had him watched too carefully most of the way, although Booth was the busiest wasp of the afternoon.

After the game several Yale forwards said they had more trouble against the Army forwards than they had against Dartmouth's big, fast line. This last game was a battle of two strong lines and neither would bend or break in the scoring zone.

The passing was not brilliant on either side, as there were too many wild heaves thrown to open spaces, but Dartmouth did the better job in this respect. Both teams were strong, but they were stronger defensively than they were on attack.

The Sectional Status

With the debris swept aside there are now several changes in sectional rankings. In the East, only Fordham and Western Maryland are pattering along the unmarked road. Notre Dame, Northwestern and Marquette remain untied and unbeaten in the Midwest. Washington State and Oregon lead along the west coast and Alabama stepped in front of Georgia down South, with Tulane still unbeaten by any southern team.

Georgia's inability to score on Florida was something of a shock. Not that Florida was rated as an easy mark, but the Georgia attack was supposed to carry enough dynamite to crash through almost any defense for at least one touchdown.

As it is, Alabama is now in front of Dixie's gridiron legions with victories over Tennessee, Vanderbilt and Kentucky in a row. This is about as neat an achievement as any team has offered this year, no matter what the sector. It is full proof of well-rounded strength, for the three teams mentioned have lost only to Alabama, a squad with a big, fast-charging line and a fleet, hard-running set of backs.

New York Back

For a long time New York City has been somewhat spotty in its football strength. With Fordham and Columbia winning, N.Y.U.'s victory over a strong Carnegie Tech team is proof enough that one city now has three teams along the higher levels of play.

But from now on, Notre Dame has Pennsylvania, Northwestern, Army and Southern California and it may be a question as to how long the South Bend delegation can retain its keen edge. There doesn't seem to be a chance just now that any rival on the road can stop it. But who figured William and Mary to tie Harvard, Columbia to beat Cornell, Texas to run away from Southern Methodist, Florida to hold Georgia scoreless?

THUNDERING HERD FEARS CALIFORNIA GRID TEAM

Berkeley Eleven Certain to Extend S.C. Outfit to Utmost; Fans Remember Last Year

BY BRAVEN DYER

Having proved that not even the mighty Trojans can make a mutt out of Jeff in his own home town, gridders from Denver University are on their way home today and Southern California turns attention to next Saturday's important struggle with Nibs Price and the California Bears.

Mr. Cravath's boys at least gave us a football game Saturday and Jeff need not apologize for his team despite the fact that Bill Hunter employed third and fourth stringers during most of the contest. At that, the Pioneers made more points against Troy than any other team this year.

NIBS PRICE.

Thrice beaten, but still a dangerous football team, for all that, the California eleven will play to a capacity crowd of 82,000 fans at the Coliseum. In some quarters there is a tendency to make the Trojans a 2-to-1 favorite over the battered Bears. Such odds are all out of reason, particularly in view of what California did to Howard Jones and company one year ago.

The Bears lost to Washington State. So did the Trojans. The Bears were beaten by the Olympic Club, but in this game Nibs Price used only one of his regulars. The Bears also bowed to the University of Washington, 13 to 0, but this, in my opinion, does not indicate that Price's eleven is a weak outfit.

HUSKIES STRONG

It should be recalled that Washington is undoubtedly one of the strongest teams on the Coast, the others being Oregon, Washington State and S.C. The Huskies played Oregon on virtually even terms and only lost, 7 to 0, on a long forward pass, Londahl to Kitzmuller. This is the only defeat on Washington's record and Oregon is an unbeaten team.

California played Washington an even battle, but lost when the Huskies capitalized on two breaks. Schaidach fumbled on his own 24-yard line, the Huskies recovered, and Merle Hufford smashed over for the tally.

BY RALPH HUSTON

Only seventeen teams of more or less importance remained unbeaten and untied today, following Saturday's gridiron wars. Eleven hitherto undefeated teams were tumbled from the national standings by suffering defeats, some of them totally unexpected, and two other contenders for national honors managed to stay unbeaten, but were tied.

In addition to the perfect seventeen, eight additional teams have not lost any games, but have been tied.

Among the teams which lost Saturday were Clemson and North Dakota, previous winners of six straight games. Cornell, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan State, Detroit, and others of less importance. Both Dartmouth and Georgia played tie games against opponents they were supposed to beat, and lost prestige.

Of the seventeen remaining teams in the unbeaten and untied class, only six are of national importance, the remainder being elevens of the smaller variety. The six are Alabama in the South, Fordham in the East, Washington State and

LA BARBA TOPS FIGHT CARD

Los Angeles Featherweight Meets Kid Chocolate in Rematch at Madison Square Garden Tonight

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—A pair of brilliant featherweights, Kid Chocolate of Cuba and Fidel La Barba of California, meeting in Madison Square Garden Monday night, furnish one of the few outstanding attractions of this week's national boxing program.

There is nothing like a title at stake, but there is plenty to attract the fans in this bout. La Barba, who once held the flyweight championship, and the ebony Cuban keed, defeated only once in his ring career, have a habit of giving plenty in the ring and both hope to get a crack at Battalino's championship. They have met once before, over a year ago, and Chocolate got the decision by a small margin as La Barba's defensive cleverness offset the keed's flashy attack.

FIDEL LA BARBA

The Chicago Stadium has scheduled a double wind-up for its Thursday card with considerably bigger fighters holding the spotlight. Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo, who has gone back a long way from the time he was at the top of the light-heavyweights, meets King Levinsky, rising young Chicagoan, in one ten-rounder, while Otto Von Porat, Chicago heavyweight, battles Jack Renault in the other.

Mickey Walker, the middleweight title-holder who is looking for new worlds to conquer, gets a good test of his ability to fight heavyweights at Detroit Friday night. Mickey takes on Johnny Risko, Cleveland's well-known rubber man, in a ten-rounder.

Other fights on the week's national schedule include:

Monday—At New York, Madison Square Garden: Ignacio Ara, Spain, vs. Pinkey Kaufman, Hartford, Ct., welterweights, ten rounds. At Oklahoma City: Al Friedman, Boston, vs. Frankie Wine, Montana, heavyweights, ten rounds.

Tuesday—At Indianapolis: Joe Rivers, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, vs. Hershie Wilson, Danville, Ill., welterweights, ten rounds; Billy Koons, Detroit, vs. Jackie Purvis, Indianapolis, welterweights, ten rounds. At Los Angeles: Claude Warner, Bakersfield, Cal., vs. Newsboy Brown, Los Angeles, flyweights, ten rounds.

Wednesday—At Denver: Angus Snyder, Dodge City, Kan., vs. Cliff Neff, Arizona, heavyweights, ten rounds. At Oakland, Cal.: Young Corbett, Fresno, Cal., vs. Joe Cooper, Terre Haute, Ind., welterweights, ten rounds.

Thursday—At New York, Olympia: Rene Devos, Belgium, vs. Ansel Olfville, Porto Rico, middleweights, ten rounds. At Cincinnati: Johnny Farr, Cleveland, vs. Freddie Miller, Cincinnati, junior lightweights, ten rounds.

Friday—At Hollywood, Cal.: George Courtney, Tulsa, Okla., vs. Tom Patrick, Los Angeles, light-heavyweights, ten rounds.

SOUTHLAND HANDBALL TOURNEY TO START

Play in the Southern California A.A.U. handball singles tournament starts at noon today on the courts of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, with some of the finest four-wall players of the country entered.

Pairings—Le Goube (L.A.A.C.) vs. Hayek (L.A. "Y"); Hubbell (Pacific C. C.) vs. Hyatt (L.A.A.C.); Kuhns (L.A.A.C.) vs. Bremner (Army and Navy "Y"); Griffith (L.A.A.C.) vs. Stern (L.A. NORENE FORBES RETAINS SWIMMING TITLE IN MEET

Norene Forbes, Lake Norconian star, retained her 500-yard swimming championship for the Southern Pacific district and Betty Bays, an unattached mermaid, won the junior national women's diving title yesterday afternoon to cop the spotlight at the Lake Norco aquatic carnival staged under the direction of William "Doc" Beasley.

Miss Forbes failed to equal her best time in winning the event but she had little trouble in leading Louise Waugh and Phyliss Bell to the tape to again cop the title. Winnie Hayson of Norco and Mary Taylor took second and third honors in the junior national diving event from the high tower.

Betty Cobb won the fifty-yard free-style race. Edna Hayson was second and Virginia Isaacson third. Miss Cobb hails from Pasadena. Louise Waugh copped the 100-yard free-style event with Phyliss Bell second and Betty Cobb third.

PASADENA TRIMS MAGYARS

Upset Features Soccer Tilts; Sons Win Initial Game From Scots; Mercury Team Cops

Scoring the biggest upset of the current soccer season, the Pasadena Country Club boys defeated the Magyars, undefeated until yesterday's tilt, by 2 goals to 0 out at Tournament Park, Pasadena, yesterday afternoon in the main game on the program. In the preliminary battle, the Hollywood Sheiks, undefeated so far this season, trounced weak Richfield Oilers, 6 to 1.

Out at Loyola Field, the Sons of St. George won their first game this season by defeating the Scots, 3 goals to 2, in the main event of the afternoon's affair. In the preliminary encounter, the strong L.A.A.C. eleven, also undefeated this season, had quite a bit of trouble in getting past the stubborn Vikings, but finally came forth the victor, 5 to 4.

Pasadena's win over the Magyars practically eliminates the Mags' chances of copping the crown this year, inasmuch as both the strong Hollywood squad, last year's champs, and the flashy L.A.A.C. Mercuries are undefeated so far, and both have vanquished the Pasadena youngsters. The Crown City eleven is composed mostly of young players, and it was their stamina and speed which proved to be the downfall of the Mags. Dekman and Barber were the gents who did the scoring in the game that upset the highly touted Mags.

The traditional feud between the Sons and Scots was renewed with added vigor yester-

Fourth-Quarter Pass in Own Territory Cost Oregon State Possible Tie With Cougars

BUERKE TAKES A LONG CHANCE

Glenn Edwards Intercepts Pass Attempt

Price Shows Material in Beating Montana

Whittier Springs Upset in Southern Loop

BY HOWARD JONES
Coach University of Southern California
(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

Oregon State's feat of scaring Washington State Saturday was the main topic of discussion among football fans of the Pacific Coast. The Cougars won, as was expected, but by a score of only 14 to 7 and the game was tied until well into the fourth quarter when an intercepted pass by Glenn Edwards, 238-pound tackle, resulted in the deciding touchdown. Edwards pulled the ball out of the air on Oregon State's 33-yard line and ran unmolested to the winning score.

HOWARD JONES

I would be inclined to criticise Oregon State for trying a pass from her own territory, particularly when the score was tied and the game was in the fourth quarter. Buerke, did this, throwing from his own 23-yard mark, and Edwards bobbed up to intercept the ball after Hill had partially blocked the attempted throw.

Of course, Oregon State was probably stopping on it heavily in a final effort to win and Buerke figured to take a chance. Had he made good on the pass it might have meant victory for Paul Schissler's men inasmuch as Oregon State's touchdown had been made via this route at the start of the fourth quarter.

Washington State had much more of an edge than the score indicates. The Cougars made 229 yards from scrimmage to but 78 for Oregon State. On passes, however, the losers had a big edge, 146 to 28.

Washington State's first touchdown came soon after the game opened when Ahlskog blocked Thompson's punt and Schwartz recovered on Oregon State's 9-yard line. Ellingsen scored on fourth down.

All the other games by Pacific Coast Conference teams were won by rather lopsided scores. California defeated Montana, 46 to 0, and in so doing Nibs Price showed a lot of material. Schaidach, as usual, was the outstanding back for California.

The University of Washington had an easy time with College of Puget Sound of Tacoma, winning, 60 to 0. The Huskies play Stanford this week and it should be a great game of football.

Idaho showed considerable improvement in trimming Gonzaga, 26 to 0.

The University of Southern California, using mostly reserves, won over Denver University, 25 to 12.

In the Rocky Mountain Conference it now appears unlikely that Utah will be stopped. This team walloped the Colorado Aggies, 39 to 0, and seems considerably stronger than other elevens in the district.

Whittier College, coached by Chief Newman, pulled the prize upset of the Southern California Conference, defeating San Diego State, 19 to 13, after trailing, 13 to 0, at the half. San Diego was undefeated prior to this game. California Tech of Pasadena is now the only unbeaten team in the conference.

COLUMBIA WIN PRIES UPSET OF EASTERN GAMES

BY W. W. (BILL) ROPER
Football Coach, Princeton University

PRINCETON, Nov. 2. (NANA)—The uncertainties of modern football were never better illustrated than in the Columbia-Cornell game in New York Saturday.

Cornell, up to this game was undefeated. Columbia, two weeks ago had been overwhelmed by Dartmouth, and yet, Columbia won the game, 10-7.

Of course, everyone expected Cornell to win. On past performances it was entitled to enter the game a top-heavy favorite. And this very situation brought about Cornell's defeat. Give me the underdog every time, provided the team in that position has a couple of fighters on its roll.

Hewitt was the spark plug for Columbia. His dashing play inspired his teammates and as a result the Columbia players outdid themselves and won a stirring victory against a strong Cornell team.

Princeton and Chicago battled to a scoreless tie, which about represents the relative merits of the two teams. Both had a fairly good passing attack, but no close rushing game to supplement the passing game. Modern football demands two parts to any successful attack—first, a running game strong enough to put so much pressure on the line as to require a line defense of high order; then a forward pass properly marked and cleverly executed is likely to cause trouble.

Chicago had a good passing attack, using a back out wide as a decoy and another back in motion in the same or opposite direction. The Princeton defense diagnosed the Chicago passes fairly well. Capt. Mestres played out of the line from center and was of material assistance in stopping Chicago's passing game.

In the Pennsylvania-Kansas game, Penn put enough pressure on the Jayhawkers' line to win out with passes. Kansas had a powerful line and a strong rugged backfield, but Penn had more defense.

Dartmouth came mighty near winning from Yale in the closing period of the game. It was a great game between two high-grade teams.

I was surprised at New York University's 20-7 victory over Carnegie Tech. The New York University attack functioned in great shape. Duke was too strong for Villanova. Lafayette ran wild against Upsala.

One of the big upsets of the day was Muhlenberg's 24-0 defeat of Lehigh. But the most surprising upset of the season was Ursinus's defeat of Gettysburg, rated as one of the strongest small teams in the East.

Both the Army and Navy had comparatively easy days. Harvard came back in the last quarter and staved off defeat at the hands of William and Mary. The Crimson was evidently looking ahead to the Michigan game.

FORWARD PASS USE DISCUSSED

BY BOB ZUPPKE
Football Coach, University of Illinois

CHAMPAIGN (Ill.) Nov. 2. (NANA)—Some commentators think the forward pass is being used more extensively and more successfully in the Middle West than ever before, but I doubt it. Both Northwestern and Michigan, which lead the Big Ten Conference, depend considerably upon attack by air, especially Michigan, but I believe that when the season ends it will be found that its use and success has been about the same as in previous seasons.

Against inexperienced and less agile players a strong passing attack looks wonderful, and fans wonder why teams waste strength with running attacks. But let the same strong aerial offense be used against a team that is equally experienced and mobile — then the story is likely to be different.

Coach Hanley's Northwestern Wildcats used the pass with deadly effect in defeating Minnesota. Rentner is a good thrower and Baker an exceptional leaper. There are few high-class receivers of the type of Carney of Illinois and Oosterbaan of Michigan who could stretch that extra inch and well nigh achieve the impossible.

Agility is the word in modern football and the Gopher linemen, although they are more powerful than Illinois' forwards, for instance, could not move quickly enough to cover the Northwestern end.

Everybody was glad to see Capt. Bruder of Northwestern back after his enforced lay-off in smallpox quarantine and it is not strange that he did not burn up the gridiron offensively. By the time Northwestern meets Wisconsin and Notre Dame, we can pass judgment on the belief of Dick Hanley that Bruder is the best all-around player he has ever seen.

Indiana and Wisconsin are the remaining obstacles in the path of Northwestern to the championship or a tie. Michigan did not play Saturday. The Wolverines must beat Minnesota and Chicago in the conference to win the title or share it. It is probable they can do it.

The only surprise in the Big Ten was that Ohio State could hold Wisconsin to a scoreless tie. The Badgers showed a trifle more strength but did not have any punch. Wisconsin had more power than the Buckeyes, but its backs could not stretch their gains.

We have probably overrated Wisconsin on the strength of its big score against Pennsylvania, but Ohio State was a better team than its start indicated, and Coach Willaman apparently is developing his players who lacked seasoning. Fesler was the mainspring of the Buckeyes, appearing as a back and passer and playing end on defense.

Purdue was far too fleet and powerful for Illinois as was expected. All the Purdue backs could run and they were hard to bring down. They blocked well and stayed together. Against our slow, little team they looked invincible. Probably Purdue, which has lost one game, to Michigan by a single point, is one of the good teams of the country. Just once the Boilermakers didn't look so hot. That was when Berry ran 63 yards returning the ball from a punt. The Boilermaker linemen seemed to be flabbergasted and maybe they would not look so well against speed.

A tie between Chicago and Princeton seemed to be a fair verdict. Chicago did better than I expected, even conceding the indifferent showing of the Tigers this year.

Indiana did well to hold Notre Dame to 27 points, and certainly does not suffer by comparison with some of the more highly touted teams which have fallen under the chariot wheels of the Irish.

Nobody gave Iowa much of a chance, if any, to beat Detroit and the Hawkeye win was a surprise. It may be Detroit is weaker than usual. Iowa is certainly far below standard. This result seems to indicate it is just as well for Detroit, looking merely at its opportunity for victory and not at the other factors involved, that the proposed charity game with Michigan cannot be played. I hope irate Detroit fans before writing me will recall I have paid due tribute to Gus Dorais's fine teams in the past.

Penn Stars in Poor Shape to Battle Irish

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2. (Exclusive) — Pennsylvania backs came out of the hard Kansas game in pretty bad shape. Capt. Dick Gentle, Bill Graupner and Warren Gette, who scored two of the touchdowns in the 21-6 victory, were nursing injuries today, and it is not sure if they will be able to face Notre Dame next Saturday. Gentle has a bad knee which gave him trouble two years ago; Graupner's weak shoulder received a bump again and Gette twisted his ankle on his forty-two-yard forward pass in the final period.

There is virtually a complete sell-out for the Notre Dame game, assuring a crowd of 78,000. No public sale of seats has been held.

BROWN MAY BOX ABROAD

Newsboy Offered London Battle Provided Varner Doesn't Win by Kayoe Tomorrow

Newsboy Brown will sail for London early next month for a match at the National Sporting Club. This was the announcement made yesterday by Emmett Ledwith, Brown's manager, providing the Jewish boy isn't knocked out tomorrow night.

Brown faces Claude Varner, hardest-hitting bantamweight on the Pacific Coast, in the Olympic's main event. Varner nearly stopped Brown three weeks ago when they fought, although he lost the decision.

NEWSBOY BROWN

Most of the crowd thought Varner was "robbed," but the consensus of opinion among the experts was that Brown rated the decision on his better boxing and superior ringcraft.

Varner knocked Brown flat on his back early in the fight. Afterward his short rights buckled the Newsboy's knees. Brown weathered several storms, and admitted after the fight Varner deserved a draw at least.

Brown is to receive £1800, which is around $9000 in American money for the London fight. His opponent may be Teddy Baldock. The Sporting Club reserves the right to pick anybody it pleases for Brown's opponent in case Baldock isn't ready.

A little over a year ago Brown went to London and fought Johnny Hill. He received less than half the offer he has at present then. London fans liked Brown very much.

They have but few favorites on the other side, but Brown happens to be one of them. National Sporting Club clientele also like Mickey Walker, who was a London visitor some time ago when he stopped their champion.

It is said that Brown carried home more money than most American fighters do when abroad. He brought $5000 in cash back his last trip. Some of the boys owe themselves money when they come home from these over-the-Atlantic tours.

Both Brown and Varner are in good shape. It is expected Brown will weigh under 118 since he didn't try to build up for this one.

Bobby Reister is favored over Don Burchard in the six-round semifinal. It's Reister's Olympic debut. He has knocked out twelve out of fifteen opponents. Burchard beat Teddy Palacios last week.

Art (The Great) Shires will referee the Reister-Burchard bout. It will be the first time he has been in a boxing ring since the American League forced him to choose between baseball and boxing last winter.

Billy Papke, Jr., has no set-up in Sig Ecklund for the special event. Both scored knockouts their last Olympic fights.

Lieut. Jack Kennedy has been named to referee the Brown-Varner bout.

day as the two elevens played on a par for the greater part of the game. The Scots drew first blood, when Johnny Holmes tallied on a long kick into the net. However, the Sons staged a sensational rally to score three goals in succession. Mitchell scored by carrying the ball over half the length of the field to kick the goal, while McKee scored on a long punt. The final Son tally came as the result of a penalty kick, which Greer made into a goal. Johnny Holmes kicked the last Scot goal in a spirited rally in the closing minutes of play.

The Mercury soccer eleven held the upper hand throughout their game with the Vikings, garnering a 2-to-1 lead in the first half, and being content to score three goals along with the losers in the last period. Scott, with two goals, and Robertson, Hepburn and Pearson with one each, were responsible for the Clubmen's points. Dr. Brix, former Olympic star, was the shining light on the Viking eleven, scoring three goals alone. H. Christenson tallied the other goal for the losers. This was L.A.A.C.'s fourth straight soccer victory of the season. The Vikings' usually outstanding defense was handicapped by the loss of Whatne, goal keeper.

yard ribbon. With first down and goal to make, the visitors were held on three tries at the line and just as they were ready for a final effort the period ended.

Before a minute of the second half had passed, the Firemen had gained the lead, as a result of a beautiful piece of ball - carrying. Taking the oval on his own 35-yard line, Moses broke through tackle and sidestepped or brushed off at least five tacklers as he romped over the goal line. He traversed the last five yards with a pair of divers holding onto his legs. Nolan converted the extra point. The Subs kicked off to the invaders and Grimes brought it back on his own 45, from where Nolan ran around end to the Submarine 40-yard stripe. Moses added 10 yards more and then Pusick, substitute for Sumner, swept around the wing on a 21-yard gallop to the 9-yard line. Moses rocketed over guard but was just a few inches short of the goal when he was stopped. He rushed center on the next play for a touchdown. Nolan's try for point again was successful.

The Submarines rallied in the final quarter, after Moses had been injured and taken from the game, but they were unable to tally.

BRILL SHINES ANEW FOR IRISH

strated he is as good as any other ball carrier on the team. Saturday's scores, however, were the first he ever carried over a goal line for Notre Dame.

There is a reason for this that does not appear on the face of things. Next Saturday Notre Dame plays Penn at Franklin Field. Brill could not make the varsity team there three years ago, and his father, a multimillionaire street-car builder of Philadelphia, took him out of Penn and sent him to the South Bend school where under Rockne's tutelage, he became one of the team's outstanding players.

It is expected that Brill will do a lot of ball carrying for Notre Dame on the Philadelphia field next Saturday when he will appear across the line from some of his old mates. If his play will beat Penn one may be sure they will be beaten plenty.

Savoldi's touchdown Saturday was an off-tackle slant for 35 yards, pelimell through three or four Hoosiers. Following the next kick-off which the South Benders took on their own 30-yard line the Irish began another march with Brill, Schwartz and Savoldi lugging the ball to Indiana's 27-yard mark. There Schwartz slid through tackle and shook himself loose for another touchdown.

Again the Irish began a long march. End runs, plunges, and a penalty made first down on the Hoosier 45-yard line. Savoldi split the forward wall wide open and on the next play Brill galloped around end for 23 yards and a touchdown. Carides missed the kick after this score, the only one he missed all day long. Immediately after the next kick-off Schwartz made the most spectacular play of the afternoon. He found a hole at left tackle, shook himself clear and dashed 78 yards. He was dragged down just short of the goal line. Notre Dame was penalised 5 yards for offside on the first attempt. But on the next play Brill hammered off-tackle and hurled himself over the goal line for the final touchdown.

BITTER PILL

Yale's inability to score on Dartmouth was bitter medicine for Old Eli. The Blue had not particularly pointed for this game because had Dartmouth won it would have been the first victory of a Green team over a Blue team in almost half a century. But Yale was confident and not at all worried about the vaunted attack of the New Hampshire eleven. Consequently the Yale men were disagreeably astonished at the power behind the Green plays.

Yale launched the best offensive it had and Dartmouth's great line wavered and broke before the rush, broke long enough to let Booth through one time. Yale also took full advantage of Yudickey's absence which amounted to almost a vacancy, and sent play after play around that way, but could not quite make the grade.

Morton was the mighty man of Dartmouth's late drive down the field and there was a moment there in the final quarter when he looked like Al Marsters in his great series of smashes at Yale, this date a year ago which ended when he cracked his spine. Morton, too, suddenly seemed to give out and was replaced by a fresh and skittish back, McCall.

Yale scored six first downs, all by rushing in the first half to one for Dartmouth. In the end they had eight first downs apiece. Booth carried the ball thirty times, and it was no fault of his that he did not win the game for Yale.

WEIGHT LIFTERS TO COLLIDE WEDNESDAY

American weight-lifting records will be in danger when strong men of Southern California meet in a sanctioned A.A.U. tournament at the L.A.A.C. at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday. Many world and national records are held by L.A.A.C. lifters, and Commissioner Jere Kingsbury has his men in fine shape for a new assault upon the marks.

The Mercury entrants will be Philip Greco, Clark Davis, Milton McAleece, Ralph Trotter, Frank McCann, Nathan McCann, Leonard Welte, Maurice Aroff, Leonard Hall and Kingsbury. Officials will be Al Treloar, Ben Price and Al Martin.

DE GLANE WILL TOP MAT CARD

Frenchman Signed for Go at Olympic

Henri De Glane, heavyweight mat king of France, has been signed by Promoter Lou Daro for the feature event of the all-star wrestling card he is planning for the Olympic the 12th inst.

EVERETT MARSHALL

Several top-notchers have been offered the bout with De Glane, including Everett Marshall, the young Coloradoan; Joe Stecher, former champion; Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former champion. De Glane is ready to meet any of them.

Marshall wired Promoter Daro a week ago that he would come to the Coast to meet Don George, whether the latter won or lost in his bout with "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, just to settle the question as to which of them was the better grappler. George, however, will not be able to do any mat work for two weeks as the result of injuries he received in that match, which is still talked about by the fans of this section.

Should Marshall wire he is still ready to meet any opponent selected for him by Promoter Daro, the latter will sign him to meet De Glane.

De Glane is a newcomer here, but in the East he is better known than Marshall. De Glane was born in Paris, France, twenty-eight years ago. He came to this country three years ago, after spending eight years on the wrestling mats of Europe, as an amateur. He was never defeated in amateur competition. In 1922 he was recognised as the world's amateur mat king; in 1924 he won the Greco-Roman mat title in the Olympic Games in Paris; he wrestled the best heavyweights in every country in Europe during the next few years, and then he came to America and turned professional.

De Glane made his first appearance here last week and defeated Otto Von Hollenbache with ease. The Frenchman played with Hollenbache for a few minutes and then slammed him into the mat.

BEARS TO OFFER TROJAN THREAT

Then, late in the game, Wentworth intercepted a Bear pass and raced 70 yards to score.

Price's team made 143 yards from scrimmage to 107 for Washington, and also registered more pass yardage than their foes. Each team made eight first downs.

ODDS WRONG

All of which ought to illustrate the folly of 2-to-1 odds, for it must be apparent that there is little to choose between California and Washington, even though the Huskies won, 13 to 0. Scores often fail to tell the true story of football games.

Last year after Jones's team thumped Stanford, 7 to 0, nobody gave California a chance against the Trojans, yet the Bears won, 15 to 7. Having run rough shod over the Cards this time, 41 to 12, these same dopesters now have everything settled but the actual score of next Saturday's conflict.

California, as the underdog, is naturally in a much better position than the Trojans, who, however, should win the game if they go into it with the right mental attitude and avoid too many mistakes. Last year the Bears were quick to capitalize Troy's errors, and when Jones's team finally started functioning it was too late.

BEARS TOUGH

The Bears will naturally be much tougher than Stanford was in that 41-to-12 outrage. Price's line can't help but be considerably better than the forward wall which Pop Warner has molded on the farm. For one thing, the Bears are not weak down the middle, where the Cards were practically pulverised by Troy's power plays.

Ted Beckett, guard, is probably one of the three best on the Coast, while Eichmeyer and Medanich, centers, are rated better than Taylor and Albertson of the Cards. Capt. Carl Handy plays the other guard position.

Timmerman and Cahn were tough enough to annoy the Trojans last year and there is no doubt but what these two tackles are capable of playing good football. Avery, Thornton and Stone are fairish ends.

Henry Schaldach, transfer from Menlo Park Junior College, is the spark plug of California's backfield. He does everything but grow hair on the bootball and there is no secret about the fact that Jones and his staff are concentrating their defense with the intention of preventing Schaldach from pulling a Benny Lom on the Trojans.

Rusty Gill, who played a powerful, vicious defensive game against the Trojans last year, will be on deck again, while Griffiths and Hickingbotham are likely to be California's other starting backs, although Griffiths has been laid up with injuries.

One interesting angle on Saturday's game is that his Nibs the Price, has shown that he knows plenty about defensing Howard Jones's system. It is rather significant that the Trojans have scored only one touchdown against the Bears in two years.

GOLDEN BEARS WIN

The Golden Bears retained their outside chance of winning the Municipal Middleweight Football League championship by scoring a 7-to-0 victory over the Royal Athletic Club yesterday at Ross Snyder Field. The Bears have won two games and lost one.

TROJANS IN FIRST CAGE DRILL

Sam Barry Holds Initial Basketball Workout Today in New Gym

Coach Sam Barry expects about thirty athletes to be on hand this afternoon when the first Trojan basketball practice of the year will be held in the new gymnasium. The first practices will be held in the women's division of the new building until the completion of the two practice courts in the men's unit.

Capt. Web Caldwell will head a list of returning letter men who last year captured the Pacific Coast Conference championship in Barry's first year at the helm. The regulars include Jack Gardner, forward, and Caldwell. Letter winners who are back are Jim Truher, guard; Bill Pierce, forward; Ray Harris, guard, and Gordon Boelter, forward.

Important cogs missing from the championship outfit are Capt. Johnny Lehners, Frank Smith, Jess Mortensen, Henry Cano, Aaron Nibley and Herman Hirdler, all of whom won letters last year.

Nonletter winners, backs from last year, are Clifton Capps, "Moose" Thompson and Lloyd Miller, guards, and Tony Jurich, Spencer Phipps and Hank Walbet, centers.

A number of frosh stars of last year will be eligible for varsity duty this season and some of them are expected to make good. Among these are Ray Abbott, center; "Bunny" Anderson, Benner McPhee, Otis Blasingham and Bernard Faubion, forwards; Freddy Karrle, center, and Al Plaehn, Charles Upton and Fred Weinrich, guards.

The Trojan mentor has issued a call to all prospective performers, whether they be varsity, freshmen, Spartans, reserves or what-not. More candidates are expected to report later on when basketball really gets going and the practice and conference schedules will be in the offing.

COMMERCIAL CLUB DOWNS SHELLS IN OVERTIME

Ramming across four runs in the eleventh inning to break a 5-to-5 tie, Wes Kingdon's strong Commercial Club nine defeated Shell Oilers, 9 to 6, yesterday at Long Beach in an overtime Winter League game. Jim Turner not only outpitched a trio of Shell slabsters, but singled with the bases full in the eleventh to break the deadlock. Louie Almada batted in the other two tallies. The Shells put over one run in their half of the eleventh, but Turner checked the rally before it became dangerous. Craghead, McEvoy and Herman Pillette were the pitchers for the losing club.

UNIQUE A.C. WHIPS SPOILER GRID TEAM

By scoring a well-earned 7-to-0 victory over the Spoiler A.C yesterday at Harvard playground, the Unique A.C. is tied with the Olympic A.C. for first place in the Municipal Middleweight Football League. The Belvedere team is scheduled to meet the Olympic squad in two weeks in a game which will probably decide the championship. Bench and St. Marie shone on the offense for the winners, while the Unique linemen played a great defensive game.

SOUTHERN TEAMS OCCUPY GRIDIRON SPOTLIGHT

BY M. B. RICE
Football Statistician

The national gridiron map is changing with such ceaseless regularity that it becomes increasingly difficult to chart its topography even from week to week.

In general the standard of play for midseason performance is far below that of other years. This is particularly true of the East, Middle West and the Pacific Coast.

Southern teams, at this time, occupy the spotlight on the national map. They have displayed a powerful and varied offense. Their defense is almost, though not quite, on a par with their attack and by decisive odds the South presents the best-balanced teams in the country.

THE EAST

Army, Dartmouth and Fordham are undefeated in the Far East.

Northwestern, as predicted in preseason estimates, still seems the class of the Middle West, eliminating Notre Dame, of course. The Irish teams are always regarded as a national institution. Wisconsin is strong. Minnesota and Purdue are about on a par, [illegible] a young, green team, [illegible] greater experience before [illegible] be counted in the running.

PACIFIC COAST

Washington State remains [illegible] gressive national stride. [illegible] doubtedly the strongest team [illegible] Northwest. Washington [illegible] ever, has to go many [illegible] do many things before [illegible] donning the Pacific Coast [illegible] Oregon, Oregon State and [illegible] ington are of just about [illegible] strength, although Oregon [illegible] of schedule arrangements, [illegible] to be at or near the top [illegible] ence rating at the end of [illegible] son.

The high-point team [illegible] nation are led by Los [illegible] with 287 points in six [illegible] mouth's big Green Wave [illegible] have developed into a [illegible] After two rather disappointing [illegible] Dartmouth seems to be [illegible] of those powerfully built [illegible] as evidenced by an average [illegible] of 56.2 points for the [illegible] games and an opponent's [illegible] exactly nothing.

BRUINS MOVE ON TO OREGON

last Friday and Wallendorf was not himself because of sore ribs but both of these boys will be ready. Bruin attaches claim, for the game next Saturday.

Spaulding may make several changes in the Westwood starting line-up for the Oregon game. It is possible that Bobbie Decker may be switched to the quarterback berth for the game. Decker has been playing at halfback. He is the best ball packer the Bruins have uncovered to date. Capt. Solomon and Bergdahl have been holding down the signal calling position but outside of tossing passes neither one of these boys seems to be able to anywhere with the ball—hence Decker's entrance in that spot.

The Oregon team has a clean slate to date this season. They have beaten Washington, Willamette, Pacific University, Idaho and Drake. After the Bruins they have Oregon State and St. Mary's to meet. If they beat the Bruins and the Beavers they have a clean bill of health in conference circles.

The Bruins will have that awful tough guy John Kitzmiller, "the flying Dutchman," to stop, if they want to get somewhere Saturday. At present he is leading the scorers in the Coast Conference.

Fox Hills members, who have accorded other [illegible] national tournaments throughout the year excellent support, are turning [illegible] out in force.

Among the entries received yesterday were those of Harold and Russell Thompson of Oakmont, Guy Brown of California, Chuck Berry and Jack Douglas of the home club, and Rex Bailes of Virginia.

Bailes, it will be remembered, advanced to the finals of the Southern California amateur championship at Midwick in June, is the present municipal title-holder.

Tomorrow and Wednesday have been set aside for the eighteen-hole qualifying round. Golfers are urged to start as early as possible and the afternoons are growing darker.

The qualifying play will be in the handicap divisions with a class for the high handicap player from 18 to 24. Low gross and low net prizes will be awarded to winners in each of the four classes.

Match play, which starts Thursday, is limited to ten flights. Non-qualifiers and those defeated in first-round matches may compete in a consolation round on Saturday. Mixed foursomes are scheduled for Sunday.

Starting times can be obtained by calling Fox Hills. A. H. "Ollie" Carter will be in charge of the tee.

WALL, DIEGEL WIN EXHIBITION MATCH

AGUA CALIENTE (Lower California) Nov. 2. (AP)—Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente golf professional, paired with Miss Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., defeated Miss Glenna Collett, United States women's amateur champion, and T. A. Bowman, Pasadena amateur, 7 and 4, in a four ball, best ball exhibition match here this afternoon.

Diegel won the match when he shot a 32, three under par, on the second nine holes. The former professional champion was one over par for the eighteen holes with a 73.

Miss Collett had an 82, even women's par for the course.

Blue Poloists Trim Red Four

Blue polo ists with Will Rogers, Jr., and T. Lyel Puckett leading the way, rode to a 10-to-4 victory over the Reds yesterday afternoon at the Uplifters' Club field. Young Will and Puckett, who sell automobiles during the week and rides horses on Sunday, were by far the outstanding players on the field yesterday. The youthful Rogers tallied five times and Puckett scored three of the winning goals.

The score at half-time was tied, 4 to 4, but the Blues came on in the last four chukkers to swamp the Reds. Hal Roach tallied three times for the losers. Thel line-ups:

Blues.		Reds.
Puckett (3)	No. 1	W. Felix (1)

NATIONAL GRID RACE NARROWS

Oregon in the Far West, and Notre Dame and Northwestern in the Midwest.

Oklahoma City U., with seven consecutive victories, tops the list. Texas Christian, although tied once, tops the entire group in both offensive and defensive strength, having piled up 251 points while preserving an intact goal line. Dartmouth, the previous scoring leader, has scored but one touchdown in its last two games, and is second with 232. Utah University ranks third with 224 points.

Several important games are scheduled for the coming week-end. Notre Dame must play the improved Pennsylvania team which finally lived up to its preseason promise last week in subduing the powerful Kansas squad, 21-6. Northwestern has a comparatively easy game in Indiana, although Rockne had to use his first-string squad to beat the Hoosiers.

Alabama takes on the battling Florida Gators, who played a 0-0 tie with Georgia last week-end to knock the Bulldogs out of the race for national honors. Fordham will find a battling foe in Detroit, which bowed to Iowa, 7-3, Saturday, for its second defeat in three years. Both Washington State and Oregon have easy games, meeting Idaho and U.C.L.A., respectively.

The national standings, next Saturday's games, and the standings in three of the important conferences, are as follows:

SANTA ROSA LEGION WINS

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 2. (AP)—In the first official game for the California American Legion championship the Santa Rosa Bone Crushers defeated the Richmond American Legion eleven, 41 to 0, on Nevers Field here today.

FAVORITES WIN TENNIS EVENTS

Sycamore Grove Tourney Moves Along

With no sensational upsets being recorded during yesterday's play, the first Sycamore Grove reunion doubles tennis tournament was advanced into the third round of the men's doubles and the second round of the mixed doubles on the courts of the Sycamore Grove Park.

Many of the favorites saw action yesterday, but none of them experienced any difficulty. In a third-round battle, Jack De Lara and Howard Williams, a seeded combination, had things their own way in defeating Parsons and Bent, 6-1, 6-1. Orville Scholtz and Max Kelch, another one of the select group, put on a fine exhibition of how doubles should be played when they eliminated Wayne Hall and Ray Custer in a very easy manner by scores of 6-0, 6-4.

Play in the mixed doubles also ran true to form. Leonard Dworkin and Miss Smith, the fourth seeded pair, had great trouble in putting out Wachter and Miss Otto, but finally won by scores of 6-1, 1-6, 7-5. Howard Williams and Gladys Pata, one of the favorite combinations, won over Wheeler and Miss Terzo, in straight sets, 6-2, 9-7.

Yesterday's results follow:

MEN'S DOUBLES

Second round—Johnson and Millman defeated Weaver and Warren, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3. Peterson and Woodburn defeated Hobinson and Hampton by default. Bunch and Pouts defeated Wheeler and Cooper, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3. Parsons and Bent defeated Ransom and Smith, 6-1, 6-1. Hilgert and Fiser defeated Bitsuis and Hunter, 6-4, 6-0.

Third round—Reynolds and Reynolds defeated Bunch and Pouts, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3. De Lara and Williams defeated Parsons and Bent, 6-1, 6-1. Scholtz and Kelch defeated Hall and Custer, 6-0, 6-4.

MIXED DOUBLES

First round—De Lara and Workman defeated Jacobs and Medin by default. Weaver and Mrs. Rose defeated Rizzo and Mrs. Hall, 9-7, 6-1. Beaton and Anderson defeated Lewis and Wilson, 6-4, 6-3. Stewart and Downing defeated Donald and Shelton, 6-3, 6-7, 6-4. Custer and Nims defeated Bellusche and O'Malley, 6-7, 6-4, 6-4. Wachter and Otto defeated Purper and Bohning by default.

Second round—Ordway and Prentiss defeated Stewart and Downing, 7-5, 6-3. Dworkin and Smith defeated Wachter and Otto, 6-1, 1-6, 7-5. Reynolds and Williamson defeated Odell and Steinman, 6-1, 6-3. Williams and Pata defeated Wheeler and Terzo, 6-2, 9-7.

LEWIS-BARTOSH TEAM TRIUMPHS

Elbert Lewis and Dr. Gerald Bartosh, one of the classiest doubles teams in Southern California won the men's doubles finals in the Municipal Tennis Club members' tennis tournament, which is being held at the Harvard Playground courts under the auspices of the sports division of the City Playground Department, by defeating Clay Mahoney and Orville Scholtz in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4.

Play also continued in the men's and ladies' singles, and the mixed doubles, with the finals being reached in each event. Albert Lewis, U.C.L.A. star, had a difficult time in eliminated Bob Brashear in his semifinal match by scores of 7-5, 4-6, 6-0. Dr. Bartosh entered the finals, along with Lewis, by winning over Leonard Dworkin by default.

Gertie Hauswald entered the ladies' singles finals with Dr. Esther Curtis Lartosh by defeating Miss A. Dennison in straight sets, 6-4, 7-5. Final sets in the mixed doubles will be Callahan and Miss Dennison, and Wanamaker and Gertie Hauswald. The former team won their semifinal match by defeating Wheeler and Liddell in three sets, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5; while the other finalists won over Costello and Patterson, 6-3, 6-4, in their semifinal affair.

Daniels High in Trapshoot

William C. Daniels of Huntington Park, was the outstanding shooter at the A.T.A. registered shoot held at the Union Pacific Knickerbocker Field yesterday, making a score of 97 out of a possible 100. Daniels won the Class B trophy, and also tied with F. S. Jasper, Jr., in the handicap event, with 48 out of 50 from the twenty-yard line. Mrs. Gus Knight, State women's champion, was runner-up with a score of 96, winning the Class C trophy.

Other trophy winners were: Class A, Gus Smith; Class D, George Warren; Class E, K. F. Thurston.

SHIP PROGRAM SCOPE SHOWN

O'Connor Statement Gives New Construction Data

Sixty-eight Merchant Craft Will Cost $281,000,000

Kerosene Refinery at Port Now Near Completion

BY WALDO DRAKE

Scope of the nation's new merchant marine building program is strikingly illustrated in announcements in the current issue of the Merchant Marine Bulletin, official publication of the Shipping Board. The board estimates that the 452 vessels of the wartime fleet remaining under its control have a value of $71,000,000, while private operators have contracted, under mail and construction subsidies, to build sixty-eight new American ships, at a total cost of $281,000,000.

The ships of the new merchant fleet, according to a statement by Chairman T. V. O'Connor of the Shipping Board, will establish the American merchant ensign on more than forty world trade routes with modern, speedy ships. This sixty-eight-ship fleet, aggregating 700,000 gross tons, includes two twenty-eight-knot liners, eight ships of twenty-knot speed, thirteen with a speed of eighteen knots, twenty-three will have a speed of sixteen knots, two a speed of fifteen knots, twelve a speed of fourteen knots and eight a speed of thirteen knots. These vessels, to be commissioned during the next five years, will be available to the government as naval auxiliaries in an emergency.

In contrast to the modern efficiency of this new privately owned fleet, the remaining Shipping Board war-time fleet has an average speed of about twelve knots; the 452 vessels including 429 cargo carriers, two passenger ships, ten refrigerator ships, one submarine, one tanker and nine tugs. Since 1921 the Shipping Board has disposed of 1569 vessels, for which the government received a total of $123,823,573.

"As a result of the new construction program," says Mr. O'Connor's statement, "American shipyards are enjoying the greatest peace-time activity in the history of the industry. It has been estimated that the expenditure of $281,000,000 for merchant ship construction, supplemented by about $100,000,000 for other shipbuilding work, will give our shipyards during the next five years about $70,000,000 worth of work annually.

"This volume of business will require the services of some 20,000 trained shipyard workers, as well as a like number of workers in various other industries.

TEST PRODUCTION AT NEW PLANT SET

Final stage in construction of the Union Oil Company's new $800,000 kerosene refinery at Wilmington will be reached today, with test production of the new plant scheduled for the 15th inst. Regular production is to begin about December 1, next.

The new unit, to have a daily output of 6000 barrels, will use the Edeleanu process of kerosene separation and is said to be the largest single unit of its kind in the world. It is being constructed under direction of C. G. Brownlee, refinery superintendent.

Dollar Line's trans-Pacific liner President McKinley was in yesterday noon from the Orient with thirty passengers and 1500 tons of cargo for discharge. She will sail for Shanghai at noon today after embarking a similar number of travelers and loading 1200 tons for Far East ports.

Among her outgoing passengers boarding here will be Miss Margaret Finley, Hoppeston (Ill.) schoolteacher, starting on world tour; Albert Cohen, local capitalist, going to Shanghai; Mrs. W. G. Hall of Hollywood, en route to Manila; Raymond C. Smith, telephone engineer, stationed at Shanghai, and George C. Schlobohm, executive of MacLeod & Co., at Manila.

The steamer Lena Luckenbach, inaugurating the Luckenbach Line's augmented Gulf-Pacific freight service with ten-day frequency, is due at the port this morning from New Orleans and Mobile with 1800 tons of general cargo for local consignees. In increasing the service from fortnightly frequency, three former Luckenbach North Atlantic steamers were added to the Gulf run.

Burt Edwards, general manager of the harbor department this morning will lead home the Los Angeles expedition to San Francisco's annual steamship dinner, held last Saturday night at the Palace Hotel.

The steamer City of Honolulu, being brought to this port by Capt. George Zeh, following her fire of May 25, last, at the island port, last night was approximately 1230 miles from Los Angeles Harbor and is expected to arrive late Wednesday. Purchased from the underwriters by the Los Angeles Steamship Company, no plans have been announced for her disposition.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

One must know his jungle well to survive it long! And if one would know it well, he must let no usual occurrence or circumstance go unexplained. And so it was that Tarzan set out upon the back-track of Bara to find out, if possible, who had slain the deer. Evidently it had been done the day before. The sun was already low before the ape-man came upon the first indications. These were footprints that filled him with quite as much surprise as had the arrow.

Tarzan examined them carefully. Stooping low, he sniffed at them with his sensitive nostrils. Impossible though it seemed, the naked footprints were those of a white man—a large man, probably as big as Tarzan himself. The foster-son of Kala, the ape, gazed upon the spoor of the mysterious stranger, running his fingers through his thick black hair in a characteristic gesture indicative of deep puzzlement. What naked white man could there be in Tarzan's jungle? Suddenly he recalled the vague rumors he had heard weeks before.

Night fell before Tarzan could solve the mystery of the strange trail. He retraced his steps toward camp knowing his Waziri would be expecting meat. Soon he discovered he was not the only one hunting the district that night. The coughing grunt of a lion close by apprised him of it at first. Well, it would not be the first time the ape-man had pitted his cunning, his strength and his agility against the other hunters of his savage world—both man and beast.

And so it was that Tarzan made his kill, snatching it almost from under the nose of a disappointed, infuriated lion—a fat antelope that the latter had marked as his own. Throwing his kill to his shoulder, almost in the face of the charging Numa, the ape-man swung lightly into the lower terraces of the trees. With a taunting laugh for the infuriated and baffled beast, the ape-man vanished noiselessly into the night and soon was back at the camp fires of his welcoming warriors.

OIL COMPANY IN EXPANSION STEP

Associated Lets Contract on Cracking-Plant

Cost of Comp'e'ed Project Set at $2,000,000

Will Provide Employment for Skilled Laborers

Awarding of a contract by the Associated Oil Company for a 10,000-barrel cracking-plant at its Avon refinery near Martinez, at a reported price of $2,000,000, will give immediate employment to a considerable number of skilled workmen and laborers and, upon completion of the plant next June, will provide Associated with facilities for obtaining the maximum gasoline extraction from heavy California oil.

The contract, awarded to K. E. Badger & Sons Company, calls for the erection of a large tube and tank-type cracking-plant. The construction of this unit is a part of Associated's proposed expansion program in order to take care of increased demand for its petroleum products. Construction work has just begun.

The plant will be a complete unit consisting of cracking furnaces and bubble towers, treating plant, rerun stills and power plant, embodying the latest developments in the cracking industry. The final design is the result of many months of study of various cracking processes. The new unit will be the largest of its kind ever constructed.

The cracking of fuel oil by this new process yields the maximum quantity of marketable products from a barrel of crude. The economies thus effected are expected to reflect themselves in the earnings of the company. The construction program indicates the company's confidence in the future prosperity of the petroleum industry.

NEW MEXICO OIL ACTIVITY LULL LOOMS

Cut in Crude Prices and Proration Rule Expected to Bring Let-down

ARTESIA (N. M.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—New posted crude prices in three of the principal oil fields of Eastern New Mexico, together with proration, which is effective over the entire area, is expected to materially affect field development, although the situation may encourage wildcatting in some sectors.

There is now no inducement to bring in new producers, especially in the Artesia field, where the output is limited to the capacity of the Continental refinery. Operators in the Hobbs pool are limited to less than 5 per cent of the initial potential of their new wells and operators are disinclined to spend $60,000 or $70,000 to drill each new well in the face of the present marketing arrangement.

Decline of crude prices in the three fields was announced only a few days apart. Artesia crude was reduced 30 cents per barrel from $1.05 to 75 cents; crude from the Maljamar field was lowered 30 cents per barrel from $1 to 70 cents and Hobbs crude was reduced 27 cents per barrel from $1.01 to 74 cents, based on 38-deg. gravity oil.

New Economies on Docket of Miami Copper

MIAMI (Ariz.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—That new economies are in prospect is indicated in the Miami Copper Company's circular announcing suspension of dividends, despite possession of a substantial cash surplus.

It is stated that "costs now are about what was contemplated when the campaign of new construction was instituted. Recent experimental work indicates that a new opportunity may be presented in the near future, through comparatively small additional investment, further to decrease the cost of production very substantially." Magma has made declaration that costs may be reduced to 6½ cents a pound before depreciation.

New Oil Test to Start Soon in Taft Field

TAFT, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—The Midland Exploration Company is hauling in material for its drilling rig in the center of Sec. 34, 31-24, in the Buena Vista Hills. Spudding in will take place soon.

On Sec. 30, 31-24, the Federal Drilling Company's No. 1 project now under the Hart Petroleum Company banner, is going ahead beyond 2500 feet in the expectation of striking commercial production at about 4500 feet.

Midland has obtained 400 acres at Buena Vista, from the Rio Bravo Pioneer Oil Company.

Round Mountain Location Picked

BUTTONWILLOW, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Construction activities are under way at Buttonwillow on Sec. 28, 29-25, where Superior Oil Company has staked location for its Kern County Land Company No. 1, which it will drill immediately.

The well is 250 feet south and 250 west from center of the section. It will be a district test.

UNIT PLAN BODY APPOINTED

Chairman Reinhardt Names Committee to Draft Kettleman Hills Document

A committee of experts which includes leaders in the oil industry has been appointed by William Reinhardt, chairman of the Kettleman hills oil-and-gas committee, to draw up a first draft of the unit-plan for the future development of the Kettleman Hills oil field.

A. L. Well, general counsel of the General Petroleum Corporation, and member of the committee, has been requested to call the group's initial meeting. This is expected to take place early in the week. Other members of the new committee include Oscar Sutro of the Standard Oil Company of California, R. M. Blodget, general manager of George F. Getty, Inc.; H. C. Perry, Union Oil Company, and P. C. Black of the Continental Oil Company, all attorneys. The engineering group includes B. J. Parsons of the General Petroleum Corporation, and T. E. Swigart of the Shell Oil Company.

Selection of this committee is considered an important step toward formation of a plan that will control drilling operations at Kettleman Hills. Its appointment indicates that Mr. Reinhardt's committee may have reached a definite conclusion as to the amount of supposedly proven acreage. First figures on productive acreage at Kettleman Hills were placed at about 13,700 acres, but the figure may be increased because of unusual showing of the Superior Oil Company's Huffman No. 1 on Sec. 29, 21-17, of the north dome, which has been flowing 13,000 barrels daily for nearly four weeks. Before the completion of this project it was thought to be on the extreme northwesterly edge of the field.

When Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur was here last in the interest of the Kettleman Hills unit plan, he suggested that it be ready for operation by January 1, 1931. His personal representative, Dr. George Otis Smith, chief of the United States Geological Survey, attended all recent meetings of Mr. Reinhardt's committee and is credited with acquainting it with the government's attitude and aiding during the various deliberations held in the assembly rooms of the California Oil and Gas Association, and at San Francisco, where the engineers of the participating companies met to discuss the plan.

Quick solution of the Kettleman Hills problem has been urged because of the increasing production there. The field has been producing in excess of 26,000 barrels daily, and with a potential of 90,000 barrels daily, it is expected to increase soon because of new activity on the north dome. The Standard Oil Company, which moved to place all its fee and government permit lands under a separate plan and yet to be under the control of a board of governors, has been instrumental in clearing the way for a rapid solution of several important problems, according to officials.

Cananea Mining Giving Plants an Overhauling

CANANEA (Son.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Cananea Consolidated is utilizing its slack production time in a general overhaul of its mill crushing and sampling plant and in the installation of new conveyors and ore bins. At the smelter, also, changes are being made in the sampling and crushing sections, with betterments in the furnace waste-heat boilers and installation of two boilers, in addition to the present 800-horsepower boilers within the plant.

The Silver Plume Mining Company is deepening its 250-foot Oliver shaft and is doing underground development work. The mill is idle. The company is a Los Angeles one, managed by Harry L. Seares of Anaheim.

Honolulu Oil's Well on Pump

ROUND MOUNTAIN, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—The Honolulu Oil Company's No. 3-A well, on Sec. 20, 28-29, in the Round Mountain district, has been completed and put on the pump as a 775-barrel daily producer.

The oil tests 16.8 deg. gravity. Total depth is 2180 feet. This section last month, operated by Honolulu, produced a total of 12,534 barrels of oil.

Union Shuts in Fellows Well

FELLOWS, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Union Oil Company's Editor No. 1 well, on Sec. 22, 32-20 in the Midway, has been given a mechanical completion and shut-in. The well, although untested for a definite production rating, is credited with being a 350-barrel producer.

Total depth is 1485 feet. More than 170 feet of the 6⅝-8-inch perforated liner was run to bottom.

NEW HUNT FOR OIL IN SAN DIEGO

Large Areas Reported Leased Between Lemon Grove and Encanto

Thousands of acres extending from Lemon Grove to Encanto in San Diego county have been leased for oil development it became known yesterday, following a meeting of the Encanto Improvement Club, where the members were asked to aid in signing up other leases. The leases have been taken by S. W. Lee, an oil operator from Long Beach, who declares he has no stock to sell, but is willing to start drilling within the next few weeks.

Mr. Lee has opened an office at Forty-four h and Market streets in San Diego. Among those said to be associated with him is S. D. Eckler, president of the Lemon Grove Development Company. Mr. Eckler owns a tract where an oil seepage was discovered at surface. For several months he has been engaged in securing leases and it is declared that by early winter drilling operations will be under way.

LOW METAL PRICES MAY HIT ARIZONA

Slump in Copper Mining Industry Expected to Cut Tax Revenues

PHOENIX, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—The low cost of copper and the slump in metal production and of metal prices may have a serious effect upon Arizona's income from State and county taxes. The United Verde Extension, Shattuck-Denn and Magma mining companies have protested the valuations placed on their properties by the State Tax Commission.

Extension asks reduction from $5,710,000, set by a court, down to $4,000,000. Shattuck-Denn seeks reduction from the commission's assessment of $4,698,000 to $1,517,215. Magma claims its valuation should not exceed $9,600,000, compared with the commission's assessment of $14,876,266.

In the past mine values in Arizona largely have been based upon production and profits. It now is claimed that the same argument should prevail on behalf of the companies since their profits for the time have been eliminated.

Rich Gold Vein Reported Found Near Randsburg

News of a gold strike with pay dirt assaying $300 to the ton at the grass roots and as high as $4000 a ton a few feet down, was reported from Randsburg yesterday.

According to Dick Hollinger, 3246 Orilla street, Los Angeles, who drives to Randsburg twice a week, the discoverers are George Benbo and Bob Shay, both of Randsburg. Ray Miller, another Randsburg citizen, is working an adjoining claim.

The strike has created considerable excitement in the neighborhood, according to Mr. Hollinger.

Old Eighty-five Mine Shaft Due to Sink Deeper

LORDSBURG (N. M.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—The old shaft on the Calumet and Arizona's Eighty-five mine at Valedon is to be sunk 300 feet to a total depth of 2400 feet. The property's Jim Crow shaft is down 1743 feet. Recent shaft construction has cost about $150,000. Ore shipments are being made to the Douglas smelter.

About 200 tons a day are being shipped by the Peru Mining Company from its Hanover mines to its mill at Deming. The principal values are in zinc. R. I. Kirchman is in charge at the mine and James A. Adams at the mill.

YATES FAMILY INCORPORATES

Texas Couple Move to Guard Huge Oil Fortune

Monthly Royalties Estimated at Over $100,000

Total Since First Well Four Years Ago $7,000,000

AUSTIN (Tex.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—For the purpose of administering and safeguarding the enormous oil holdings of Mr. and Mrs. Ira G. Yates, this wealthy couple have organized the I. G. and Annie Yates Estate, which has just filed its charter in the Secretary of State's office here. The corporation has a nominal capital stock of $10,000.

Even during this period of curtailed production in the Yates field of Pecos county, which is located upon the ranch owned by Mr. and Mrs. Yates, their income from royalties is more than $100,000 a month. Since the discovery well was brought in on the ranch four years ago, they have been paid more than $7,000,000 in royalties by various producing oil companies.

The purpose of the new corporation is to secure to the children of Mr. and Mrs. Yates an equitable distribution of the estate and the current income from royalties which are expected to continue for many years to come.

The Yates field has several unusual features. The wells range in depth from 1000 feet to 1150 feet, and are so easily drilled that water-well drilling outfits are used instead of the usual derrick equipment. The field has one well, that of the Mid-Continent Oil Company and the Transcontinental Oil Company, which on September 23 1929 flowed at the rate of 204,682 barrels daily.

From a trench only thirty feet deep near the Pecos River, the Maryland Oil Company, now the Continental Oil Company, obtained more than 8000 barrels of seepage oil daily for many months.

MINES NEWS AT PRESCOTT TOLD

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Bagdad Copper, west of Hillside station, is continuing its exploration work, though with a force diminished to twenty men. The ground has been explored by diamond drilling over a large area and experimental work is well along on processes of concentrating and leaching the ores, which generally are of low grade.

A large camp has been laid out and buildings are ready for an ample force, to be employed as soon as copper shall have returned to an adequate price. Supt. George Thomas now is in the East.

O. J. Senum of Pasadena, president of the Southwestern Metal Extraction Corporation, states that work soon will be resumed by his organization on the dumps and tailings of the famous Congress mine in the southern part of this county. A mill was placed on the mine last year and is to be reinforced by a new rod mill, for finer grinding of the sands. Much of the value of the mine ore is carried in iron pyrites.

The Southwestern Metal Mines, Inc., is reported to have stopped for the time both mine operation and mill construction on its property at Cleator. Croft T. Boyd of Los Angeles is manager.

The 2200-foot tunnel of the Squaw Peak Copper Company, near Camp Verde, is reported about half completed. It is to strike the ore at 925 feet of depth from the surface. Production is to be through the tunnel, with delivery to a mill that will be placed below the tunnel portal. A modern camp already has been provided. Edison Thacker is president of the corporation and its manager.

DRAG LINE MACHINE ACTIVE AT PLACER

CLIFTON (Ariz.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Operations are well under way by the Howard Kenyon Dredging Company on placer gravel beds in the channel of San Francisco River, five miles below this point. A yard-capacity drag line machine is handling about 1500 yards of gravel a day.

SHELL UNION REPORTS ON NET PROFITS

Oil Company Earnings for Quarter Year Amount to More Than Million

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Net profit of the Shell Union Oil Corporation and subsidiaries for the three months ended September 1 amounted to $1,107,659 before providing for 1930 income taxes. This compares with $9,172,746 in the corresponding period of 1929.

After deducting $550,000 for dividends on the preferred stock there remained a surplus on September 30 of $25,293,458, as against $41,488,129 on the same date in 1929 after deducting preferred and common-stock dividends.

In the third quarter of this year gross operating earnings, including a half-interest in the income of the Comar Oil Company, aggregated $69,574,027 with gross income of $14,255,279 remaining after the deducting of $55,318,747 for operating and general expense. In the corresponding period of last year gross income of $22,328,064 was reported.

The Shell Pipe Line Corporation had increased its surplus to $24,116,234 on September 30 from $14,634,355 on the same date of last year. Revenues from transportation of crude oil and miscellaneous totaled $6,036,212 in the third quarter of this year, against $5,664,755 last year. After deductions for accrued interest and depreciation there remained a balance of $3,810,640 before 1930 income taxes, against $3,668,190 in the third quarter of last year.

TWO DEALS BY MILEY ANNOUNCED

Stock and Oil Acreage Sales to Empire Interests Involve $2,500,000

Sale of one-half the outstanding capital stock of the Miley Petroleum Corporation, Ltd., to the Empire Lease and Royalty Company was announced yesterday by E. J. Miley of Los Angeles. In another deal the Miley company sold to the Empire an undivided one-half interest in 640 acres of land on the north dome at Kettleman Hills, thereby giving Empire a three-quarters interest in that acreage. The total involved in the two transactions is said to have been in excess of $2,500,000.

A few weeks ago the Miley interests sold the State Consolidated Oil Company to the Empire. This deal gives the latter company holdings at Ventura avenue, Signal Hill, Kettleman Hills and several other active California fields.

The Kettleman property involved in the deal is in four different parcels, all under development contract to the Amerada Corporation with provision for the first well to be drilled next July.

Idea of Cheap Congo Copper Held Mistake

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Africa need not be considered necessarily a low-cost copper production area, according to John E. Pemberthy, a former Arizona mining man, now employed in an administrative capacity by a French mining corporation in the Katanga district.

"There is an abundance of copper ore there, to be sure," he said, "but, when all factors have been considered, it certainly would not be an attractive field for operators, with copper down to its present sad plight." He added, "There is an abundance of labor, of a kind. However, it is far from the class of American skilled labor. We have no labor troubles in the sense that an American thinks of labor trouble."

TEXAS TO CURB GAS WASTE

AUSTIN (Tex.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Immediate plans for conserving the enormous supply of natural gas that is now going to waste in Texas will be formulated by the Railroad Commission, it was announced by Chairman Pat Neff of that body, following the recent public hearing of complaints that the commission's State-wide oil proration order was not being observed by some operators.

It was disclosed at this hearing that in the Big Lake field alone a total of 75,000,000 cubic feet daily of gas was escaping from the wells of the Big Lake Oil Company and 80,000,000 cubic feet daily from the deep wells of the Continental Oil Company. Notwithstanding the statement of Charles A. Beyer, general manager of the Big Lake Oil Company, that an additional casing-head gasoline plant had just been completed in the field and that with the new plant in operation all of the casing-head gas would be utilized, there would still be an enormous waste of residue gas after the gasoline had been extracted, Chairman Neff pointed out. The sale of the residue gas to a fuel pipe line that may be built to the field is in prospect.

In the testimony at the hearing it was brought out that from one-half gallon to a gallon of gasoline is obtained from each 1000 cubic feet of gas, and that the gasoline sells for 5 1-2 cents a gallon at the plant. The wells in the Big Lake field are all located upon land owned by the University of Texas, which institution is paid a royalty of one-eighth of the value of the gas on a basis of 3 cents per 1000 cubic feet. Testimony was also given by Ralph Ogden of Austin that the Big Lake Oil Company refused an offer from a carbon black manufacturing company to purchase 20,000,000 cubic feet of residue gas daily for a plant which the company proposed to install in the field. The price offered for the residue gas was 2 cents per 1000 cubic feet.

Mr. Beyer declared that the deep wells in the Big Lake field present problems that are met with in no other field in the world. These wells are 8525 feet to nearly 9000 feet deep and none of them is completely tubed. He said that there has been much experimentation in the field to determine the best methods for conserving the gas waste.

HOBBS POPULATION MOUNTS

HOBBS (N. M.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—As an oil-made town, Hobbs is making a remarkable record. Its permanent population is now estimated at more than 16,000 people and it is still growing so fast that the newcomers are hard pressed to find even temporary housing accommodations.

Prospective new residents are pouring in at the rate of more than 1000 a month, while the transient, or floating population nightly taxes the hotels and rooming-houses. This condition may be relieved in part soon by the construction of a new hotel to cost $700,000, the contract for which has been let.

The best barometer of the town's growth is to be found at the local postoffice, where more than 5000 people call daily at the general delivery window for their mail, according to Postmaster Dale Roberts. Until two months ago one small room was sufficient to handle the mail, but this was found too small and a new postoffice building was erected, greatly increasing the space. This building is now badly overcrowded and a new and much larger building is needed.

At the time oil was discovered here, Hobbs was a mere ranch village, sixty miles from the nearest railroad. Now it has a railroad outlet with prospects of another line being built to the town within the next few months. Not all the people who come here are interested in oil or merchandising. Many of them have purchased land and have gone in for farming. This agricultural development has overflowed into Texas, which border line is only four miles east of Hobbs.

Old Silver Peak Mining District Shows Revival

TONOPAH (Nev.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Increasing activity is reported from the old Silver Peak district, one of Nevada's first producers of gold and silver. The Black Mammoth mill is running steadily on ore from the Indian Mines property, the Liberty Divide lease on the old Mary mine, and other producers. The new mill of the Silver Peak Reduction Company is running on product taken from the old dumps below the Silver Peak mines. Most of the companies are controlled by Los Angeles capital.

The Van Ness Quicksilver Company, controlled by Los Angeles people, has shipped 193 flasks of mercury, valued at $23,000, from its properties since production started about August 15. The mines are located in the old Spanish Belt field, above the historic camp of Belmont. Price of quicksilver has sagged to $110 per flask from the $124 prevailing last summer, and many producers report difficulty in placing sales.

Many Market Units Bought by Sinclair Oil

The Sinclair Refining Company announced Saturday that up to the end of October it had bought this year the facilities and business of fifty-nine petroleum-marketing companies, operating in seventeen States. This does not include the facilities of the Pierce Petroleum Corporation, acquisition of which was previously announced. The Sinclair Refining Company is the chief domestic marketing subsidiary of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation.

These fifty-nine companies represented 1511 bulk-distributing plants, service stations and resale or dealer outlets.

In addition to these acquisitions the Sinclair company has bought from individual distributors seven bulk plants and fifty-two service stations and has obtained under long-term leases ten bulk plants and 169 service stations.

Flagstaff Film Blast Accident Stirs Inspector

PHOENIX, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—A recent accident near Flagstaff, in which a faulty blast injured a number of employees of a Hollywood motion-picture enterprise, has brought from State Mine Inspector Tom C. Foster declaration that enforcement must be made of the inspector's rules with regard to the handling of explosives in this State.

The law gives the inspector's office full jurisdiction in such matters. He has made pronouncement that he must be advised in advance by all persons who expect to use explosives for blasting purposes anywhere within the State.

OIL CONVENTION PARTY FORMING

Annual Meeting of Institute Opens the 10th Inst.

California Group Leaves for Chicago Thursday

Wildcat Committee Has Charge of Program

A group of delegates representing the California oil industry is expected to leave here Thursday morning on a Southern Pacific special train for Chicago to attend the annual convention of the American Petroleum Institute which opens the 10th inst.

The wildcat committee of the California Oil and Gas Association is organizing the group and an interesting program of events en route is planned, with Frank Morgan, chief geologist of the Rio Grande Oil Company, as chairman. Arthur Wallace of the Western Gulf Oil Company and Glen Robertson of the Cities Service Company will assist in carrying out an entertaining program that will hold oil officials to pass the time pleasantly en route to Chicago.

According to preliminary plans, the special train will leave at 10 a.m. Thursday, making its first stop Friday at El Paso, birthplace of the Rio Grande Oil Company. There the California representatives will be the guests of Rio Grande all day. Charles S. Jones, vice-president and treasurer of the company, will be official host. The day will wind up with a trip to Juarez. The special train leaves El Paso at 6:30 p.m. Friday and is scheduled to arrive in Chicago Sunday. So far forty reservations have been made, and at least seventy-five are expected to register with the wildcat committee.

Activity Gains in California Gold Sections

A general revival of gold mining is reported from numerous points in Butte, Nevada, Sierra, Plumas, Amador, Placer, Calaveras, El Dorado, Tuolumne, Mariposa, Shasta and other counties. Lower costs of machinery, supplies and labor are stimulating activities, and more capital is reported available for prospecting and developments than at any time in twenty years.

More than 100 old properties and prospects have been reopened in the Mother Lode counties and adjacent districts in the past nine months, according to records compiled by local mining men.

Development of a vein of $34 ore at a depth of 160 feet in the Diamond Mountain district, near Milford in Lassen county, is reported by Susanville owners. The claims adjoin the mines of the Honey Lake Mining Company, and the ore body is said to range from five to eight feet in width. A small mill has been installed.

GOLD FIND BOON TO OATMAN

OATMAN (Ariz.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Secure in renewed production of a metal that knows no decline in value, Oatman is prospering to an extent not known for years past. Most of the prosperity is due to the discovery of gold lodes of high value in a relatively new section of the camp, though on ground owned by Tom Reed, which has been a tremendous producer from a section distant from its present activities. The discovery has stimulated interest in near-by mines and has caused a veritable revival of the old-time boom conditions.

The Tom Reed management is not pressing toward greater production, its output now running about 9100,000 a month, but has its development extended to a point that will permit ready expansion of the mill's present ore intake. Stoping mainly is from the 950-foot level, from the winze downward from the 800-foot level extended to the 1100-foot level on the ore. The company still has 400 feet of ore between its 1100-foot level workings and the end line of the United American, with high values in the drift heading.

The Siders lease on Tom Reed's Ben Harrison claim is shipping to the mill from a sixteen-foot ore body and is reported to be making good profit. Below the Siders is the Eyster lease, which is producing from the same ledge, with a second shift of miners recently put at work.

United American is stoping from above its 1000 level, the upraise now up about sixty feet. The workings are dry, water being drained by the Tom Reed pumps.

Big Jim has its shaft about to the 900-foot level and will clear the workings at that depth to reach a body of good ore that was being worked at the time of the shaft fire. Operating leases are to be given a number of local miners.

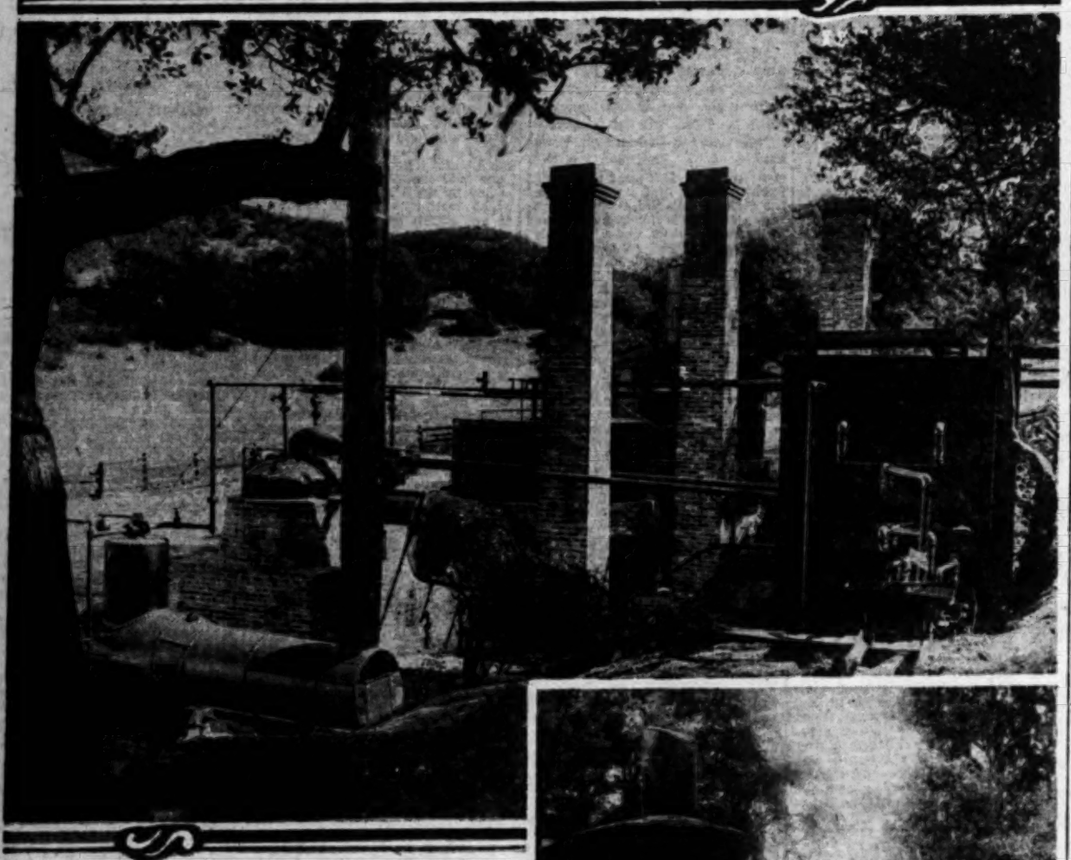
PIONEER OIL REFINERY BECOMES REAL LANDMARK

Standard Oil Company Restores Ancient Plant Near Newhall



Where Tablet Will Be Unveiled Wednesday

Above—Newhall oil refinery as it appears since Standard had it restored to semblance of its former appearance. Below, the crumbling ruins of the pioneer plant, as they looked for many years, before sentiment was mixed with business.

THOSE who may have doubted that there is sentiment in the oil business should drive out to Newhall, Wednesday at 2 p.m., and attend the dedication of the old Newhall oil refinery—first of its kind in the State—as a permanent landmark.

At considerable expense the old plant where California refined her first crude oil into kerosene and benzine, has been restored from a crumbling heap to an exact reproduction of its appearance in the early days, by the Standard Oil Company of California.

The feature of the dedication will be the unveiling of a bronze tablet marking the plant as a memorial to the late D. G. Scofield and his associates of the California Star Oil Works, predecessors of the Standard Oil Company of California, of which company Mr. Scofield later became president. The tablet will be unveiled by Mrs. Rosamond B. Watson, granddaughter of Mr. Scofield.

L. B. Little, general superintendent of the producing department of Standard, will be master of ceremonies and other speakers will be County Supervisor Sidney T. Graves, H. C. Hanna, refinery executive, and Walton Young, who for forty years was active in the Newhall oil field. The public will be welcome.

Newhall is the cradle of California's great oil industry. The first commercial oil production in the State was developed in Pico Canyon, a few miles west of Newhall, in 1875. Soon afterward the old Newhall refinery was built and a two-inch cast-iron pipeline was laid to carry the oil by gravity to the refinery. This was the first oil pipe line in the State.

The Newhall refinery had a charging capacity of about 300 barrels of crude, compared to the present capacity of Standard's El Segundo refinery of 100,000 barrels a day.

The chief product of the old plant was kerosene, as that was before the day of the automobile. A little benzine was made, and a lower-grade product called "slop oil," as well as a small amount of lubricating oil.

After a few years the Newhall refinery was abandoned in favor of more up-to-date refineries. Its restoration by Standard will provide another historic landmark to interest travelers.

Rig-up for New Maricopa Hole

MARICOPA, Nov. 2. (Exclusive) Rigging up has been completed by General Petroleum Corporation for its Orloff No. 1 project on Sec. 26, 11-24, at Maricopa Flat. The Orloff project is in a district where General completed a ten-barrel well some time ago.

On Sec. 25, 12-24, General's Moco No. 318 is drilling beyond 3400 feet in the brown-shale formation.

RUSTLESS PIPE

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—E. L. Chappell of the National Tube Company reports to the American Chemical Society that cement linings are particularly effective against waters which tend to rust pipes.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analyses will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Not Feldspar

BISBEE (Ariz.) Oct. 15.—Question: Please classify the sample. Is it a variety of feldspar? Locality not far from Bisbee. Mrs H.

Answer: It is a white radiated variety of hornblende known as tremolite and it represents a variety sought for by universities, mineral collectors and dealers, for use as specimens.

Organic Matter

AJO (Ariz.) Oct. 15.—Q.: Herewith I am sending sample of "bat guano." I would appreciate an analysis and other information regarding the product. There are many large deposits of this guano near this vicinity. X.

A.: The sample is probably a brownish, bat guano, and is on the order of that found in Texas. It is formed by the droppings of multitudinous birds in secluded places where they have been undisturbed for ages." Where but little rain falls this variety of guano is usually of better grade than that found where water has leached out quite a percentage of calcium phosphate. The sample you submit for analysis contains calcium phosphate in fairly good percentage, and Dana refers to the material as—consisting of calcium phosphate along with more or less of hydrous phosphates and some impurities. More or less hydrous calcium nitrate was found in analyzing the specimen which probably indicates that it occurs in a cavern. Further on such material must be obtained by quantitative analyses.

"Iron Alum"

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) Oct. 16.—Q.: Will you please classify the sample? X.

A.: The specimen is stained with manganese; it contains no silver, and it is altered rock, chiefly, iron sulphate, with slight zinc reaction.

Two Samples

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—Q.: Herewith two samples from the Sierra Madre range near Mt. Baldy. Is the nearly black element in No. 1 of zinc, or what is it? J.

A.: Sample No. 1 is simply garnet rock. No. 2 is quartzitic rock and reacts for a little copper, nickel absent.

Epidote

POMONA, Oct. 17.—Q.: I would like to know what the sample I am sending you is, and what is the green and pink particles? Occurs in Mojave district. M. D.

A.: The greenish matter in the sample is composed of massive and crystallized epidote. The pink crystals are tourmaline. Both of problematical commercial value, and not of gem material.

Zinc Traces

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Q.: Kindly test the inclosed samples for lead and zinc and classify the specimens for me. All from Kern county, Cal. M.

A.: The samples are Dolomite, impure with iron oxides, and of problematical commercial value.

"Cat Gold"

VISTA, Oct. 19. — Q.: Am inclosing a sample of gravel that has a lot of color to it. Will you please tell me if the colors are gold. Samples from near bedrock in San Diego county. H.

A.: The sample is chiefly gneiss (soft granite of the mining boys in the hills.) It carries no native gold, and the gold-like coloring matter is simply mica—known as cat gold.

Pyrite

INDEPENDENCE, Oct. 17.—Q.: Please test the sample for different minerals, and oblige. I am a subscriber to The Times. J.

A.: The crystallized, and altered sample is pyrite (iron disulphide.) Iron sulphate is also present.

Not Radioactive

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—Q.: Will you, through In the Earth column of The Times, please tell me what the inclosed samples contain? They are from Wilhelmina mining district, Or. MRS. C.

A.: Sample No. 1 is radiated natrolite, (radiolite) and carries, approximately 47 per cent silica, alumina 26 per cent, and soda, 16 per cent. This analysis applies only to the concentric and radiated white substance in the sample and not to the impurities of iron, and other black matter in the samples. If you can find more of the natrolite at the locality of purer grade there will be no trouble to market it. No. 2 is a mixture, carrying low-grade banded chalcedony, (quartz) in part, with another variety of chalcedony known as "Tiger Eye"—used in the manufacture of gemstones, but the grade is rather low in commercial value. No. 4 is not radioactive, it is an altered mineral, probably from sulphide ore and carbonates. It reacts for siderite (iron carbonate) limonate (hydrous iron peroxide,) lead in low percentage, and should be quantitively analyzed. No. 5—marked No. 2 also—is limonite.

Two Samples

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 20.—Q.: As per your request I am sending you a duplicate sample of my No. 5 rock. I am also forwarding a sample of a white rock marked "X" and which I think may be silica. I am very anxious to have your classification of "X" rock published through the In the Earth Department of The Times. W. A.

A.: No. 5 duplicate is crystallized massive dolomite, and the X specimen is sugar dolomite with slight iron content and silica present.

Baryte

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 21.—Q.: Please classify the sample. Is it commercial quartz? C.

A.: The sample is a very good grade of barium sulphate, carrying a slight percentage of iron. It has many uses, and similar mineral should find a ready sale for paint mixtures, and for the manufacture of barium carbonate.

A Mixture

ECHO PARK Oct. 22.—Q.: Please test the sample for gold. It comes from near Echo Park. B.

A.: It is a mixture of micaceous iron, some yellow mica, magnetite, iron sulphate, traces of microscopic pyrite, and no free gold.

GERMAN-SWEDEN PHONE CABLE LAID

NEVADA MINING PROJECT ACTIVE

RENO (Nev.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive) Production of glass sand and mercury has begun from the properties of the Balfour-Guthrie Investment Company at Steamboat Springs, about twelve miles south of Reno. The company is shipping 500 tons of glass sand weekly to California markets, and plans to later operate its plant at a capacity of 300 tons daily. Water has been piped three miles to supply the plant. Sufficient quicksilver is being produced to defray most of the operating costs.

The Interstate Mining and Development Company is bringing electric power to its Mayday gold-silver mine, near Como, preliminary to extensive underground work. The management states that impressive deposits of commercial ore have been developed in other properties comprising the group, but that work will be centered on a search for extensions of rich shoots in the Mayday, which yielded high values near surface.

Low metal prices have closed most of the silver and copper mines in Nevada with exception of the large red-metal producers at Ely, and a few silver properties noted for their rich ore. Interest is largely restricted to the gold camps of Manhattan, Gold Hill, McCoy, Seven Troughs and Jarbidge.

Promising gold finds have been reported in the past two weeks from the Horse Creek section of Lander county, and the Eastgate field, between Fallon and Ione. Scores of claims have been located in the latter area, but work has not advanced sufficiently to determine actual merits of the strike.

NEW OIL FIELD ON MEXICO MAP

MONTERREY (Mex.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive) — An official government statement issued here makes public the somewhat surprising news that nine producing oil wells have been brought in in the Aldamas district, State of Nuevo Leon, and that the largest of these producers is that of the petroleum department of the National Railways of Mexico, which gauged approximately 10,000 barrels daily initial flow. The remaining eight wells are owned by the Matches Oil Company, an American concern.

The Transcontinental Oil Company has started an active drilling campaign upon its lease of 1,000,000 acres, in a solid tract in the Aldamas district. It has awarded a contract for drilling twelve wells. The Empire Gas and Fuel Company is preparing to drill upon its leases in the same territory.

The fact that the producing wells are situated only twenty-five miles south of Roma, Tex., a Rio Grande border town, which is only a few miles south of production in Starr and Zapata counties of the Laredo district, makes the new discoveries of much more than ordinary importance to the oil industry.

The wells in the Aldamas district are on the same structure as those on the Texas side of the Rio Grande. Oil formation was encountered at approximately 2280 feet.

GOLD PROPERTY IN NEW CONTROL

Allison Claims Taken Over by El Oro Mining

Plans for Active Operations Already on Way

Old Officers Re-elected by Central Copper

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—A group of eighteen gold claims, heretofore operated by the Allison Mining Company, has been acquired by El Oro Mining and Milling Company, a Los Angeles and Phoenix corporation.

The property lies seventy-five miles southwest of Tucson on the western side of the Baboquivari Mountains. A twenty-stamp mill is being moved on the ground and roads are being built, the work under charge of George L. Dillard. F. C. Hurlbert of Beverly Hills is president and George Pearson, Jr., of Los Angeles secretary.

N. A. Brown of San Diego is installing a mill on property in the Baboquivari Mountains recently leased by him from the Cresswell Gold Mining Company.

At a recent meeting of the Central Copper Comapny at Dos Cabezas was re-election of the old officers, headed by T. N. McCauley of this city. John W. Prout, Jr., was retained as manager. The company is inactive at the present time. Mr McCauley is president of Tucson's largest bank and also is at the head of a company that has built the city's largest business structure.

Strong denial has come of a report that the proposed gas line from El Paso to Douglas will not be built. It is stated that work is proceeding on plans to bring gas from New Mexico wells to the border city, but that there has been temporary postponement of the project for a similar connection with Globe and Miami.

The Western Gas Company is reported to have entered into a fifteen-year contract to supply gas at Douglas to the Phelps Dodge Corporation and Calumet and Arizona Mining Company, as well as to the Arizona Edison Company, which distributes to the city. Possibility exists for extension of the supply mains to Tucson and Phoenix.

GOLD PROPERTY PUSHING AHEAD

Idaho-Maryland Company to Boost Production

Plans Reported Completed for New Activity

News of Other Grass Valley Estates Given

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—The Idaho-Maryland Company states that plans for increased production have been completed, and that more stamps will soon be placed in commission. The company operates the historic Idaho-Maryland group of gold properties at Grass Valley, and also controls the Brunswick mine and adjacent claims. It is understood that the old Brunswick mill is to be reconditioned and placed in service. The management reports that the raise from the 1000-foot level has advanced 550 feet on the Dorsey ledge, with high-grade showing in new areas.

Development of a three-foot ledge in the holdings of the Sunrise Mining and Development Company, three miles south of Grass Valley, has been confirmed by Charles De White, president of the corporation. The strike was made at the bottom of a 435-foot shaft, and the vein is said to show wide streaks of specimen ore. The management states that a powerful electric hoisting plant is to be installed shortly, and deep mining conducted.

The Tomahawk gold property, in the Gold Lake section of Plumas county, has been acquired by George Richardson, veteran Nevada operator, who plans installation of a fifteen-ton mill. A ledge of $20 ore ranging from eighteen to forty inches wide is said to have been developed by a 300-foot tunnel. The ore is free-milling.

The Aladdin Gold Mines Company has exposed rich gravel in a raise from the main cross-cut, driven from the lower tunnel of its property near Magalia, according to Supt. C. E. Collins. The gravel is of cemented character, and it will be necessary to install a crushing plant to recover the gold. The cross-cut is to be extended into the bed of the channel, thought to contain free gold.

Fruitvale Test Drilling Ahead

FRUITVALE, Nov. 2 (Exclusive) Forney No. 1, L. C. Osborn's driller on Sec. 21, 29-27, at Fruitvale, is drilling ahead through the hard-shale formation at 3384 feet today. Mr. Osborn expects to pick up the formation at the area's usual production depth—near 4100 feet.

The Standard Oil Company's second project in the Fruitvale region—KCL No. 5-4, is down near 6000 feet and in the sand-and-shale formation.

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT NATURAL GAS

Article 5—The Investment

Because the natural gas industry possesses unusual investment opportunities, it does not follow that the securities should be purchased without scrutiny. The characteristics of different companies vary greatly and the investor should carefully consider the company in which he is interested. Following are six important points which should be investigated.

1. Source of Supply—This has an important bearing on the price the company pays for its gas. In older fields, for example the Appalachian, costs of production are high and pipe line companies pay from 15 to 30 cents a thousand cubic feet. Companies obtaining gas from the newer fields pay in the neighborhood of five cents a thousand.

2. Growth Possibilities—A company supplying a rapidly growing section of the country is in a stronger position than one supplying a section which is not as favorably situated. The number of potential domestic customers and the opportunities for new industrial business are additional significant factors affecting a company's growth.

3. Diversification—Nearly every natural gas company furnishes large amounts for industrial use. However, the backbone of the gas business is the domestic demand, which is the most profitable and stable and which does not fall off with industrial requirements in times of business recession. Accordingly, the strongly fortified company is one whose revenues are well diversified between industrial and domestic sources.

4. Contracts with Customers—A company with exclusive contracts with customers for their entire gas requirements has an advantage over one whose contracts are not exclusive. A company in the latter class, furnishing industrial customers and distributing companies, would be seriously embarrassed if the customers decided to buy their gas elsewhere.

5. Production Activities—It is important to differentiate between a company engaged in production and one engaged in transmission and distribution. The first has all the risks inherent in the business of producing gas, whereas the second is free from such risks and possesses the stability and safety of public utilities in general. Furthermore, a transmission and distribution company has relatively less investment, lower depreciation expense and no depletion charges.

6. Financial Set-up—The financial structure should be studied. In this connection the relation between mortgage bonds and property value is important. A number of gas companies have been financed almost entirely by bonds and the amount of the mortgage is often as much as the cost of the property

* * * *

Southern Natural Gas Corporation occupies a favorable position in respect of the foregoing. 1 • The Company obtains its gas from the Louisiana fields at low cost. 2 • It has for its almost exclusive market the rapidly growing states of Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi. 3 • It furnishes gas for 80,000 homes, also industrial requirements estimated at 50,000,000 cubic feet a day. 4 • It has exclusive contracts with distributing companies and large industrial plants, to furnish the total requirements of each. 5 • The company is not engaged in production; its entire investment is in transmission plant and equipment. 6 • The system represents an investment of about $45,000,000. Half is in first mortgage bonds, a fourth in debentures and a fourth in stock.

NOTED TONOPAH MINE REVIVING

Leasers on Mizpah Hill Open Up Rich Ledge

Strike Made in Front Yard of Lessor's Office

Ore Body Believe Offshoot of Famous Vein

TONOPAH (Nev.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—The richest ore shipped from Tonopah since the early days of the camp is going out from leases on Mizpah Hill. High-grade has been developed in the past two weeks in new territory on the historic elevation, with one of the best strikes made on surface by McCarthy and Mayette, two experienced engineers. Operating under a prospecting permit from the Tonopah Mining Company, they have uncovered a ledge ten feet wide, less than a quarter-mile from the postoffice and within 100 feet of the main office of the company.

The ore body is believed to be a segment of the famed Mizpah vein and sampled $30 per ton, with the gold content considerably higher than found in most Tonopah ores. Approximately thirty-five leases are now active in the Mizpah mine and 100 tons of ore are going daily to the Millers plant of the Tonopah Mining Company. On the southern slope of Mt. Oddie the Moseley-Rikalo lease has uncovered a shoot of shipping ore about twelve inches wide. The ground is crossed by the trail leading to the Mizpah shaft and the rich ore has been trampled by thousands of miners and prospectors in the thirty years since Tonopah was found.

Production of the Gold Hill Development Company is averaging around $35,000 a month, with 5000 tons of ore broken in the stopes above the 225-foot level. The management states the ore body on the 225-foot level has been demonstrated for 1000 feet, with four raises all the way in ore from the 400-foot level. Good ore is reported showing in the floor of the 400-foot workings, indicating the veins persist to greater depth. The property is located in the Gold Hill district, about five miles north of Round Mountain.

Eight Thousand Drivers Arrested on Highways in September

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 2. (AP)—Compilations made by Victor Killick, statistician of the State Division of Motor Vehicles, show that during last September 347 officers of the California Highway Patrol traveled 598,745 miles in line of duty, stopped 20,344 motorists, arrested 8040 and the courts imposed fines aggregating $20,138.85 for traffic violations.

Killick said 10,173 vehicles were stopped because they carried faulty head and tail lights and 5408 arrests were made for this reason.

The bureau of drivers' licenses examined 4539 applicants for drivers' or chauffeurs' licenses and fifty-two persons were rejected.

Fifteen traffic officers on the Alameda county squad stopped 1368 persons and arrested 414; twelve officers in San Joaquin county stopped 1717 and arrested 607; the Kern county squad of fifteen officers arrested 421 and released 325 with warning; six officers on the Santa Barbara squad stopped 1201 vehicles and made 474 arrests; seven officers of the Sonoma county squad made 1318 stops and 142 arrests during the month.

TELEVISION UNDERGOES HARD TESTS

Engineers Seek System Which Will Show Details More Clearly

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—Problems of television transmission, and there are many of them, are being tackled in earnest by the National Broadcasting Company.

It was learned tests now under way in the heart of the Broadway theatrical district are dealing solely with attempts to learn just what is to be expected in sight sending.

Engineers, in discussing what has been accomplished so far, feel that the present television system is not the ultimate method that will give the service they hope to produce.

They are of the opinion television, to be satisfactory, must show much more detail than now obtainable, including full scenes of plays and the like.

They also stress the statement the advent of television will not make the sound receiver obsolete, because radio pictures can be received only with a separate and distinct receiver, due to the fact two stations are required to transmit synchronized radio sight and sound.

IOWANS INVADE LATIN AMERICA

Two Brothers Capitalists in Colombia

Vast Enterprises Run by Sons of Middle West

Square Dealings Win Them Respect of Natives

BOGOTA, Nov. 2. (AP)—Two Iowa farm boys, whose only original capital was training and ambition, have pushed the American frontier 3000 miles south to establish themselves as economic leaders of Colombia.

They are K. C. and Robert H. Parrish, born in the little town of Leon, Iowa. Their enterprises in this republic have made them powerful financial figures. But with their success they have retained the friendship and respect of a people which admires them for honest dealing.

K. C. Parrish is 52 years of age, Robert is 36. The elder attended Parsons College and received the degree of mining engineer in 1901 from the Colorado School of Mines. For three years he prospected for mines in Colorado, California, Arizona, New Mexico and in Mexico. In 1904 he came exploring in Colombia, located three gold mines in the department of Antioquia and decided to stay.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Earl's, Eighth, between Broadway and Hope—"Animal Crackers." The four Marx Brothers in a delightful burst of nonsense.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Up the River." A funny satire on prison life with a fine cast headed by Spencer Tracy.

California, Main and Eighth—"Mr. Wu." A very good version of an old success with the Spanish artist, Ernesto Vilches.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Just Imagine." A fantasy and simply swell. Hits and misses of O'Sullivan.

Chinese, 6926 Hollywood—"The Big Trail." Spectacular in setting and photography, this production demonstrates the progress of Grauman's Fox Film.

Colonial, 642 South Grand—"Billy the Kid." An exciting series of escapes interlarded by the large Hon. John Mack Brown.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"The Last of the Duanes." The popular Zane Grey story with George O'Brien.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Let's Go Native."

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"Because I Love You." A German musicale which means lots and lots of music.

Fox, Fine at Normandie—"For the Defense." As the portrait of a criminal lawyer given by Walter Pidgeon.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Let's Go Native." Not too good, but Charlie Rae's okay.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"So This is London." Will Rogers and his wit are always good.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"The Virtuous Sin." The eternal triangle becomes a puzzling combination of good and bad. Kay Francis.

Rita, Wilshire at La Brea—"Monte Cristo." Delightful satire and fine comedy from Jack Buchanan and Jeanette MacDonald.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Big Money." Good, light entertainment from that boy-comedian, Eddie Quillan.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Check and Double Check." Amos and Andy bring their talk to the screen in an efficient and humorous vehicle.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Reno." Trash. With Ruth Roland.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"The Sea Wolf." A somber and grim tale of the sea, featuring the late Milton Sills.

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth—"Du Barry, Woman of Passion." Norma Talmadge in a rather quiet portrait of a spectacular favorite.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Life of the Party."

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"The Life of the Party." A lot of merriment in popular order and Winnie Lightner.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"Young Sinners." More of youth; wild goings, which should prove popular. John Darrow.

Biltmore, 5th near Grand—"New Moon." Romberg's lovely music and this story of adventure pervade this operetta which presents Perry Askam.

El Capitan, Hollywd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood strides onto the stage, and the play matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Mister Antonio." The favorite Leo Carrillo returns in an ancient vehicle that creaks.

Mason—Broadway near 1st—"Women Who Take." A dramatic conflict of marital conditions in which Irene Rich bequits herself creditably.

Music Box, Hollywood Blvd., nr. Gower—"The Apple Cart." Opens tonight.

Vine St., Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"My Girl, Friday." A fast and funny farce about the business men at play. With John T. Murray.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

Seaman Shot by Accident When Aboard Vessel

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 2.—Tony Coe, seaman aboard the Cleveland, was dropped at port here this morning suffering from a gunshot wound in the knee, accidentally inflicted. According to the report given police, Coe was shot by another seaman, John Vivovich, when the latter picked up a shotgun to fire at a flock of geese seen at sea.

The geese were sighted about forty miles off Santa Barbara. Vivovich grabbed a shotgun from a gunrack in a cabin and started out the door. The gun was accidentally discharged, the shot entering Coe's right leg. He was taken to the Cottage Hospital.

Chamber Gives to School for Adult Pupils

TULARE, Nov. 2.—Directors of the Chamber of Commerce recently voted to donate $100 toward expenses of the approaching adult week-end school, which will be conducted in Tulare this winter. They also decided to give A. J. Elliott, local sportsman, and his associates, an option to buy the electric dog-racing track at the Tulare County Fairgrounds. The track is to remain at the fair grounds. The price was not announced.

Accident "Dead Beats" Costly to Hospitals

TRENTON (N. J.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Motor accident "dead beats" are estimated to have cost the country's hospitals between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 last year.

The estimate is made by Dr. Emil Frankel, director of research of the New Jersey department of institutions and agencies, on the basis of total hospital bills of more than $15,000,000 run up by victims of highway accidents.

In the light of views from fifty New Jersey hospital administrators, it was recommended that there be compulsory automobile insurance with liability insurance under State control and each license to carry with it a liability policy.

Seattle School Crossings Safe

SEATTLE, Nov. 2. (AP)—One minor accident at school crossings in two years is the record claimed by 1200 elementary schoolboys of the junior safety patrol here.

The boys are equipped with belts and stop signs, and may stop any motorist who disregards their warning signals. If the motorist refuses, the boys get the car's license number and the police department helps to catch the offender.

The single accident here occurred soon after the system was inaugurated.

MONTERREY WINTER TO BE MILD, WET

MONTERREY (Mex.) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Tourist interests in Monterrey breathed a sigh of relief when the Monterrey weather observatory at the Colegio Civil here announced that the coming winter would be a mild one. They have not forgotten the unseasonal temperatures recorded here last winter.

This winter will be a wet one, however, the Monterrey weather men added. The customary short rainy season that usually comes in September or October was prolonged about a week this fall.

HYGIENE EXPOSITION PROVES SUCCESSFUL

DRESDEN, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—The great International Hygiene Exposition here, which has just ended, was visited by more than 3,000,000 persons despite unfavorable weather. The exposition will be repeated next year, and most of the exhibitors will again be represented. America in particular has already promised to participate again. A new feature of next year's exposition be exhibits dealing with Catholic missionary work in backward lands.

TOBACCO GROWN MINUS NICOTINE

KARLSRUHE, Nov. 2. (Exclusive) The tobacco research institute in Forckheim, near Karlsruhe, which possesses some 150,000 tobacco plants from all parts of the world, makes public the results of 4000 experiments. It has been demonstrated that by special fertilizing, the use of certain chemicals and other special treatment, the nicotine content of tobacco can be increased to as much as 12 per cent, and that by close planting and exactly regulated watering, tobacco free from nicotine can be grown. The experiments are being continued.

ANCIENT POLLEN FOUND

NORFOLK (Va.) Nov. 2. (AP)—Pollen preserved in peat in the Dismal Swamp south of here has given scientists the key to the vegetational history of the region in the early geological era when that area first became suited for the growth of land plants.

Colombian Chief Executive Tries Hoover System

BOGOTA (Columbia) Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—President Enrique Olaya Herrera, who during his eight years in Washington as Colombia's envoy acquired a first-hand knowledge of American methods of government, is directing his country today very much along the same lines.

One of his first acts on becoming President was to establish permanent contact with the press. President Herrera receives newspaper men at the Palace twice a week on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

As in the case of the White House weekly conferences with the press, the Colombian scribes submit a list of questions beforehand to the President, which the latter sometimes answers and sometimes does not.

The rule in force in Washington where correspondents are not permitted to argue with the President also holds good in Bogota. But Dr. Herrera is a very democratic and approachable man, and is always ready to discuss matters of national importance with his newspaper interviewers.

CHINA PLANS FACTORY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—A Shanghai despatch to the newspaper Young China forecasts the erection in Shanghai of a factory costing $25,000,000 if governmental sanction can be obtained but the nature of plant is not disclosed.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROF. R. GUERRERO
Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

g) Queda dicho, sigue haciendo notar el señor Cuervo, que es más común juntar inmediatamente "cuál" con el sustantivo en verso que en prosa; en ésta se introduce ordinariamente el verbo "ser" para evitar aquella construcción. Así, en lugar de "No puedo atinar cuál inconveniente impidió su viaje", se dice "No puedo atinar cuál fue el inconveniente que impidió su viaje". También se usa "qué": "No puedo atinar qué inconveniente impidió su viaje". "Al mismo tiempo determinará la junta cuáles son los estudios a que los jóvenes no deben ser admitidos, sin que antes acrediten por un riguroso examen, no sólo haber estudiado la latinidad . . ." (Jovellanos, "Plan de instrucción pública", R, 46, 271.1); "Casados estos ciudadanos con una mujer pobre y necesitada como ellos, ¿cuál es el partido que deberán tomar?" (Id., "Discurso sobre montepío para nobles", R, 50, 18.2); "Examinará primero la Sociedad cuáles son los estorbos que nuestra actual legislación opone a los progresos de la agricultura; luego cuáles son los que oponen nuestras actuales opiniones; y al fin, cuáles son los que provienen de la naturaleza de nuestro suelo" (Id., "Ley agraria, preámbulo", R, 50, 83.1); "Con sólo reflexionar cuáles eran los elementos de que se componía la asamblea legislativa y la situación en que se hallaba, es fácil concebir los obstáculos que había de hallar en su carrera" (M. de la Rosa, "Esp. del siglo", 4, 4; 5, 238); "¡Arboles prodigiosos! Cuál la mente — Que así os quiso agrupar? Cuál fue la mano — Que así os plantó?" (Quint., "Poes. A Cienfuegos", R, 19, 30.2).

d) Cuando se trata de elección o preferencia se usa "cuál" en construcción directa con el sustantivo lo mismo en prosa que en verso: "Dio muy largas audiencias a los embajadores de Asia, que contendian entre sí sobre en cuál ciudad se había de edificar el templo a Tiberio y al senado" (Coloma, "Tac. An., 4, 55, 1, 231); "Le dije a Moratín que le indique lo case, entre los poetas clásicos, de cuál nación debía preferirlos" (Mor., "Vida de N. Mor.", R, 2, XV).

e) Sustantivase denotando persona: "Sepamos pues ahora cuál es el más loco, ¿el que lo es por no poder menos, o el que lo es por su voluntad?" (Cervantes, "Quijote", 2, 15, R, 1, 434.1); "¿De cuáles se condenan más, feas o hermosas? Feas, dijo al instante" (Quevedo, "Alguacil", R, 23, 306.2).

f) Sustantivado, admite un complemento partitivo: "¿Cuál de nosotros es el que se casa esta noche?" (Alemán, "Guzmán", 1, 2, 8, R, 3, 233.2); "Mas, ¿cuál fue de los dos más inhumano, — O tú, malvado amor, o tú, malvada?" (León, "Poes. 2., égl. 8", 4, 428); "¿Cuál hizo más de los dos?" (Lope, "El premio del bien hablar", 2, 10, R, 24, 501.2); "¿Cuál de los tres ha logrado Inspirar más interés?" (Bretón, "Marcela", 2, 1, 1, 250); "¿A cuál de los tres, elijes?" ¿A cuál de los tres escogés?" (Id., "ib.", 3, 11, 1, 264); "¿Cuál habrá tan ilustre entre las flores, — Hermosa flor que competir presuma — Con tu fragante espíritu y colores?" (Rioja, "alisa 4", R, 32, 382.1).

g) Sustantivase significando cosa para proponer una elección o disyunción:

Chimneys Tell Speed of Wind

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—When the wind whistles in the telegraph wires it's blowing more than twenty-five miles an hour.

And when chimney pots begin to fall, the velocity has exceeded forty-six miles an hour and it's a gale.

This "rule of thumb" system will enable anyone, says the Weather Bureau, to make a fairly accurate estimate of wind velocity.

When the wind blows less than one mile an hour, the bureau says, smoke rises vertically, and it drifts in a wind of from one to three miles an hour.

Balboa Several Centuries Late

HONOLULU, Nov. 2. (AP)—Who discovered the Pacific Ocean? Nations of the Pan-Pacific Union still are arguing about it.

Western historians say it was Balboa. The Hawaiian delegate recently told a luncheon audience that Hawaiians, arriving in canoes from New Zealand, preceded Balboa by many years.

A Japanese representative said his countrymen sailed the ocean centuries before either.

MOTOR CRASHES FATAL TO FOUR

Twelve Others Injured in Traffic Accidents

Child Crushed to Death on Long Beach Pier

Several Arrested Because of Road Mishaps

Three men and a baby boy were killed and seventeen other persons were injured, some of them seriously, in traffic accidents in and near the city yesterday.

The victims were Homer I. Elbon, 2 years of age, 1043 West Thirty-sixth Place; Dr. P. O. Berket, 57, retired dentist, 2758 Forester avenue, Mar Vista, Albert Oliveria, 31, 1038½ East Third street; and Orville Alston, 3, 9537 Bandera street, Watts.

Elbon lost his life in a terrific collision at Third street and Highland avenue. He and his wife and son, James Gena, 1467 West Thirty-fifth street, were passengers in a car driven by the latter's husband when it crashed with another automobile operated by M. J. Klein, 101 North Ogden Drive. Gena suffered a broken right arm, but his wife and Mrs. Elbon escaped with slight injuries.

MAID LACERATED

In the car with Klein were his wife and a maid, Eriki Wagner, 19. She received severe lacerations. The others were unhurt. All the injured are at Hollywood Emergency Hospital.

The collision that cost the life of Dr. Berket occurred on the Roosevelt highway near Malibu Inn. According to a Sheriff's office report, Dr. Berket was driving south, closely followed another car driven by Miss Ruth Carpenter, 21, 413 East Sixty-sixth street. When the speed of Miss Carpenter's machine was reduced by sideswiping a third car driven by Miss Mildred Wagner, 21 South Arden Boulevard, Dr. Berket's automobile rammed the rear end. Dr. Berket died in Santa Monica Hospital shortly after the crash. Neither Miss Carpenter nor Miss Wagner was hurt.

Gerwin was injured fatally in a collision at Long Beach and Century boulevards. He was riding with Edward H. Rico, 2527 Whittier Boulevard, when the car crashed into a machine operated by E. G. Keeley, 1102 West Fifty-second street. He died at Compton Emergency Hospital. Rico and Keeley, both of whom escaped uninjured, were booked by deputy sheriffs on suspicion of manslaughter, pending further investigation of the accident. Gerwin is said to be an official of the Armour Packing Company.

CHILD CRUSHED TO DEATH

The Alston child was sitting on a concrete pile of the Pine-avenue pier in Long Beach when a car driven by Guy Rolph, 48, of 840 Temple avenue, Long Beach, backed into him and crushed him to death against the pile. Rolph had no permit to drive his automobile onto the pier and the police are holding him while they are continuing their investigation into the accident. The child's body was taken to the mortuary of Holton & Sons in Long Beach, where an inquest will be conducted this afternoon.

In another spectacular accident involving three automobiles, at Sixth and Maple streets, two men and a boy were hurt. According to the police report, Morris Finkle, 3858 Gladiolus avenue, was driving south on Maple street at a high rate of speed. At Sixth street his car crashed into a car driven by James E. Wee, 389 South Mansfield avenue, then careened into a third machine driven by Thomas Donde, 2239 Alamitos avenue, Long Beach. Wee was treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for severe cuts received by flying glass, Thomas Donde, Jr., 15, for concussion, and Thomas Donde, a passenger in Finkle's car, for bruises. Finkle was not hurt.

PEDESTRIAN STRUCK

Mrs. Lena Haefeli, 50, 1327 Griffith Place, suffered a serious skull concussion when struck by an automobile while she was crossing Broadway at Fifth street. Witnesses told police she had disregarded a stop signal. The car, according to the police report, was driven by R. Fuller, 1761 East Glen Oaks avenue. He was not held.

Driven against the windshield of Fuller's automobile when it crashed into a tree traveling at forty miles an hour, Mrs. Helen Hamburg, 32, of 7336 Canby avenue, Reseda, Cal., received a possible skull fracture. Her husband, H. Hamburg, suffered a fractured arm. The accident occurred on Beverly Glen Boulevard about one mile south.

CRAWFORD'S LATEST GIFT ANNOUNCED

Pastor Briegleb's Church to Get $25,000 Toward New Parish Hall Cost

CHARLES H. CRAWFORD

Announcement of a gift of $25,000 toward the cost of building a parish hall for St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, by Charles H. Crawford, Los Angeles politician, was made yesterday morning at the services by Dr. Gustav Briegleb, pastor of the church.

Dr. Briegleb revealed plans for a structure to cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 and which will be four stories in height and the complete revamping of the present church auditorium to conform with the architecture and plans of the new parish structure. The latter will occupy the space directly to the south of the church edifice and now occupied by the old parish hall.

A meeting of the United Board has been called for this evening at which time plans will be discussed for the new building. Crawford already has given $5000 toward the hall, according to Dr. Briegleb.

"Mr. Crawford has been deeply interested in the problem of the children and of the young folks of the community," Dr. Briegleb said. "We have more than 700 attending the Sunday-school and conditions are crowded. He attended the Bible class, which I teach and quietly called me over and told me he would give $25,000 toward this new hall in the name of his mother. Later I made the announcement public."

According to Pastor Briegleb the new structure will be modern in every respect and will have a gymnasium, private class-rooms, sewing rooms and a gathering place for the community.

Crawford, long a political figure in the city together with former State Corporation Commissioner Friedlander, J. H. Roth, former broker and others were indicted last summer on a charge of conspiring to give and receive bribes to influence the State Corporation Commissioner's office favorably toward the activities of Roth, bond broker. Later the indictments were dismissed.

Shortly after his indictment the conversion of Crawford was announced and a few weeks later he joined St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. At the time of his conversion he made a gift of a valuable diamond to the work of the church.

"I wish to call attention to the fact that Mr. Crawford refrained from making his gift until after his case in the Superior Court had been dismissed," said Dr. Briegleb in concluding his announcement of Crawford's latest benefaction.

TWO GROUPS WILL STUDY CITY NOISES

Mayor's Special Committee and Council Health Unit to Investigate Problem

City noises are due for considerable attention from the municipal government during the next two weeks, as a pair of meetings on the subject are scheduled.

Next Wednesday Mayor Porter's noise abatement committee, which includes several engineers, will conduct its organization meeting.

The following Wednesday the Health and Sanitation and the Public Welfare Committee of the City Council will hold a public hearing on a proposed ordinance, recently submitted by Councilman Williams.

Williams's ordinance, besides containing present laws against needless and excessive noises, carries several new provisions, which will be considered at that time.

OIL PERMIT GRANTED

An ordinance permitting Mary J. McNeil to drill for oil in the Venice field has been adopted by the City Council, while the City Planning Commission has recommended that permits be granted to C. A. Bell, F. M. Brauer, Jennie Donadue, Ida M. Polkinghorn, A. and E. M. Stanley, B. L. Smith and Rose Lieber.

SURVEY OF DAM SITES TO BEGIN

San Gabriel Study Will Get Under Way Today

Section Two Miles Below Forks First on List

Diamond Drilling Planned to Test Foundations

Preparations have been made to obtain active work today on the geological exploration survey in San Gabriel Canyon of sites for three new dams to take the place of the abandoned high-dam project at the Forks site, according to Chief Engineer Eaton of the flood-control district.

The first site to be surveyed is two miles below the Forks. The others are several miles above.

PERMIT RECEIVED

Eaton declared that a special use permit has been received from the United States government, giving the county the privilege of using the site for a 300-foot rock-fill, flexible concrete-face dam if the intensive geological survey shows that sufficient rock foundation exists.

It is expected that the work will be done by Cannon Brothers on a bid of approximately $20,000 for diamond drilling to obtain cores showing conditions beneath the surface. McGuire & Young will sink the exploration tunnels into the sides of the canyon on a low bid of $7000.

The cost is being paid out of money saved on various flood-control projects, during the last year, it is said in the county office.

FINANCING EXPLAINED

According to Eaton's plan, the three dams and a spreading ground can be constructed within the $21,000,000 left from the $25,000,000 bond issue voted for the high-dam project, providing the courts rule that the balance may be used.

The engineer also declared that the city of Pasadena has given its permission for the work, this municipality having some of the water rights in the canyon. Agreements also have been entered into with two groups of gold mines, both placer and quartz, affected by the dams.

PRESIDENT SPROUL TO GIVE TALK

University of California Head Speaks Tomorrow to Advertising Club

President Sproul of the University of California, will address the Advertising Club tomorrow noon at the Biltmore. Sproul, who is one of the world's youngest university heads, is expected to draw a record attendance with his address, the title of which is "What Education Offers the Business World."

In the audience are to be R. B. Von KleinSmid, president, University of Southern California; Ernest C. Moore, director, University of California at Los Angeles; R. Du Bois Bird, Occidental College; Walter F. Dexter, Whittier College; V. L. Duke, University of Redlands; Charles K. Edmunds, Pomona College, and others.

Howard S. McKay, sales manager, Foster & Kleiser, is chairman of the day, and Frank Partridge, Los Angeles business man and alumnus of University of California will be visiting host. The 200 members of the Golden Bear Society will be on hand, as well as the U.C.L.A. band. Dan Scott, president of the club has issued an invitation to all alumni of U.C.

NEWCOMERS HAVE SHARE OF WOE

Irish Poet's Family Robbed as Climax to Adventures

Mrs. Margaret Gibbons MacGill and Daughters

MARGARET GIBBONS MacGILL, wife of the Irish poet and novelist, Patrick MacGill, internationally known for the writings on his adventurous life, has been a resident of Los Angeles for some days, and now believes that she can write a few stories of adventure herself.

Mrs. MacGill traveled from London to New York. In New York they were received by Mayor Walker and, after a short stay there, Mr. MacGill left on a tour to fill lecture engagements. Mrs. MacGill continued on to Hollywood with their three children and governess.

It was almost on the day of their arrival, Mrs. MacGill said last night, that her adventures started here. First it was the search for a house suitable for three lively little girls and the second day of the occupancy of the house, all of Mrs. MacGill's jewels, valued at $5000 were stolen.

"I would like to know why the thief was moved to take my rings and things," she said, "but leave untouched several hundred dollars in currency lying beside them. However, I am not disheartened. I know I will love it here despite my unique welcome."

Mrs. MacGill's first venture as a writer was when she was 17 years of age. Not only did she publish her first book then, but she also conducted a weekly page of the London Daily Sketch. She has since written and published nearly a score of novels which include "Dancers in the Dark," "The Ukulele Girl," "Hidden Fires," "Her Dancing Partner," "Painted Butterflies" and "Bartered Bride."

THREE GO TO TRIAL TODAY IN ICE CASE

Promoters Face Charge of Grand Theft in Asserted Sale of "Majic" Stock

Carl Jaeger, Albert Lauritz and Willie Suester are scheduled to go to trial today in Superior Judge Crawford's court on seventeen charges of grand theft arising out of the promotion of the Majic Ice Refrigerators, Inc.

The indictment charges that Jaeger, Lauritz and Suester conspired together to sell stock in the corporation telling prospective investors that the concern had a contract with a large and reputable New York factory to build the refrigerators paying $100,000 in cash for the privilege. In addition to this, it is charged, the promoters also told investors that the manufacturer would pay $3 royalty for each refrigerator so produced.

Investigators assert that Jaeger's ice machine failed to stand up under tests and also that he had not consummated the contract with the New York manufacturer.

Among the principal investors and a complaining witness, is Adolph Bernheim, wealthy New York silk merchant, who told investigators that he gave Jaeger $32,500 to aid him in marketing his refrigerator.

The indictment accuses the three defendants of bilking investors of approximately $50,000. Seventeen counts of grand theft are enumerated.

Crabtree Cries "Hog" as Pigg Yells "Crab"

T. M. Crabtree, 437 West Fifteenth street, was hungry when he went into a cafe at 916 West Eighth street and found the stools filled. He waited, as did H. H. Pigg, 966 Magnolia street, who entered just after him.

When one of the diners left, Pigg was nearer and "hogged" the stool, so Crabtree told police and he seized Pigg's coat and, in an effort to haul him off the stool, ripped his coat from his back. Pigg's reply was a tabasco bottle which missed Crabtree and shattered the plate-glass window in the front of the cafe, whereupon the proprietor called the police.

In Municipal Judge Marchant's court later Crabtree pleaded not guilty to being drunk. He was released on $150 bail pending trial on the 13th inst.

More Oil Sought for Bridle Path

Approximately 600 horseback enthusiasts use the Griffith Park bridle paths daily, according to a communication received by the Park Commission from Councilman Martin, in which the latter urges the necessity of placing oil on the paths to lay dust, about which he is receiving complaints. Martin states that $2000 spent on the bridle trails will do wonders.

The request was referred to Supt. Shearer for investigation and report, as the paths were oiled a few months ago.

GIRL BABY CENTER OF LEGAL TILT

Mother Seeks to Regain Custody of Child Given to Foster Parents

The question of whether a mother's love is stronger than that of foster parents who have taken her child and reared it as their own, is to be decided today by Superior Judge Crawford, when Mrs. Marguerite Dunn through a writ of habeas corpus will seek to regain custody of her 10-month-old daughter Dolores, whom she permitted to be placed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Laird of Burbank, last January.

Mrs. Dunn charges that when she signed an agreement permitting the Lairds to take her baby as their own, she was ill, nervous and irresponsible. Now she asks that Judge Crawford set aside the former court order and order the child returned to her.

Mr. and Mrs. Laird appeared in Judge Crawford's court Friday ready to give their testimony, but the matter was deferred to permit their attorney to obtain additional witnesses.

Mrs. Dunn is represented by Attorney William Christensen.

Advertising Man Visitor in City

B. C. Duffey, an executive of Batton, Barton, Durston & Osborne of New York, a leading national advertising agency, arrived at the Ambassador yesterday with his wife in the course of a trip which he said was undertaken mainly for recreation and rest. He will remain here a week.

ELECTRIC LINE PLANS FOR SAFETY

Glendale Route Patrons Will Be Urged to Use Street Intersections

A campaign to get "jay-walking" patrons of its Glendale line to use intersections when leaving loading zones so that they will not be killed or injured has been agreed to by the Pacific Electric, following a conference with the Board of Utilities and Transportation of Los Angeles.

The matter was brought to the attention of the board by Traffic Chief Dorsey of the police department's engineering division, who stated that there have been a number of accidents on the line and that the railway should be ordered to erect a fence on each one of its passenger-loading zones on the Pacific Electric right of way from Glenhurst to the Southern Pacific tracks.

The company objected to such fences on the ground that there is but seven feet between the curb and the rail, that the fence would have to be placed one foot back of the curb to prevent being sideswiped by trucks overhanging the curb. The space left would be too narrow for passengers to stand in, it was stated.

The board's suggested alternative of posting signs for patrons to use only intersections when crossing the line after leaving cars was opposed by Dorsey as insufficient. The company contends, however that there are ordinances prohibiting the crossing of its right of way except at intersections.

Broker Accused of Tax Evasion

Accused of evading the income tax, Clarence C. Streeter, wealthy broker of Los Angeles, is slated to appear today before United States District Judge Hazel to face three counts to come up to be set for trial.

It is understood that Streeter has brought about a settlement with the government and that the charges may be dismissed.

BOULEVARD PROJECT PURCHASE REQUESTED

The Greater Jefferson-Exposition Improvement Association has asked the City Council to purchase a fifty-foot strip of land between Mansfield and Cochran avenues for the extension of Exposition Boulevard. The Council referred the matter to the Street Opening and Widening Committee.

MOUNTAIN FIRE UNDER CONTROL

Fighters Conquer Outbreak in Trancas Canyon

Blaze Swept 20,000 Acres in Los Angeles County

Walnut Pickers Believed to Have Started Flames

Conquest of the brush fire which has ravaged the Santa Monica Mountains unchecked for four days, was announced last night by officials of the County Fire Warden's office, who declared the fire will be fully under control by dawn today.

The turning point in the fight against the flames came yesterday afternoon when the fire suddenly flared at the head of Trancas Canyon and for an hour leaped beyond control of the fighters. A force of 200 men with a tank wagon under the direction of County Fire Warden Spence Turner and State Warden Grove, succeeded in curbing the spread of the fire. The blaze yesterday spreading through Trancas Canyon, burned over the Vaughn ranch, but did not destroy any buildings.

FORCE OF 1100 MEN

A total of 1100 men were engaged in the battle against the fire yesterday and most of these were to continue working through the night. No new casualties, other than minor burns were reported. State Warden Grove was still suffering from burned feet as he continued his duties in the direction of the fight against the fire.

An estimate of damage prepared by the fire warden's office yesterday indicated that the blaze had covered 20,000 acres in Los Angeles county with a considerably larger area in Ventura county. The damage to buildings was slight and the only report of such damage in Los Angeles county was the burning of a caretaker's house. At various times during the course of the blaze, the flames were reported near resorts and summer houses, but all of those in Los Angeles county in the path of the fire escaped.

NUT PICKERS BLAMED

Although an investigation of the causes of the blaze has not been completed, officials of the warden's office said they believed the fire started from the embers of a black-walnut pickers' camp in Ventura county. They explained that there were a number of black-walnut trees growing in the hills and were eagerly sought after by campers.

The principal damage from the flames will not appear until the winter rains, Warden Turner explained, saying that the bare hills will allow the water to run off rapidly, cutting deep gullies in the ground and preventing storage in check dams and underground.

An odd result of the brush fire was reported yesterday afternoon when hundreds of rattlesnakes were found in burned masses. The reptiles usually found in the vicinity on the rocky slopes had apparently coiled together when the flames approached and were killed as each strove to wriggle under his neighbor.

Residents of the area said that the rattlesnakes have been numerous the past year and a number of near-fatalities were reported from their bites at various times this summer.

OTHER AREAS OUT

Reports from Ventura last night indicated that the portion of the Santa Monica Mountain blaze, which burned in that county, was entirely under control. Newspaper men who circled the area yesterday afternoon, saw only burning embers and smoking, blackened tree trunks, which had been burning fiercely only the day previous.

Similar reports were given on the Tapo range fire in Ventura county and although both areas are under close surveillance of the fire wardens for sporadic flares from the embers; wardens there believed there would be no further spread.

KINGS MOUNTAIN FIRE BURNING SELF OUT

REDWOOD, Nov. 2. (AP)—Fire which roared over 3000 acres of brush and timber land in the Purisaima Creek Canyon region near Kings Mountain, was burning itself out today.

Most of the 400 volunteers, who had fought to keep the flames from eating into valuable timber stands or destroying 250 summer homes near here, were withdrawn. Twenty men remained as a guard to the smouldering embers.

Five hundred acres of timber land were included in the wide area swept over by the blaze, which started Friday night.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

A NEWSPAPER submitted George Bernard Shaw's list of great men to various celebrities in Los Angeles. Almost every one protested because Mr. Shaw had left out Thomas A. Edison.

OUR IMMORTAL

Is our one gift to immortality a machine that makes canned music and a mechanical candle that lights by a push button.

THE MACHINE GOD

In a way it is bitterly ironic. We are too dumb to realize that we are kissing the Cossack whip that is lashing us.

The real trouble with the world right now is an overdose of inventors and machines.

Modern civilization is facing a very peculiar crisis.

Owing to an overdevelopment of machinery, the markets of the world are flooded with products that can't be sold. In exact ratio the purchasing power of the world declines. For every man thrown out by machines there is one less cash customer.

THE PRICELESS GIFT

When America was opened for settlement, a great responsibility was put into the hands of our race.

It was the first time in all human history when a land so rich was placed in the lap of a race already civilized, already experienced; a race presumably able to benefit by the mistakes of other civilizations.

It was as though Providence had said:

"Now I am going to give you a chance to do something really great. I am going to give you a land so rich that you will not have to bother about fighting for food. It is a land of ancient and mysterious wonders—of great mysteries unsolved. In return I look to you to give back to the world great sociological achievements, splendor of thought, philosophical illumination. Yours is the great opportunity of all the history of the world."

TRIUMPH!

And now we are coming back to announce that the fruits of this glowing era are Tin Pan Alley jazz and a machine to make canned music.

THE GOLDEN CALF

There was some excuse for the children of Israel to worship the golden calf. They were starving and harassed by danger. What is our excuse?

I, too, think Mr. Edison is a great man. Any soul able to achieve happiness through the affliction of deafness has the divine spark.

But as to the fact that he substituted for candles a light that squirts on from a button in the wall, I can think of nothing of less importance.

Council Orders Wider Figueroa South of Second

Orders to proceed with plans for widening Figueroa street to 100 feet between Second street and Pico street have been issued by the City Council to the City Engineer and City Attorney.

With work progressing on the Elysian Park tunnels for the North Figueroa extension and plans being formulated for widening and grading Figueroa north of Second street, the orders of the Council cover the last undeveloped link of Figueroa in the downtown district.

Money must yet be provided to carry the extension over the river to connect with Dayton avenue.

CHEST BEGINS SECOND WEEK

Good Report Expected Today as Result of Fund Drive Activities Over Week-End

The second week of the seventh annual campaign of the Community Chest begins today. Reports from campaign headquarters indicate that the divisions of 15,000 members put in full time Saturday and yesterday and a good report is expected today.

The motion-picture industry will be featured in connection with today's program. A number of members of the film colony will be present, including Warner Baxter, Julia Faye, Leila Hyams, Louise Dresser and Jack Gardner.

The program will be in charge of Cecil B. De Mille, chairman of the Community Chest motion-picture division, and Fred W. Beetson, vice-chairman. The invocation will be offered by Rev. Thomas Holden of Wilshire Crest Presbyterian Church. Musical features will be supplied by LaRue Hilliker and Rainbow Gardens Orchestra.

Chairman De Mille's division, which comprises the different studios, has a quota of $175,000. He has reported that satisfactory progress is being made.

Following is a list of the studios participating in the campaign and the quota of each: Christie, $4000; Educational, $3000; First National, $12,500; Fox, $30,000; M.-G.-M., $30,000; Pathe, $6000; Paramount, $23,000; R.-K.-O., $15,000; Roach, $1500; Sennett, $1000; Universal, $7500; United Artists, $25,000; Warner Brothers, $5000; Chaplin, $2000; Columbia, $2000; Tec-Art, $1000; Tiffany, $1000.

Commenting on the campaign outlook, Chairman Kerr gave out the following statement last evening:

"In accepting its quota of $1,150,000, Committee No. 1 of the central division, known as the Mayor's Million Dollar Committee, has as-

"TIMES" ELECTION SERVICE

The Times has made arrangements to cover the general elections in California and other States tomorrow with its accustomed accuracy and dispatch and to make the results known as expeditiously as possible. Beginning at 6:30 p.m. and at frequent intervals thereafter until midnight or thereabouts election returns will be broadcast from KHJ, the Don Lee station. Results from other States will be given over a national hook-up of the Columbia system, with Frederick William Wile at the microphone in Washington. First California returns will be available probably about 7:30 o'clock, the polls closing at 7. In addition to the local and national broadcasts, returns will be made public in special street editions and by telephone to all who call The Times, MAdison 2345.

MUSEUM TO SHOW WARES

New Wing of Los Angeles Institution Will Open Friday With Novel Exhibit Arrangement

Following months of preparation, during which hundreds of new exhibits were classified, mounted and labeled, the new wing of the Los Angeles Museum will be thrown open to the public Friday, next.

With the opening the public is to be introduced to virtually a new museum, for the added space and facilities have permitted not only an entire rearrangement of the exhibits, but have also lent themselves readily to the introduction of a plan of key exhibits in the main foyer which will enable visitors to decide upon their entrance which departments they wish to see and tell them how to reach those departments.

These samplings of departmental features will be arranged in cases around the wall of the foyer and will represent the twelve different sections into which the museum is divided, namely, history, science, art, library, junior museum, physical and mechanical science, music and theater, extension division, field activities, Otis Art Institute, Hancock Park and miscellaneous, including special food and animal products.

Another of the new features will be a large motion-picture screen in the temporary auditorium, on which will be thrown simultaneously a sort of three-ring circus of motion pictures and lantern projections. Three different subjects, accompanied by explanatory title matter, will be projected at one time on this screen.

One of the subjects to be depicted will be the story of the La Brea asphalt pits. Another will be a pictorial representation of the art history of America, covering not only the decorative arts but also that of architecture. The third subject for the opening program will be a reel of pictures tracing the growth of the museum.

Mother Slain With Shotgun as She Sleeps Beside Her Infant Son

CRIES OF CHILD DISCLOSE CRIME

Baby Unhurt as Lead Snuffs Out Woman's Life

Divorced Husband of Victim Seized by Police

He Offers Alibi to Prove He Did Not Do Deed

A baby's piteous cries, when he was unable to awaken the mother with whom he had been sleeping, early yesterday led to discovery of a mysterious murder at 223 East Ninety-ninth street.

The mother, Mrs. Merle Ellis, 22 years of age, had been shot to death as she slept and the gun, a rusty, double-barreled weapon of obsolete design, was found near the foot of the bed when it had been abandoned by the fleeing slayer. Although the child had lain within a few inches of the mother when she was killed by a heavy charge of buckshot, he was unharmed.

The tragedy occurred at the home of the victim's sister, Mrs. Henry Cannon, and information obtained from the Cannon family caused Seventy-seventh-street detectives to begin an immediate search for the husband.

HUSBAND QUESTIONED

The couple had been estranged for several months, according to Mrs. Cannon, and Mrs. Ellis had instituted divorce proceedings, an interlocutory decree having been granted on September 16, last. Cruelty was charged in the complaint.

The husband, Emery Ellis, 26, was found at the home of his brother, Alfred, 8186 Elizabeth street, and both men were taken to the station for questioning, as were also Ralph Melton and Oscar Powell, said by police to be intimates of the husband. Powell and Melton were released after a brief questioning by Detective Lieutenant Savage, but a charge of suspicion of murder was placed against the husband. The brother was booked as a material witness.

Savage said Ellis displayed surprise when informed that his wife was dead and appeared to be only mildly interested. By way of alibi, he said he worked all night in Powell's cafe at Slauson and Santa Fe avenues, but Savage learned that the night manager of the place was absent for more than an hour early in the morning. It would have been possible for Ellis to have visited his wife's home and returned within an hour, Savage asserted. However, Ellis clung steadfastly to his assertion that he knew nothing about the shooting.

BULLETS ENTER NECK

The room in which Mrs. Ellis was sleeping with her 18-months-old son is a sleeping porch at the front of the house. The front door never was kept locked, her sister said. The Cannons retired about 10 p.m. and Mrs. Ellis is said to have returned home about an hour later. She had been spending the evening with Clyde Shockley, who operates an oil station a few doors from the Cannon house. Shockley was questioned by detectives but was released when he convinced them he knew nothing of the tragedy.

Examination of the body revealed that death was caused by a charge of buckshot, fired at close range, which entered the left side of the victim's neck. It would have been impossible for the wound to have been self-inflicted, detectives declared.

On several occasions, Mrs. Cannon said, Ellis had beaten his wife and recently she had threatened to "turn him up" for asserted complicity in a hold-up unless he ceased to molest her.

One phase of the case which admittedly puzzled detectives is the fact that, so far as can be determined, neither the Cannons or any of the neighbors heard the report of the gun. Mr. and Mrs. Cannon, with their two children, were sleeping in a rear bedroom, but were not awakened, they said. This led the officers to believe that the gun may have been equipped with a silencer which was removed after the fatal shot was fired.

AUTOPSY AWAITED IN HALLOWEEN KILLING

PASADENA, Nov. 2. (Exclusive)—Results of an autopsy to be performed tomorrow on the body of Mrs. Mildred Woods, pretty 33-year-old matron who was shot and killed yesterday by her husband, Fay E. Woods, 36, who later ended his own life with the same gun, will determine whether charges will be filed against an unidentified physician, asserted to have treated Mrs. Woods recently.

Search also was started by local detectives today for an asserted admirer of Mrs. Woods, whose attentions are believed to have caused Woods, a local radio salesman, to carry out his murder and suicide threat in a jealous rage following a Halloween party Friday night at the Woods's residence, 305 North Allen avenue.

The double tragedy was discovered yesterday morning by the couple's 10-year-old daughter, Mildred. In the early morning hours, she heard a loud noise followed by choking sounds, but fearing to grope about the house in the dark, she pulled the covers over her head and waited in terror until daybreak gave her sufficient courage to enter her parents' bedroom, where she found them dead. She ran screaming to the street.

The three orphans, Mildred and her small brothers, Garth, 7, and Marland, 5, are being care for temporarily at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Coleman of 906 North Sumnit avenue.

Mr. Woods left notes requesting that he and his wife, with whom he was madly in love, be buried in the same grave and same casket. He also requested that the custody of the three children be given to his sister, Miss Vida Woods, 37, of Backinow, Ill.

Detectives who are investigating the case received a telegram today from Dean Woods, elder brother of the dead man, asking that the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Wood, now in the Ives & Warren mortuary, and the three children be sent to Bloomington, Ill., where relatives would take charge.

The police department replied, asking that some member of the family come here to complete arrangements and care for the children.

Police said an administrator of the estate, consisting of furniture and a $2000 insurance policy, must be appointed, and a guardian named by the California courts, before the children can be moved or the bodies of their parents shipped east.

Whether an inquest will be conducted will depend on the result of the autopsy tomorrow.

GAY PARTY CLIMAXED BY DEATH

Woman Has Dance With Husband and Then Expires on Bathroom Floor

Tragically ending a party and dance at the home of Mrs. A. Crane at 1230 West Twenty-third street, early yesterday morning Mrs. Sarah Waite, 68 years of age of Denver, Colo., died within a few minutes after dancing with her husband. She was found by one of the guests in the bathroom. A private physician pronounced her dead.

Uncertain whether death was due to alcoholic poisoning, a fall or from high blood pressure police have asked the Coroner for an autopsy.

Georgia-street detectives reported that Mrs. Waite and her husband, C. L. Waite, visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wadsworth at 4055 West Sixtieth street, had attended a party and impromptu dance at Mrs. Crane's home. A quantity of liquor was consumed, according to the detectives. Shortly after she had danced with her husband Mrs. Waite retired to the bathroom, where she was found slumped on the floor a few minutes later. Members of the party asserted, the detectives said, that the liquor was provided by Waite, Mrs. Crane denying that she had any in her home.

The Waites' Denver address was 1940 Broadway.

ROW ENDS IN DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Woman Fatally Wounded and Man Ends Own Life With Bullet

Murder and suicide entries were placed in the police records last night following an investigation of the shooting earlier in the afternoon of Mrs. Isabella Orasko, 28 years of age of 510 California street, and Ignacio Chavez, 25, of San Juan.

Chavez, according to the authorities, visited at the home of Mrs. Orasko yesterday and after sending Mrs. Carmen Golindo, a sister-in-law, on an errand, shot and fatally wounded Mrs. Orasko during a quarrel. A few seconds later Chavez took his own life when he fired a bullet through his mouth.

Both were found by police in a bathroom of the home on the third floor of the apartment building. The woman wounded in the neck, head and left foot, lived for six hours.

Backgammon Being Taught

Frances Young Flinton, who is conducting classes in backgammon at Bullock's, will lecture there again tomorrow at 10:30 a.m.

She will explain "Chouette"—the modern arrangement that enables more than two to play the game, also the new doubles so necessary to the further enjoyment and sportsmanship of the play. There is no charge for the lecture.

DISTRICT CHAMBER TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Installation of directors-elect of the Central Vermont District Chamber of Commerce will take place Friday evening at a meeting in the chamber offices, 3000 West Eighth street. Those to be inducted are Carl A. Peterson, Mrs. Lee Rutherford, H. P. Leavitt, Adolph Lessell, Neal P. Olsen, U. G. James, W. H. Chotiner, Albert Katz, E. L. Lewis, Thomas Lord, Jack Moore, W. H. Crowell, Victor Hector. They were named to office in the annual meeting last Thursday.

THREE BANDITS PUT TO FLIGHT

Woman's Scream Routs One, Bullets Another

Dodging of Taxicab Driver Foils Hold-up

Robbery Total of Week-end Held Down to Six

A woman's scream, a .22-caliber rifle in the hands of a gasoline service station attendant, and the dodging ability of a taxi-cab driver frustrated three attempts of week-end bandits thereby assisting police in keeping Saturday and Sunday robbery tally down to a total of six.

In the latter cases three service-station operators, a drug store proprietor, a woman pedestrian and a San Fernando Valley motorist were the victims.

BANDIT FLEES

Olive Sullivan of 545 North Mariposa avenue, did the screaming. Just as she neared her home, a man, walking in the opposite direction, stopped in front of her and leveled a revolver. Before he had a chance to demand her valuables, she screamed. The bandit took to his heels.

Virgil Halihan was just closing up the Williams Service Station at 4239 Crenshaw Boulevard when two bandits drove up and demanded that he open the cash register. Halihan was standing at the side of the little glassed-in office building, and without hesitation he smashed one of the windows with a pair of pliers, reached in and grabbed the rifle. As the bandits hastily fled Halihan fired six shots at them. Whether any took effect, he said he did not know.

DRIVER DODGES

L. C. Boggs, cab driver, had taken a passenger to Sixth street and Ceres avenue. The latter got out of the cab and, flourishing a pistol told Boggs to "stick 'em up." Boggs, instead, dodged to one side behind the cab, dodged from the cab to a tree, then to another tree, and so go far enough away from the bandit to call police.

Assaulted by six men in a basement cafe at Fifth and Main streets, Herbert Engel of 1110 South Lake street, suffered two broken fingers and lost $190 in cash, according to his report to police. The attack took place. Engel said, when he unwittingly displayed a roll of bills. After being kicked out into the street he got a cab and was driven to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for treatment.

CASH OBTAINED

As he drove near his home at 9920 Toluca Lake avenue, Charles H. Wellington was held up by two automobile bandits and robbed of $80 and valuable papers.

Another pair of bandits held up C. W. Chidley in his drug store at 3922 Sunset Boulevard at the same time, obtaining $40 in cash.

The service stations held up, police believe, by the same pair of bandits, are at 11326 South Figueroa street, where J. W. Stephenson lost $21; at 728 West One Hundred and Sixth street, where W. H. Hopkins lost $40 and a quantity of gasoline, and at 8691 South Central avenue, where Glenn Wilkinson was the victim and the bandits obtained five gallons of gasoline and $20.

Mrs. R. Lawrence of 4010 East Sixth street reported she was held up at O'Farrell and Pacific streets by a bandit and robbed of her purse containing $30.

PAIR ARRESTED

Suspected by police of resembling the pair of bandits who operated promiscuously Saturday night, William R. Samuelson, 24 years of age, and Roscoe R. Johnson, 24, both of 1327 West Eleventh street, were booked at the City Jail yesterday on suspicion of robbery. They were taken into custody at San Vicente Boulevard and Carthay Vista Drive by E. E. Simpson of the Carthay Circle patrol, who reported he discovered them siphoning gasoline from a parked automobile.

In a car driven by the suspects Officers Brady and Cunningham reported finding a revolver and a number of shells. The men told conflicting stories of their night's activities, the officers said.

City Playground to Be Abandoned

The Playground and Recreation Department will move all its equipment off Hawley Playground, which has been abandoned by the Playground and Recreation Commission because the City Council has declined to cover the department's budget deficiency with an appropriation of $67,385, as requested.

The amount to be saved by discontinuing Hawley playground service is to be devoted to maintenance of larger playgrounds.

"TIMES" ELECTION SERVICE

The Times has made arrangements to cover the general elections in California and other States tomorrow with its accustomed accuracy and dispatch and to make the results known as expeditiously as possible. Beginning at 6:30 p.m. and at frequent intervals thereafter until midnight or thereabouts election returns will be broadcast from KHJ, the Don Lee station. Results from other States will be given over a national hook-up of the Columbia system, with Frederick William Wile at the microphone in Washington. First California returns will be available probably about 7:30 o'clock, the polls closing at 7. In addition to the local and national broadcasts, returns will be made public in special street editions and by telephone to all who call The Times, MAdison 2345.

north of Beverly Boulevard. Wenberg declared he lost control of his car when he came suddenly to a sharp curve in the boulevard.

Mrs. Wenberg was taken to the Santa Monica Hospital. Her husband was given emergency treatment at the Soldiers' Home Hospital.

WOMAN HURT

Ellen Germaine, 24, of 1405 West Ninth street, received a fractured leg and shoulder when struck down by an automobile driven by Edward Johnson of 3616 South Central avenue, at Beverly and San Vicente boulevards, according to a police report. She was taken to the Hollywood Receiving Hospital.

Chased and captured by Jack Galloway, a taxicab driver, after he is asserted to have run down Burl Clayton, 38, of 3048 Whittier Boulevard, breaking a leg, at Seventh and Maple streets, Meritt Schurr, 24, of 315 North Juanita street, was arrested as a hit-and-run driver. Clayton was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

Schurr drove away from the scene of the accident, police stated, and was chased to Seventh and Los Angeles streets by Galloway, who with the aid of a private patrolman captured and held him until the arrival of police officers.

A collision between automobiles driven by Mrs. Ruth Padock, 3223 Maders street, and Miss Nolia Varnum, 1423 West Seaside avenue, Long Beach, at the intersection of One Hundred and Nineteenth street and Normandie avenue, resulted in painful injuries to both drivers as well as serious injuries to Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Padock. Jean Sutherland, who was riding with Mrs. Padock was cut and bruised.

Mr. and Mrs. Padock were taken to the Torrance Memorial Hospital where both were found to have probably skull fractures and were said to be in a serious condition. Miss Varnum received possible internal injuries.

sumed a big responsibility. The fate of the 1931 welfare program actually rests on the shoulders of these men, and those who are working with them.

"A resume of the entire situation shows that the residential divisions under the direction of Mrs. Albert C. Crutcher, downtown divisions, supervised by George W. Dryer, and the industrial divisions headed by Fred Seaver, are functioning in a highly satisfactory manner and favorably comparable to similar performances during past years.

"In assuming the responsibility to carry any part of the load every man and woman in the entire campaign organization is morally obligated to deliver a well finished job this week. It is equally incumbent upon the entire citizenship of the community to lend their best possible support, financially and otherwise. We are facing a tremendously serious situation and only the combined efforts of team workers and the donating public will save the day."

LEVY MAP DRAWN

The assessment district map for the improvement of Lincoln Boulevard between Venice and Washington Boulevards has been submitted to the City Council by the City Engineer and referred to the Public Works Committee.

SHOOTING DISRUPTS PARTY

Celebration at Double Baptism of Infants Winds Up in Wounding of Grandfather in Rum Fight

A party which began with a double baptism in the home of Stephen and Maria Valdez at 201 East Ann street Saturday night ended with the possibly fatal shooting of Jesus Perez, 46 years of age, grandfather of one of the infants, early yesterday morning.

Perez was shot in the abdomen in a fight over liquor between himself, Miguel Flores, 36, father of six children, and several other guests, according to Detective Lieutenants Romero and Torres. He was rushed to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital after Valdez called police. His condition was pronounced critical, following a major operation.

Shortly before noon yesterday Romero and Torres, after questioning Perez and several of the party guests, arrested Flores at his home at 215 East Ann street. A second shooting was narrowly averted, Romero said, when he and Torres took Flores into custody, the latter making an attempt to draw a revolver from his belt to resist arrest.

"We had to act quickly," Romero reported. "I guess I took a chance when he grabbed for the gun, but I just couldn't shoot the man, even in an effort to save my own life with those six kids looking on, so I jumped across the room and grappled with him. Luckily, I got hold of him before he could pull the trigger."

Flores, the detectives said, admitted the shooting. He asserted he shot in self-defense when Perez and several other men began to beat him.

Perez lives at 4232 Riggin street, Belvedere Gardens. Flores will be charged with murder if Perez dies, the detectives asserted.

FATALITY ATTRIBUTED TO BEATING

Man, Unconscious Several Days, Expires in Hospital; Police Hunt Assailant

Unconscious since a beating he received at the hands of an irate husband last Tuesday, according to police suspicions, Bert Hansen, 41 years of age, of 4080 South Normandie venue, died at the Osteopathic Hospital yesterday morning. The body was removed to the Coroner's office where an inquest will be conducted early this week.

Detective Lieutenants Romero and Torres immediately began a search for the man suspected of having administered the beating. Preliminary investigation disclosed, the detectives said, that the fight occurred at the home of Mrs. C. Pullwider at 654 Dunsmuir avenue last Tuesday. Hansen, who has been separated from his wife, Mrs. Gladys Hansen, for the last ten months, according to the detectives, was assisted to his home by friends where, after complaining of pains in the head, he lapsed into an unconscious condition which continued until he was taken to the Osteopathic Hospital early yesterday morning in a private ambulance.

DEFEAT
The Unnecessary
Power Bonds
... because

This Power Bond Issue has nothing to do with bringing water from Boulder Dam—Congress and other authorities at Washington are interested in the bond issue next year, which will amount to from $200,000,000 to $250,000,000 for the Colorado River water aqueduct. They are not interested in this Los Angeles power bond issue.

Do not be deceived by the promise of more jobs—The Bureau of Power and Light has more than $7,000,000 now available which can be used for labor over a period of several years. Why not use this money for more jobs instead of asking for an additional bond issue of $13,300,000? All of the labor on Boulder Dam will be provided by the Government and not by the City of Los Angeles. In May of this year we voted $38,000,000 of water bonds with the promise that there would be more jobs—Do you know anyone who has been given a job?

Taxes are increased. The Bureau of Power and Light has used $3,720,505.61 of the people's tax money, and it has not been repaid. That Department pays no taxes to the City, County or State, and the taxpayers pay more than $1,500,000 a year, which should be paid by the Bureau of Power and Light.

Some profit. The Bureau of Power and Light buys about two-thirds of its electric energy from a private corporation, and after paying the cost of distribution and other expenses within the City it sells this same energy to the domestic consumer for seven times the original cost to the city.

Plenty of Power. Los Angeles has enough electric power available to take care of its growth for many years to come and there is absolutely no necessity for spending additional millions at this time.

We must save our Bonding Capacity for development of water, schools, police and fire departments, sewers, and necessities for the public good—individuals and business firms have had to economize this year—why not the Bureau of Power and Light?

LIBRARY HOLDS EARLY RECORDS

Huntington Californiana in Vast Profusion

Southland's First Delegate to Paradise Named

Curator Lists Fraction of Priceless Manuscripts

The first Californian who ever went to heaven, according to records in the Huntington Library, was an Indian who died November 22, 1683. This fact is vouched for in a letter just discovered among the manuscripts in the library by Leslie E. Bliss, librarian. The letter is signed by a Jesuit Father, Eusobio Francisco Kino, mathematician, astronomer and man of God.

Twenty-five of Father Kino's letters were found in the files in one of which he explains that he came here "to determine whether this be indeed an island or a peninsula."

CONQUISTADORE DAYS

Another lot of letters, about 1000 all told, contains the official correspondence of Joseph de Galvez, Visitador-General of New Spain. One of these is an official account of the junta held May 16, 1768, at San Blas on the eastern shore of the Gulf of California, when an expedition to Alta California was planned and it was this expedition under the leadership of Father Junipero Serra, that founded the first California mission.

"Among the products of Augustin Zamorano's printing press—the first printing establishment in this State—is a manifesto by Gov. Figueroa which throws an interesting light on the great Pacific Province that was then ruled from Monterey," Mr. Bliss said. "Indeed, this library contains many rich collections of early California, including first or early editions of the writings of nearly all the Spanish, Mexican and American travelers from the time of the Conquistadores down to the present day.

FICTION TALES NOW

"There are many accounts here of overland journeys which would make thrilling motion pictures. Likewise, accounts of the Bear flag revolt, the arrest of the 'Sonoma Captives,' and Commodore Sloat's fiery proclamation that 'Henceforth California will be a portion of the United States.'"

Asked whether the library contains specially interesting local material unknown to most people, Mr. Bliss said: "Well, we have about fifty letters and documents telling of the founding of Pasadena and we have first editions of many of California's popular writers, including Jack London's famous novels. We have the original manuscripts of many old-time thrillers, such as 'Under the Red Robe,' by Stanley Weyman; 'The Bar Sinister,' by Richard Harding Davis; 'Lorna Doone,' 'Ben Hur' and the 'Cloister and the Hearth.'

FOR ALL APPETITES

"These collections are very cosmopolitan. Highbrows and lowbrows hobnob together; De Foe's 'Sermons,' Renee's 'Ruffians,' the works of Ouida, Thoreau's 'Walden,' Trollope's 'Small House of Arlington,' Thackeray's 'Adventure of Philip,' Benson's 'Wild Tales,' Blackmore's 'Lorna of the Doones,' Mark Twain's 'Prince and the Pauper,' Hawthorne's 'Snow Image,' Drake's 'Culprit Fay,' Stockton's 'Lady or the Tiger,' Stevenson's 'St. Ives and His Notes on Travels With a Donkey,' twenty-five manuscripts of Bret Harte's works, numerous writings by Swinburne and William Morris, Kipling's 'From Sea to Sea' and 'Recessional,' Oscar Wilde's 'Star Child,' Gissing's 'Thyrza' and 'Born in Exile,' and Ruskin's 'Seven Lamps of Architecture,' replete with his own beautiful drawings, and so on.

"In this huge collection of collections people find their favorite authors. And as we who are past middle age find the writings over which we used to thrill, past generations would also find the books and manuscripts which thrilled them. If Columbus, Galileo or Washington should come to life they would find on these shelves the very books or manuscripts they read. It is the most cosmopolitan, as well as the most unique institution in the world and the wonder of it is that it belongs to the people of California. Will the people of California officially accept this great gift by voting to exempt it from taxation at the coming election? That's a very important matter."

FURNITURE FUMIGATION FIGHT BEGUN

Dealer Seeks Injunction to Prevent Enforcement of State Sanitary Law

Attacking a provision of a State sanitary statute which provides for the fumigation of second-hand upholstered furniture, Ralph Coen, furniture dealer, has sued for an injunction against enforcement of the law by Robert Jacobus, county inspector of weights and measures, and his deputy, W. R. Goetz.

Inspector Jacobus recently was advised by County Counsel Mattoon that the fumigation law covers all upholstered furniture, and the inspector notified dealers that beginning the 20th inst. the law will be strictly enforced.

Coen in his suit contends that fumigation should be applied only to such upholstered furniture as is used for sleeping and reclining purposes. He asserts that enforcement of the law as proposed by the inspectors would make the cost of furniture prohibitive, and would cause dealers an immense loss.

CUSHION BRINGS GRIEF

Irene Fleming of Hermosa Beach took a floor cushion from the home of Armina Cassarian, 950 South Western avenue, as a joke, she told Municipal Judge Eagan. She said that Miss Cassarian has fifteen cats and that she intended to decorate the cushion with a picture of a cat and return it to her. In spite of her statement Judge Eagan found her guilty of petty theft. She will be sentenced Wednesday.

Today's Bible Text

Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God; but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.—III John xi.

CLASS CONSCIOUS

Somebody says that this nation is not class conscious. They were trying to remedy this defect over on the Trojan campus recently. The sophomores attempted to reduce the green freshmen to a state of unconsciousness; but soon discovered they were dun themselves.

A GRAND INSULT

Chief Curry of Tammany left the grand jury room in high dudgeon after he was asked some personal questions. Grand juries should be more discreet. Some of these times a grand jury will get at the facts and some of our leading citizens will not be able to lead.

GUM NOT FOOD

The Interstate Commerce Commission rules that gum is neither food nor candy and is not entitled to the same rates as govern the transportation of those commodities. This may be a little rough on those folk who get their gum by freight. Will Rogers won't like this very well.

GET MORE PAY

In raising the pay of his army lieutenants $30 a month King Carol is thought to be truckling to the military power. There are no increases in any other branch of public service. If Rumania ever grows restless Carol is likely to rely upon his troops to stabilize his throne.

HIGH-PRICED PIANOS

The New York Board of Education has been rather harshly criticised for buying a flock of grand pianos for the public schools at a price of about $2100 each. The educators could have bought several batteries of saxophones for less money and given the kids more of a kick. But it is explained that in music the young Knickerbockers are entitled to the best there is, and this is par of it.

NO NOISE

California has given a new invention to railways. A South Gate inventor recently demonstrated discs that take the noise and shock away from railway crossings. Upon approach of the train these automatically switch into position and provide a continuous rail. With the dehorning of automobiles and desquawking of street hawkers, about the only noise we shall hear in the future will be predivorce proceedings in homes.

MORE HOSPITALS

Before the American Hospital Association Julius Rosenwald declared that the great need in America is for moderately priced clinics and hospitals. He himself has given some millions to ease this demand, but he cannot cover the country. The high-priced hospitals which are operated for profit are much criticised by the Chicago philanthropist. The cry is for places that can find room for the poor.

THE SLIP AND THE CUP

With ripened courage and an unyielding spirit Sir Thomas Lipton announces his purpose to create another Shamrock and have another try for the America cup two years hence. If it were possible the American people would be glad to give Sir Thomas any advantage there might be in having the race sailed in British waters. The Englishmen are entitled to a glance at one race out of a dozen. Sir Thomas has plenty of cups, but the whole world wishes he might yet gain this much-coveted one.

ANOTHER MASTODON

Scientists will be alert for a view of this skeleton of a shovel-toothed mastodon, which Roy Chapman Andrews is said to be bringing from the wilds of Mongolia. It is evident that in his heyday this animal was no domestic pet. It is said that he was larger than the elephant, but the tusks, instead of being pointed, are broad and flat ivory protuberances that suggest a cross with a steam shovel. They would be fine for uprooting trees and it is likely that the critter indulged this pastime in his playful moods. That Mongolia country must have been a noble spot for big game hunters when the world was young—a matter of a million years or so ago.

THE ELECTION TOMORROW

Support for the entire State, legislative and Congressional tickets of the Republican party, is urged by this paper upon Times readers because it believes them worthy of such support and because it believes in party control and party responsibility. Mayor Rolph for Governor, Senator Frank F. Merriam for Lieutenant-Governor, State Controller Riley, State Treasurer Jordan and Secretary of State Johnson are all tried and known quantities and have the advantage in ability or experience or both over their opponents. Atty.-Gen. Webb is without opposition. To support President Hoover, California should send its customary Republican delegation to Congress. To send minority party candidates to Sacramento would be, for similar reasons, a mistake and would merely weaken the influence of the city in the Legislature.

In the nonpartisan local offices there are important contests. Administration of the Sheriff's office would be improved, this paper believes, by the election of Clyde Plummer, who believes in obeying as well as enforcing the law and who has demonstrated his capacity as a peace officer and commander. For Supervisor, Albert N. Chamness in the First District and Sidney T. Graves, present chairman of the Board of Supervisors, in the Third District are recommened on the ground of demonstrated ability. Both have served the public well.

An independent, fearless and experienced judiciary is the best safeguard of both public and individual rights. In the present campaign this can best be assured by the re-election of the incumbent judges, all of whom have records grading from good to excellent and each of whom is generally to be preferred to his opponent, aside from the matter of experience. These judges are Judge Keetch, Judge Hardy, Judge Bishop, Judge Shaw, Judge Hanby, Judge Crawford and Judge Haslett. All should be retained in office, particularly so because of the campaign of misrepresentation and slander which has been conducted against them and in which their opponents have acquiesced without protest where they have not taken an active part in it.

In part the animus of the attack, in its vociferous form, is an attempt by a man convicted of crime to get even with the whole bench because members of it adjudged him guilty, in part an attempt to punish the Bar Association for daring to do its plain duty of prosecuting him, and in part an attempt to punish particular judges who would not bow to his will. If the attack succeeds a very dangerous situation will have been created. The dominance of any one man over courts and public officers cannot be tolerated.

The advice of former President Coolidge given in his radio speech of Thursday night applies with force in this California campaign. "The more I have seen of public office," he remarked, "the more I am inclined to rely on experience. The conduct of an important governmental position cannot be intrusted to the inspiration of the moment. The great success that has marked the conduct of affairs of this commonwealth by the Republican party over a long series of years has been due to its rigid adherence to this principle."

By "commonwealth" Mr. Coolidge referred to Massachusetts, but he might have said California with equal truth. The re-election of experienced men is the surest way to safeguard the public welfare. "It is no time," said the former President, "for rash experiments in men or measures."

There are twenty-six State propositions upon the ballot, of which mention can be made here of only a few of the more important. The Times opposes so-called "daylight saving" as destructive of important California industries, motion pictures and agriculture, and urges a "no" vote on No. 7; favors the creation of a Fish and Game Commission with power to protect fish and game, urging a "yes" vote on No. 11; favors State compensation for owners of live stock destroyed to stop the spread of disease, as provided by No. 13; favors permanent registration for voters, No. 14; opposes the plan for changing the system of motor-vehicle taxation, No. 18; and opposes the "blue Sunday bill," No. 26. The latter, which pretends to be for the purpose of giving barbers a day off, in reality would hamper most of the continuous industries of the State, including oil, and in addition is State intrusion into a religious matter.

Among city propositions the most important are two projected bond issues. One of these, $6,000,000, provides for the extension and rehabilitation of the Los Angeles sewer system, a vital necessity of health and sanitation. A "yes" vote for the sewer bonds, Proposition C on the city ballot, is urged upon everyone. The other proposal is to give the municipal Power Bureau money which it admittedly does not need now, having several millions in unexpended bond issues and in accumulated surplus on hand, and which it could not spend wisely at the present time. A "no" vote on this issue, which is Proposition D on the city ballot, will be for the best interests of all, including the municipal power system itself. If the issue is defeated a better opportunity will be afforded to clean out a nest of politicians and introduce efficient, nonpolitical management.

ONE WINTER-FREE MONTH

The All-Year Club of Southern California is always alert in devising specific plans for facilitating tourist travel from the population centers of the Eastern and Central States to the playgrounds and pleasure resorts of our seven southern counties.

This summer they sponsored a two-weeks itinerary for vacationists which met with an instant response. Thousands of two-week vacationists took advantage of the well-advertised program, coming here from all parts of the North, South and Middle West. On account of the success attending this well-devised measure, the All-Year Club has supplemented it with a one-month winter itinerary for prospective travelers to the Pacific Coast.

They are spreading the idea under the attractive slogan, "Run away from winter for one month in Southern California."

Uncertainty as to costs and lack of specific information as to how a vacation may be most enjoyably arranged are two main handicaps to be overcome in persuading visitors from distant points to come and see what their would-be hosts have to offer. The All-Year Club fills this essential office for the section it serves.

People today want to travel with as little worrying as possible about details. They want a program, plain and simple, set before them. They want the trip worked out so that every day can be spent satisfactorily. With these ends in view the All-Year Club has designed a one month's sight-seeing itinerary for a grand fall and winter tour of Southern California with variations in the schedule to suit all purses.

The struggle for tourist patronage grows fiercer every year. In this, even more than in other lines of attracting the public, intelligent publicity is the price of success. The All-Year Club is performing a great service for Southern California in putting forward this winter program. It deserves the co-operation and support of all interested in bringing tourists here through the coming months—and that includes the greater part of our Los Angeles citizenry.

GEN. INDIFFERENCE

Gen. Indifference is an officer commanding a vast army. He is about the most militant foe of good government and yet usually regards himself a pacifist. He enters upon his intensive campaign at election time and works havoc with efficiency in public service.

A recent cartoon shows a weazened old codger perched on his doorstep receiving a mob. The legend under it is, "A Homecoming May Be a Good Thing Now and Then to Get Acquainted with Our Offspring."

A big, burly tough with cigar tilted at an acute angle and hat depressed at the same snarls at the little citizen on his porch: "Howdy, Pa, meet the wife an' kids and in-laws."

The mob of homecoming offspring is made up of Crooked Politics, Corrupt Courts, Contempt for Government, Crime Breeder, Crippled Justice, Racketeer, Blind Sheriff, Corrupt Police, Incompetence, Fathead Legislation, Taxes, Congressman Boob, Grafting Attorney, etc. When this brood, generated by Gen. Indifference, comes home to roost in ever-increasing numbers, there is occasion for meditation.

This situation is peculiar to a republic. Because the citizenry has the power in its hands, the slightest laxity enables vice and crime to get the ascendancy. And these forces are not slow to take advantage of every fumble.

Because of inertness on election day, we are later confronted by serious problems of our own making. Because we are unwilling to take time out of business and pleasure to go to the polls, all types of unworthy parasitic politicians fasten themselves upon our backs.

We are humped under taxes and continue indifferent to the selection of public servants. We claim to wage war against incompetence and graft, and then harbor Gen. Indifference in our homes. A careless citizenry is the greatest peril of a republic.

BACK IN EGYPT

Howard Carter is back at Luxor, in Egypt, for the final clean-up on the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen. But there is a lot of work and it will take some time. It has been intimated that when Carter gets through with the Pharaohs he may search for the tomb of Alexander the Great, which is thought by many to be under the sea at Alexandria. But by this time nobody cares very much. The youth of today would approach the grave of Alexander with about as much emotion as they would indicate in coming upon a lot studded with used cars.

THE PUZZLE

By James J. Montague

The antelope is mild and kind,
He has a calm and gentle mind,

And none of his soft-hearted clan
Would lift a hoof to war with man.

The zebra roves in harmless bands
All over Afric's burning sands.

Upon his own affairs employed
He does not kick unless annoyed.

The ostrich never is inclined
To start a war on humankind.

He dwells within the tropic zone
And asks but to be let alone.

And many other kind of brutes
Engage upon their own pursuits,

And from a shred of spite are free
Against such folks as you and me.

And yet these beasts of honest worth
Must shortly perish from the earth,

While rats, mosquitoes, gnats and flies
Regard us with malicious eyes,

And spend their days in evil strife
Against our so-called human life.

And they, who with Old Nick are linked,
Will not for ages be extinct.

For man, though why nobody knows,
Destroys his friends and spares his foes

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

By Lee Shippey

LOS ANGELES is about to enjoy what few American cities get to enjoy—a play by George Bernard Shaw presented as Shaw thinks it should be presented. "The Apple Cart," which is to open the season of the Bowl Theater Association, the new organization allying the Civic Repertory Theater and the Hollywood Bowl Association, is directed by Claude King, who acted in Shaw's plays in London for nearly five years and received the unique honor of being mentioned by name in the preface to Shaw's "Fanny's First Play." The leading man, Alan Mowbray, has appeared in thirteen Shaw productions, first having come to Los Angeles in two Theater Guild productions of Shaw plays. And the entire cast is English (with two or three exceptions, such as the character of the American Ambassador,) including several other actors who played under Shaw's direction in England.

How Other Dramatists Must Envy Shaw!

King is working hard to have every part presented as Shaw himself would direct, and no one is better qualified to speak with authority on Shaw's ideas of stagecraft.

"Shaw loves the theater and is very decided in his ideas," King says. "He never lets any producer change his plays—he never even lets them see them. When one of his plays is to be produced no one sees it till rehearsals start. Then Shaw assigns the parts and directs all his plays himself. He is a great director and an extremely good actor. He dictates the costuming and every detail of the play must meet his approval. As Shaw is the most unique and interesting literary man alive, I feel it proper that in presenting one of his plays we should present his interpretation, as faithfully as is possible. Most productions of Shaw outside of England are somewhat different from those he directs, and some are extremely different. But Shavian satire is as much expressed in costuming and interpretation as in lines, and we are going to make this production as truly Shavian as is possible."

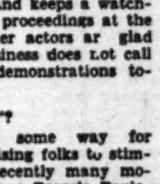
A Flying Dog

Don John of Austria, we learn from Frank H. Spearman's great new novel, "Spanish Lover," had a pet lion which would hop into a boat with him or go anywhere else his master went. Alan Mowbray, leading man of "The Apple Cart," has a German police dog which goes Don John's lion one better. That dog, Pal, is the only dog we know of which has a record for airplane flying. When the World War broke Mowbray quit acting and became a soldier and picked up Pal while in service. Later Mowbray got into the British air service, and Pal refused to be separated from him even when he left the ground. When Mowbray entered his plane, Pal would jump in, too, lying with his muzzle resting on the side of the seat, sticking out just enough to let him blink at passing clouds.

Pal accompanies Mowbray to rehearsals and everywhere else. He lies in the wings and keeps a watchful eye on all the proceedings at the theater and other actors ar glad that the stage business does not call for any hostile demonstrations toward Mowbray.

Is This a "Racket"?

There's always some way for clever and enterprising folks to stimulate business. Recently many motorists speeding along Beverly Boulevard near Alvarado have been filled with vague alarm when a motorcycle suddenly darted out of a side street and drew alongside. Glancing apprehensively around, they have seen a man in a white uniform flagging them to the curb—and most of them obediently have stopped.



"Your tail light's out" or "Your headlights aren't working right" has been the usual explanation. About that time the motorists have realized that the man who has overtaken them is not a policeman and are wondering what it is.

Apparently, he is just an automobile mechanic who carries with him enough stock in trade to put your tail light or headlights in working order in a few minutes. As you stop and find that what he said is true, he offers to set things right for you. "It may save you from getting arrested," he explains, with beaming benevolence.

So the average motorist thanks him and pays him for the job. He seems to work from about 6 p.m. till midnight and to pick up a pretty good living. A near-by garage is his base of operations.

Important Flagpole

Lee: I've had to motor up and down the Coast Highway north of Los Angeles a good deal lately and it strikes me that the most important flagpole in Southern California is in Santa Maria.

As you near Santa Maria from either side you see many signs which read like this: "Trade at Blimpson's, Half Block South of the Flagpole;" "Eat at Fryer's, One Block West of the Flagpole."

There must be 200 road signs near Santa Maria which mention the flagpole. If that flagpole should fall down nobody would know where he was.—L. B. Y.

THE WASHINGTON WASH

BY STRICKLAND GILLILAN

Owoooo-oo! Aren't you nervous? These last few days before a great big election are enough to make the stoutest man grow jittery. Any person who has seen ten elections has seen ten upsets, etc. They might as well say the national upset will take place next Tuesday, for that is what every election is. The dopesters have doped and the hopesters have hoped, but the result will be what it will be. The individual who will bet on an election is as purely and simply a gambler as is the one who will bet which way a bird will fly when it leaves the twig. The American people are either intelligent and do not blame the administration for the weather and human idiocy, or are not intelligent and do blame it. This time next week the atmosphere will reek with "I told you sos" and we will all be explaining it to one another. Some honest ones will shake their heads and say, "Well, that was a hug- surprise to me." But a good, fluent, two-fisted he-liar with a prevarication in each hand, never was surprised in his life. He had told you so.

Will Hefin go on Hefling when the suffrages are listed?
Will Ruth, since the defection of Bill Thompson, win the race?
Will Walsh the dusty Democrat from office be assisted?
Will Ross McCullough bite the dust and Bulkley take his place?
Which wet will beat in New York State, with Tammany as issue?
Will Giffy Pinchot lick the bunch that's out to tan his hide?
If so, the jack you'd elsewise bet a fond good-by will kiss you,
And up Salt River's reaches you will take a sorry ride.

And another thing. Remember that story, don't you, about somebody saying "This meeting had better adjourn before some darn fool tells the truth"? Well, this meeting hasn't adjourned soon enough, and this one is going to tell the truth:

You recall the time your car went blooey—a connecting-rod bearing let go with a most expensive noise? You took the old wreck to the garage and had it looked into. The mechanic said to you:

"Now while yuh got it tore down, y'd better fix this and that and the other thing, too. If you don't have that fixed now, she's liable to bust down on yuh again. 'Course yuh'll hafta do without 'er a little while longer right now, but it'll save time an' trouble in the long run if yuh have 'er all fixed at once."

That's the fix our good boat Prosperity is in right now. She is go with an awful clatter last year's October. She was towed in and is now under repair. And "while we've got 'er tore down" we might as well fix all the weak spots and prevent a worse breakdown after she'd done another 100 miles or so. There were things radically the matter with the old bus before the breakdown—worse things than the one that let go. And to throw her together and go on with the weaknesses still unrepaired would be false economy. Let's not be in so much of a hurry to get the old crate rolling on her own power again, as to see that the worn parts are replaced with better ones and the machine in shape to stand up a long time after she does get going. That's the unconscious attitude of a large part of the public right now. The industrial car should not have her clutch let in until, for instance, it would not be necessary (or apparently so to the party most concerned) for a girl without a job to commit suicide. No, I haven't gone red. But there's a heap of equalizing to be done. The "distributor points" are dirty.

I looked over the above very carefully and was surprised to see how serious it was—but I didn't see any way to change a word.

I can't help wondering whether, on his sixty-three-minute hop from New York to Washington, Aviator Hawks saw anything on the ground below him resembling Thomas Jefferson riding from Monticello, Va., to Philadelphia, the seat of his small clothes caressing the hardwood bench that formed the sittable portion of his old shay whose remains are still to be seen at the Jeffersonian home above Charlottesville. My, what a beating that man's abbreviated pants took in the ten days or so he spent on that trip which was little longer in mileage than the Hawks' sixty-three-minute flit. The rate of speed, if you want to figure it in ratio, was (counting as little as seven days for the Jeffersonian pants-punishment) 300 to 1 in Hawks' favor. Did somebody once remark—or did I dream it?—"The world does move."

If all the disgruntled, sore-headed, chronic-grouch, temperamentally and intrinsically ferninst United States Senators, present and to come after the election, were laid end to end, they would reach—no conclusion at all. A deadlock is the best that one could expect. Also, if they were laid, as aforesaid, end to end, wouldn't that be nice!

Of all the candidates now before the people, perhaps the foxiest is Giffy Pinchot of Pennsylvania. Seeing that the prospects are looking mighty poor, he decides to start bullyragging and fishwifing at the vested interests who are against him. In that way, if he is elected, he will have the whiphand and be under no obligations; while if he isn't elected, he can martyr around and claim he was beat because he had courage.

The lessons to be drawn from the campaign just about to end mercifully will be profound, but seven Philadelphia lawyers (including the one now in the Supreme Court) will be unable to tell what the lessons are. If Walsh is elected in Montana, it will be a magnificent dry triumph, with the help of Reeking Robert La Follette, who went out there to fight bitterly against Wet Galen. From this we should learn—what? If George White wins over Gov. Cooper in Ohio, it will be a wet victory, showing what? Ditto in connection with the Illinois voting, with the two frails and the cerise whiskers in the balance. In New York, both candidates wet, the result will prove just as convincing. Every issue will be left in statu quo, which in this instance would fulfill the colored minister's definition of that term, "A heluva fix." It will be found, to the great surprise of all the dopesters, that local issues cut much ice and that in most places there was a light vote showing that the people are not up in arms against the administration. A light vote will mean, in other words, that the people are not arising in their wrathful might to rebuke and overthrow the bunch of men who brought on the dry weather. One recalls the Ancient Mariner's line:

"'Twas right, said they, the bird to slay
That brought the fog and mist."

It is less than a month to one sad event—the opening of Congress—and less than eight weeks to a happy one—Christmas. For that will be a happy event for the bulk of humanity here and elsewhere. There will be people unemployed and almost Christmasless, and that will be sadder than anybody not in that fix can imagine. But is that a new idea? There has always been such, so please do not charge it up to the present times. Somebody smarter even than you and I are once said—ever so long ago—"The poor ye have always with you." But there will be more Christmas kindness exercised this year than ever before, mark my words.

The Way the Money Goes

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A report in your paper this morning states that it costs the taxpayers $5.30 per day for each patient in the General Hospital. This is in line with the usual history of civic management, wherein our public servants run amuck when they have a chance to spend the people's money.

Whether publicly owned property and charitable institutions should be taxed is a difficult question for us to rightly determine, but with the enormous budgets and lavish donations made for their support I am inclined to think that all properties, churches included, should stand their share of our wasteful and over-burdening cost of government. Then they, too, would be interested in seeing where our money goes.

MRS. JENNIE R. BORNE.

Had Fitts Been Nominated

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I would like to ask the readers of The Times, wet and dry, how many of them believe that Mr. Young would have asked his party to put a dry plank in the State platform, if either Gov. Young or Mr. Fitts had been nominated? It is perfectly safe to say that he would never have dreamed of such a thing and there isn't a sane reader of this item that does not know that to be true. Then, it is very plain that the present plank in the Democratic platform was put there for policy and not from principle. And I would further like to ask what promises are worth founded on policy?

C. E. S.

Curiosity, Maybe

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I noticed in your paper of October 24 a statement that a great many people are opposed to Mr. Shuler's methods of radio broadcasting. Please read the inclosed clipping from "Radio Doings." That magazine, in a recent station popularity survey, received from all districts of Southern California, 105,000 votes. Mark, this survey was not restricted to any one part of Southern California, but included the whole south part of California. Bob Shuler's station, KGEF, came in fourth from the head of the list, before such stations as KECA, KFWB, KFOX, etc. What, to you, would this indicate?

H. L. KUHN.

Not Internes

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Permit me to correct the impression that reporters and editorial staffs of city papers have that the doctors on the city police ambulances are internes. These men are surgeons of considerable experience.

L. W. FISH.

Radio Speeds Crop

Crops can be made to grow at double speed by the application of radio, according to Dr. Fritz Hildebrandt, a Berlin physicist. In a field of poor fertility, he says, he treated seeds of beans, sunflowers, melons, tomatoes and radishes with short waves ranging from half a millimeter to thirty centimeters for fifteen minutes.

PEN POINTS

Civilization: A temple, a school, a road and a bond issue.

No wonder Henry favors large families. When there are ten heirs, there's seldom enough to buy each a fine car.

Why is genius rare? Well, if foxes were as prolific as rabbits they'd run short of rabbit pie.

Football: A very complicated game commonly won by picking up a ball somebody has dropped.

Moonshine is caused by prohibition, the use of moonshine by the lack of it.

You can't tell a "swell neighborhood," by the appearance of the houses. Look at the collectors.

An S.O.S. for stock gambling probably stands for save our simpletons.

Gangsters are a bad lot, but they seem to be the only ones who know how to discourage useless talk.

A great university has completed an investigation showing that 15 per cent of women use hair dye. Ain't education great?

Americanism: Buying a machine made to run 100,000 miles, trading it in at 9000 miles to get one with one more set stripes on the hood.

Every city has at least one man called great because he memorizes 3000 blistering objectives and cusses everything.

A country isn't broke while hold-up men still prefer filling stations.

If they have a two-car garage, they sleep in separate bedrooms.

Wise guy: A racketeer or easy money boy any time before the coroner gets him.

Don't feel abused, son. Hoover and Lindbergh weren't invited to join fraternities, either.

That critic who says there is no longer employment for the mule driver's peculiar talents should hear some of our high college coaches.

Short history of woman: Weeps because her doll breaks; weeps because her heart is broken; weeps because her nose is broke.

Correct this sentence: "No matter how she spends her insurance money," said the relatives; "it's none of our business."

When a man is generous to a fault it's his own fault.

It's food for thought when you have to eat your own words.

Few people have to go out of their own homes to borrow trouble.

Some people have no use for friends unless they can make use of them.

Sometimes zig-zagging drivers learn that it is cheaper to go straight.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason
DOWN THE LINE

"Eating meat is truly shocking," some one cries, in bitter tones, "and the eater has a skin full of the most destructive germs. There is death in beef and mutton, there is doom in pork and veal; who would wish to live by slaughter, eating meat at every meal?" Then we find the butcher frotting over quite a showing in trade; all conditions worse and getting, and he cannot make the grade. So his door he soon closes, sells his counter and his truck; as an anarchist he poses, then attempts to run amuck. How the chop-house man is crying, "I shall close my joint today; there's no use in roasting and frying—folks have started eating hay. They've been startled by some faddist who had pipe dreams of his own; and the outlook is the saddest any caterer has known." So he fires the faithful waiters who have been with him so long, and they pull their shoes and gaiters with the mournful jobless throng. Now the packers slow up packing for there is no large demand; all the diet fans are hacking succotash on every hand. So a lot of sad-eyed toilers find themselves upon the street, with no grub to fill their bellies, no goloshes for their feet. There'll be wailing, there'll be screeching, in the dwellings of the poor, just because some fan went teaching doctrines futile and obscure. On the far-off farms and ranches, where they grow the hogs and steers, trouble comes in avalanches, there's a jamboree of tears. For the price is always slumping on the things the farmer grows, and the sheriff's always jumping just behind him as he goes.

Aluminum gas pipe is replacing the old heavy iron conductors in Germany. The chief advantage is that the new pipe can easily be bent at right angles instead of being cut and screwed into angles, and the smallness, which permits installation of pipe in thin walls.

SPARTON LADS IN NEW SERIES

Popular Broadcasters Again on Air Tonight

Drama, Comedy and Music to Fill Out Programs

Entertainers of Radio Fame Engaged for Event

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m.
Clint Brush and L. C. Fox, instrumentalists.
"Snowy" Baker on "Sportsmanship."
News items at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

"Sparton Spotlights." Tonight is the advent of a new series of broadcasts to come over KHJ, KMTR, KMIC, KNX, KTM, KFOX and KGB—from 9 to 10, a series of four which will be produced on consecutive nights.

They promise four complete shows, presenting quick-moving drama, rapid-fire comedy interspersed with musical and vocal numbers ranging from classic to modern jazz.

Among the artists appearing will be Calmon Lubowski, KHJ Symphony Orchestra, Joseph Diskay, Frank Watanabe, the Arizona Wranglers, Bill Hatch and his orchestra and others of radio fame.

Quoting the sponsor of this series of programs: "It is understood that the climax on Thursday night will prove startling in its magnitude and conception."

So it may be worth your dial.

THEY TELL US THAT—

A noted scientist, Dr. Robert Millikan, speaks tonight over KHJ at 6:15.

"What radio listeners lament for." KECA at 6:30 p.m. Brigadiers' Quartet. They promise to give you what you've been dialing for.

Dial KFWB this morning, an entire change of staff, 8:30 a.m. Then again at 4—"Cally Holden"—collegiate dance band.

Fascinating continued broadcast of romance, "Don Amazo," master violinist—KHJ and KNX at 7:30 tonight.

"Ennio Bolognini"—it's a fact. South American cellist—formerly soloist, Chicago Symphony Orchestra, KECA at 6 tonight.

I wonder if the printers will spell that name "Bologna."

KTM'S Ranch Hour Anniversary—their second year on the air—8 tonight. They will put all they have on the ball in there tonight. It should be good.

Oh, oh, I was afraid of this one—KHJ from 8 to 10 tonight. Blue Monday's Jamboreeadors succumb to pee wee golf, vacant lots and laughs. A laugh in one.

Don't write in if you run into a politician as you dial tonight, everybody from poundman to king is running and speaking.

"Romantic spirit of several nations, Rochester Civic Orchestra, a chain program," KFI at 7 tonight. Jessica Reeque Cole, soloist.

What's Mr. World doing? KECA at 5, a half-hour in Washington.

Hear the London guard mount at Buckingham Palace—KNX at 8:30 tonight.

Sounds good. "Celebrity night" at the Roosevelt Hotel—KFWB at 11:30 tonight—Leo Carrillo, stage star, a guest. Ted Weems.

Not so bad for Monday.

RESERVE OFFICERS RECEIVE PROMOTION

The following promotions among local residents, members of the Officers' Reserve Corps, are announced by the War Department, according to information received yesterday from headquarters, Ninth Corps Area, at the Presidio of San Francisco:

Maj. Carlos W. Huntington, infantry, reserve, of 929 California Building, to lieutenant-colonel, on October 27, 1930.

Capt. Ralph O. Cragin, ordnance, reserve, of 1715 Las Flores Drive, to major, on October 27, 1930.

First Lieutenant Carroll D. Hudson, ordnance, reserve, of 1277 West Twenty-fourth street, to captain, on October 27, 1930.

Second Lieutenant Lee B. Stanton, infantry, reserve, of 1025 West Sixty-fifth street, to first lieutenant, on October 28, 1930.

UKRAINIAN RUSSIAN HUB DEDICATED

Prominent Persons Take Part in Exercises Sunday for New Civic Center

Dedication ceremonies of the Ukrainian-Russian Civic Center at 358 South Boyle avenue, founded to serve as a constructive social and civic meeting place, were attended yesterday by scores of prominent social and civic leaders. President Sanborn of the City Council officially welcomed the new organization to the city.

"An organization of this type has been the long-felt need of this community," Bishop Stevens of Los Angeles Episcopal Diocese, as first speaker on the program, told the audience. "It will serve to unify the interests here of the Ukrainian and Russian families."

Indorsement of the project was given also by Bishop Cantwell of Los Angeles and San Diego Catholic Diocese and by Rabbi M. Winkler, who added that the new civic center should serve to show the incoming foreigners how best to serve their new country.

Additional speakers introduced by the master of ceremonies, A. C. Denman, president of Better America Federation, were Mrs. Frank Phelps Toms, State Regent, Daughters of the American Revolution; Superior Judge Doran, President E. B. De Groot of the Rotary Club, V. Lankowsky, president of the Russian Orthodox Church, and E. P. Savidge, former Ukrainian Ambassador to England.

Following a talk by Mrs. Valentine Kachmarsky, founder and director of the center, a musical program by Ukrainian performers was offered. A Boy Scout troop conducted a flag-raising ceremony at the end of the service.

LUNCHEON REVEALS BETROTHAL

Wedding Date Fixed for Next June

[Murillo for Western Press Service]
Miss Alice Gooden

ONE of the smart affairs of recent date was the beautifully appointed luncheon with which Bishop and Mrs. Robert Gooden entertained at the Mary Louise, the occasion serving to formally announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alice Gooden, to William Minkler. The bridal motif was carried out in all the appointments.

Miss Gooden and her father plan to leave the latter part of next June for Pittsburgh, where the wedding will take place. She was graduated from the Bishop's School in La Jolla and Pomona College, while her fiance, who is a Pasadena man, claims California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, as his alma mater.

Betrothal

Col. and Mrs. Charles T. Lee, 640 La Loma Road, Pasadena, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alice Shapleigh Leeds, to Karl Albert Gansle, 336 South San Gabriel Boulevard, Pasadena. The wedding date has not been set.

Wed Saturday

Mrs. Harriet Patterson of the Town House entertained at the Cocoanut Grove recently with a dinner-dance, honoring Miss Katherine Hackett, who became the bride of George H. McDonald of Rock Island, Ill., last Saturday. Table decorations included pink roses, cyclamen and dahlias and the guests were presented with corsages and boutonnieres of gardenias.

Another affair given for the bride prior to her marriage was the luncheon with which Mrs. Errol P. Nelson of Beverly Hills entertained. A surprise shower was a feature of the affair.

Mrs. E. A. K. Hackett, mother of the bride, entertained the wedding party last Thursday with a buffet supper at her home in Beverly Hills.

Alumnae Association

The Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae Association conducted its first meeting of the fall season recently at the Hollywood Athletic Club. Luncheon was served to more than sixty guests. Mrs. Beecher J. Dickson, newly elected province director gave an account of the recent province convention at Reno. Officers of the association are Miss Marion Shaw, president; Mrs. Roger Dingfelder, vice-president; Mrs. Peter Whitehill, treasurer; Miss Marion Wiley, recording secretary, and Miss Emma Demond, secretary.

Here and There

Social leaders of the Southland will make the clubhouse at Tanforan their headquarters during the coming race meet opening the middle of this month. Among those planning to entertain with luncheons during the period of sport is Mrs. Hamilton H. Cotton of Chicago, Los Angeles and San Clemente. Mrs. Cotton entertained extensively during the five days of the sport at Del Monte.

Mrs. Ole Hanson was a familiar figure in the clubhouse last spring and plans to attend frequently this fall. Others interested in the meet are Mrs. Chaffee Earl, Mrs. Milton Getz, Mrs. Marcus Heilman, Mrs. John McKeon, Mrs. Paul Hunter, Mrs. Carleton Burke, Mrs. Norman W. Church and Mrs. Ben Meyer, all of Los Angeles; Mrs. Fred Almy of Phoenix and Mrs. Charles E. Perkins of Santa Barbara.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Fox, Jr., Mrs. Charles J. Fox and Miss Beatrice Fox of Altadena are guests at the Ambassador Hotel, New York City.

Mrs. Juanita Crosland has just returned to Hollywood after two months at Fort McClellan, Ala., where she was the house guest of Lieut. and Mrs. R. S. Henderson. The return trip was made via the Panama Canal on the S.S. President Garfield, with brief visits at Havana and Balboa. Among the passengers on board the Garfield were Mrs. Kathleen Gibbs, mother of Kay Francis; Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Ingham, parents of the author, Katherine Brush, and Prince Hohenlohe of Berlin, Germany. Mrs. Crosland will be a guest at the Hollywood Knickerbocker for the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Goodan, 2440 North Vermont avenue, were recent guests at the Ahwahnee, Yosemite.

Charles M. Sheppard, Mayor of Golden City, Mo., and Mrs. Sheppard are passing the winter with their son Frank M. Sheppard and his family, 4241 West Sixty-third street. Mr. Sheppard is the first Republican Mayor to be elected in Golden City in forty years.

After a sojourn in the East Miss Mary A. Cox has returned to her Los Angeles home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Fich are guests at the Dodge Hotel, Washington. They have as their guest Mrs. Emma Whitaker.

Miss Wilma Thompson recently returned to Los Angeles after a protracted stay in New York City, where she was a student at Sargent School. She will be the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. William H. Kennedy.

Dr. and Mrs. Guy Van Buskirk, Harold Kispert and Dr. Walter Wilson Thomas have just returned from Mammoth Lakes, where they enjoyed snow sports and late season trout fishing.

Among the recent guests at the Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, were Mr. and Mrs. J. Guilfoyle, Mrs. C. C. Linnard and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. James F. Percy, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dunning, Ben Brodsky and J. B. Daniel of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. I. K. Hamilton, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Birdsey of Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell M. Taylor of Los Angeles are guests at the St. Regis Hotel, New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Newman, 357 South Kenmore avenue, are guests at Hotel Bretton Hall, New York City.

Mrs. M. F. Boston and Frank Ryan are guests at the Hotel Paramount, New York City.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CRANBERRY RELISH

Two quarts of cranberries, three and a half pounds of white sugar, one pound of seeded raisins, four tablespoonfuls of grated orange rind, one cupful of vinegar, three-quarters of a cupful of orange juice, one teaspoonful of ginger, a half a teaspoonful of cloves, one and a half teaspoonfuls of cinnamon. Wash and pick over the cranberries, add all the other ingredients to them and simmer slowly until cooked down to a thick marmalade. Place the mixture in hot sterilized jars, allow to cool, cover and store.

This is nice served with cold meats or with roast chickens and turkey.

CHICKEN HOT POT

Take a large chicken and cut into small pieces, cover with boiling water and boil until nearly tender, remove the chicken from the broth and save the broth. Cut up one pound of lean raw ham into small squares, wash, peel and parboil six medium-sized potatoes and slice them, slice three medium-sized onions. Place in a deep baking dish a layer of the chicken, a layer of the ham, a layer of the potatoes and a layer of the onions. Repeat until all has been used, dotting each layer with small pieces of butter, pouring over a little of the chicken broth in between the layers that has been seasoned with salt and pepper, add enough more of the broth to almost fill the baking dish. Place in the oven and bake slowly for an hour and a half. Serve from the dish in which it has been baked, sprinkling over the top finely chopped parsley and thinly sliced cooked carrots.

RICED BANANAS AND POACHED EGGS

One-fourth cupful of rice, one cupful of water, sliced bananas, one poached egg for each person, parsley sauce. Place the well-washed rice in the top of a double boiler, cover and cook until the rice is soft and the water absorbed. Season the rice with salt and paprika and two tablespoonfuls of butter, after removing from the double boiler. Place a layer of the rice in a baking dish and cover it one inch deep with sliced bananas, place in the oven and bake for fifteen minutes. Place on top of this a poached egg for each service, garnish with strips of broiled bacon and serve with a parsley sauce.

BAKED ONIONS AND CHEESE

Slice thin six medium-sized onions, place in a saute pan four tablespoonfuls of butter or shortening, and fry the onions until slightly browned, add two medium-sized tomatoes that have been cut in small pieces, season with salt, paprika and half a teaspoonful of sugar and, if necessary, add a little water. Cover and cook about thirty minutes, stirring occasionally, pour the mixture into a well-oiled shallow baking dish and cover thickly with grated cheese, place in the oven until the cheese has been melted and browned.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Health and Diet

ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

SYMPTOMS AND CAUSES OF HEART TROUBLES

Heart trouble causes more deaths than any other disease in North America notwithstanding the fact that a healthy heart is a strong, sturdy organ capable of beating more than 2,000,000,000 times in an average lifetime.

If you have any symptoms, such as shortness of breath, distress while lying on the left side, pain in the heart, poor circulation or palpitation of the heart, I would advise you to go to your doctor and have a diagnosis made, as he is usually able to tell very quickly whether or not there is something wrong with your heart.

Millions of people have sound hearts, yet are afraid they have serious heart trouble. This fear keeps them from going to the doctor and finding out that their hearts are all right. On the other hand, many patients with heart defects are unaware of their true condition. It often happens that the symptoms which the patient ascribes to the heart are really due to digestive trouble. An excess of gas may cause pain in the region of the heart in some cases or bring on palpitation which passes when the diet is adjusted.

If your symptoms are caused from the stomach or bowels, then attention should be directed to these organs, but if your doctor tells you that you have heart disease, then, regardless of the particular kind of heart trouble, it is advisable to follow some general rules.

After a careful study of the many causes of heart disorders, I have come to the conclusion that the principal causes may be listed as follows: First overeating of all kinds of food and drinking too much liquid; second, the use of excessive amounts of starch and sugar above the body requirements; third, the use of improper combinations of food which produce excessive stomach and intestinal gas; fourth the use of gassy foods such as onions, garlic, cooked cabbage, dried beans; fifth, over-exertion to which the body is not accustomed; sixth, growths and tumors which interfere with the free circulation of the blood, including enlargement of the thyroid gland; seventh, overweight; eighth, prolonged emotional distress due to fear, worry, etc.; ninth, toxic poisoning from the colon, rheumatism and focal infections.

Wrong diet is probably the most important factor in producing heart disorders. Improper mixtures not only produce gas which presses against the heart and impedes its work but they will also produce an internal toxemia. It is easy to understand that the large amounts of irritating material carried through the heart by the blood stream must in time have some effect upon the tender membranes lining the heart and upon the valves themselves. This general toxemia may manifest itself as rheumatism, and those with a rheumatic tendency usually develop some form of heart trouble later on. More valvular leakage is produced in children and young people through rheumatism than with any other disease. Frequently, this toxic condition of the body is accompanied by tonsillitis, sinus trouble, infected teeth, influenza, etc. Then as the toxemia becomes more acute, heart involvement takes place.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 8 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, sizes and bells and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

SCHOOL CHILD TOO NERVOUS TO EAT GOOD BREAKFAST

Problems of older children who are in school are always so complicated that one hesitates to make suggestions for treatment of them. Not only is the home environment acting upon the child, but there are also the school, the teacher and the pupils, to add their bit in making the child happy or miserable.

Mrs. J. D. A. is worried about the inexplicable conduct of her 6-year-old child since starting to school. She writes: "On school mornings she doesn't seem to be able to eat her breakfast, and often vomits. The nurse at school examined her and can see no reason for this condition. She is in good health as to vision, hearing and tonsils; her lungs and teeth are perfect. She eats her lunch and dinner with a good appetite and is elated over the day's happenings. I have told her that if she does not eat her breakfast, she cannot go to school and she begs me not to keep her home.

MORNING BATTLES

"Her teacher says she is very sweet in school, and a willing worker. But I don't like these morning battles over breakfast. Perhaps I am at fault because, against my better judgment, I have punished her for what I call her 'silliness' and now I am beginning to think it is nervousness.

"She used to vomit a great deal two years ago and at your advice I took her to a doctor and he told me it was extreme nervousness. Fortunately she got over it and has been splendid for a year. Now I know I am at fault."

SERVE BREAKFAST ATTRACTIVELY

Perhaps some small changes could be made in the whole day's routine to end the nervousness, which is probably the cause of the vomiting. I would get her up at least fifteen minutes sooner than you have been, so that she has plenty of time for breakfast. Give her a glass of orange juice on rising and serve her breakfast as attractively as possible. Give small portions in different dishes, so that they have a new and special appeal, two or three tablespoonfuls of cooked cereal, top milk, two slices of thin, crisp, buttered toast, and a cupful of hot cocoa. Don't mention her failure to eat even though she doesn't make much headway with the food. Say, "Now that was a nice breakfast and you'll eat more tomorrow." Never mention her failures and make the most of her successes.

Give her a half-hour rest period right after school and another just before dinner. This will help in her general condition. If she does vomit, don't fuss at all, for that only increases her nervousness. Your own emotional attitude and her endeavor to please you in order to not miss school are putting her in just the nervous condition that makes it impossible for her to enjoy her breakfast. See that she is in bed at 7:30 or 8 every night.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

FARMER BROWN'S BOY EXPERIMENTS

If this we do and that we try,
We'll gain true knowledge by and by.

—Farmer Brown's Boy.

Bobby Coon and Jimmy Skunk had behaved like gentlemen—they had respected each other. Yes, sir, they had. They had gone so far as to eat from the same dish, and you must admit that that was going a long way. Perhaps each had been a bit greedy, fearing that he would not get his full share, but the fact remains that they had eaten together without a quarrel. Farmer Brown's Boy and Mother Brown, watching from the kitchen doorway, agreed that they were gentlemen, all things considered. "I've always said that Jimmy Skunk is a gentleman, but I wasn't so sure of Bobby Coon," said Farmer Brown's Boy. "Jimmy will eat from my hand and will allow me to pick him up any time, but I suspect Bobby Coon would take to his black little heels and run away if I should try it with him. If he didn't do that he probably would bite me."

"In other words he has more sense than Jimmy Skunk; he isn't so stupid as not to be afraid," said Mother Brown with a twinkle in her eyes.

"It is no such thing!" declared Farmer Brown's Boy, indignantly. "Jimmy Skunk isn't stupid at all; he is smart! He is smart enough to know that with me he is perfectly safe. On the other hand Bobby Coon is suspicious. To be sure it is not to be wondered at. Hunters have made him run for his life too often for him to have much faith in men or boys. He cannot very well know that they are not all alike. I am surprised that he has had the courage to come into the woodshed with us standing here. I wish he would let me pat him. I am going to experiment with him. Yes, sir, I am going to experiment with Bobby Coon."

So the next evening when Bobby Coon entered the woodshed he found Farmer Brown's Boy sitting beside the dish of food. He was sitting on a box right beside that dish of food. Bobby hesitated and hung back. While he hesitated up came Jimmy Skunk and crowded him aside. Yes, sir he crowded Bobby Coon aside and at once began eating from that dish just as if no one else was present. He didn't so much as turn his head when Farmer Brown's Boy began to stroke him.

"Humph!" exclaimed Bobby Coon to himself. "If that fellow isn't afraid there is no reason why I should be. Still I—I—I don't quite see how he dares allow even Farmer Brown's Boy to be so familiar. Anyway, I've got to have some of that dinner. I've got to."

He was sitting on a box right beside that dish of food.

So Bobby moved around to the other side of the dish where he would be farthest from Farmer Brown's Boy and, with a watchful and suspicious eye on the latter, began to eat. Jimmy Skunk growled two or three times. Bobby took no notice of this and began eating rather hurriedly. All the time Farmer Brown's Boy was talking in a low and friendly tone and stroking and patting Jimmy Skunk.

Suddenly Bobby Coon became jealous. He didn't know he was jealous, but he was. He was jealous of Jimmy Skunk. Had any one told him that he was jealous he would have declared that it was no such thing. He would have been quite provoked about it. But right down inside Bobby Coon was just a little bit put out because Jimmy Skunk was being petted by Farmer Brown's Boy. Back of it was the fact that he dared allow Farmer Brown's Boy such liberties while he, Booby Coon didn't. That was jealousy. Yes, sir, that was nothing but jealousy. You know jealousy is a queer thing. It has a way of showing itself when least expected in queer ways.

All the time Farmer Brown's Boy appeared not to notice Bobby Coon at all. He kept on petting Jimmy Skunk and talking to him in low, pleasant tones. Of course Bobby couldn't understand what Farmer Brown's Boy was saying. Perhaps it was just as well, for this is what it was:

"Some day I'll be doing this to you, Bobby Coon. Yes, sir, I will. And you will like it. Give me a little time and you and I will be the best of friends, just as Jimmy Skunk and I are now."

Wouldn't Bobby have been surprised could he have understood that?

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Washable Gloves

It pays to wash several pairs of gloves at the same time, as it is a saving in time and materials. The best way to launder washable gloves is to use tepid soapsuds for washing, tepid soapsuds for rinsing and in the last tepid suds add one tablespoonful of glycerine. See if your gloves are not perfectly laundered.

Household Lore

Turpentine mixed with warm milk will make the oilcloth look like new.

Flat, shallow cooking utensils use less fuel and are easier to clean.

Frequently spots on a felt hat may be rubbed off by rubbing lightly with pieces of blotter.

A can of consomme or bouillon should always be in the house to take the place of the stock called for in many recipes

A Littered Kitchen

After you have made all the preparations for the dinner, wash up every pot, pan and utensil you have used and put them away. Then you have an excellent start beforehand and the dishes from the dinner itself will not seem so irksome, besides the joy of an orderly kitchen and plenty of space for serving.

In the Boiler

Slice a lemon with the rind into the boiler of clothes. It will make the clothes beautifully white and take stains out of pocket handkerchiefs, underwear and table linen.

Jurist to Speak at Recreational Group Meeting

How recreational organizations of the city may contribute to the curbing of juvenile delinquency will be described by Juvenile Judge Scott of the Superior Court when he addresses recreation executives of Los Angeles tonight at the second session of the city-wide recreation and play leadership conference.

Judge Scott's subject will be "Play Versus Delinquency," and it will be the principal talk of tonight's session at Echo Playground Community Center. The recreation leadership confernce is being held on six successive Mondays for the benefit of leaders in all types of recreational work, and is sponsored by the City Playground and Recreation Department.

Other speakers on tonight's program are Miss Cornelia Stevenson Campfire Girls executive; Steve Jessup, director of boys' clubs for the city schools; Francis Daugherty, assistant director of the department of health and corrective physical education, city schools; Miss Nina Criegler, director of nutrition service, Los Angeles chapter of the Red Cross, and Eugene L. Roberts, department of physical education, University of Southern California.

Diet Lecturer Returns Today

Paul C. Bragg of Los Angeles, president of the National Diet and Health Association of America, will arrive home today after completing a two-year lecture tour of the United States. He will deliver seven free lectures on health and diet at Trinity Auditorium, beginning next Sunday.

In 1918 Bragg won the A.A.U. wrestling championship at Baltimore, Md., and the Pacific Coast endurance championship in 1926, when he ran from Santa Monica to Los Angeles in record time. He is president of the Academy of Applied Drugless Science, and a member of the board of examiners of the American Red Cross.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

THE story about town last night—on the eve of the opening of the new Civic Repertory season—was that the theater directors were negotiating with Helen Menken to come west to play the lead in "The Infinite Shoe Black." The latter is the second play of the season and follows Shaw's "The Apple Cart," which will be wheeled onto the Music Box stage tonight.

Miss Menken, one of Broadway's first actresses, did "The Infinite Shoeblack" when it was presented in New York and naturally a lot of people would like to see her in the part here.

Speaking of "The Apple Cart," the dress rehearsal of that ironically clever and very funny drama was held last night. Although there weren't many people there, those who were in the audience had good things to say. Which sounds promising.

Second Mason Play Prepared

And speaking of being prepared. They're casting at the Mason Theater now for "Go Get Your Man," the Martha Stanley play which will follow the current play, "Women Who Take."

Rumor has it that "Kept Husbands," by Forest Halsey, a screen original, will be whipped into shape for the third play.

"Lysistrata" Postponed

Now it appears that Belasco and Curran aren't going to do "Lysistrata" after all. First they were going to present it in October and possibly with Fay Bainter in the lead. Next, it was postponed for a while.

The latest is that it won't be done at all. It's very expensive production to cast and get settings for, for one thing, and second it has run into quite a little censorship in New York.

There's a possibility that it may come here in the form of a road show.

Anna May Wong on Broadway

From New York comes a story that Anna May Wong, the Chinese actress who hails from Los Angeles, is in the feminine lead of "On the Spot," the Edgar Wallace show on Broadway. Crane Wilbur, plays opposite.

Anna May just came back to America from Europe where she has been flitting about from country to country, winning hands everywhere. She played in foreign pictures, was in a show or two, and seemed to be well liked in everything.

Al Jolson in German Show

Another tale from the Eastern front is that Al Jolson is contemplating a return to the stage in "Die Wunderbar," a German piece going into the Bayes theater.

A Los Angeles Hit

One of the town's hits is, without question, "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" with Charlotte Greenwood at El Capitan theater.

Matt Allen, manager of the theater under the Henry Duffy supervision, is authority for the statement that up to one day last week—I think it was Friday—some 69,333 persons had seen the show.

He has sellouts, he says, for all four shows of the week-end, capacity being 1541 tickets. Then he does good business the rest of the week.

Mr. Duffy, it is reported, is looking for sixteen people who look and act like Charlotte Greenwood. He'll get the plays.

"New Moon" to Close in Week

Perry Askam has started his final week in "The New Moon" at the Biltmore Theater, where the Romberg melodies are apparently quite as popular as when first heard here.

PERRY ASKAM

Last-minute efforts were made to extend the stay of the star and company of 100, but as Lillian Albertson has booked a road tour opening in Portland next week, it was found impossible. So Saturday night will terminate the engagement. Askam will be presented in London in a new operetta, it is said.

Dorothy Christy in "Big Money"

"Big Money," the current R.-K.-O. Theater offering, brings Dorothy Christy prominently to the downtown screen for the fourth time in the space of two weeks.

Miss Christy's recent appearances were in "So This is London," "Playboy of Paris" and "Extravagance." Though her roles differ widely in these productions she is said to demonstrate an unusual flair for sophisticated parts.

Eddie Quillan is starred in "Big Money."

Novel Features in Film Comedy

Several unique features are said to characterize John Ford's first humorous directorial effort, "Up the River," which is playing at the Boulevard Theater. The story, an original by Maurine Watkins, author of "Chicago," revolves around the efforts of two burglars to further the romance of two other inmates of the penitentiary. Spencer Tracy, Claire Luce and William Collier, Sr., are in the cast.

RECITAL SCHEDULED

Henry Cowell, pianist and modern composer, will give a lecture-recital Friday night at the studio of Dr. Alexis Kall, 1109 Magnolia avenue.

Capable Player Enacts New Role

Kitty Kelly

Portrays Elsie Carter in Jane Murfin's drama, "Women Who Take," which is proving a popular attraction at the Mason Theater.

SHAW PLAY DUE TONIGHT

George Bernard Shaw has been before the public eye for the past week. This 75-year-old gentleman has given the world by means of the broadcast, a pertinent message. He has discovered for the benefit of film producers new possibilities in the making of their own product. He has even shown the actors how to play their parts. And tonight at the Hollywood Music Box Theater he will predict for a distinguished audience the political perils that may beset the two powerful governments, the United States and the British Empire.

In his play, "The Apple Cart," the selection for the opening of the Bowl Theater Association's sponsorship of the Civic Repertory season, Shaw takes occasion to point out in satiric vein some truths about monarchial ruling, which though they amuse at the moment, will cause serious thinkers to ponder, it is reported.

The Civic Repertory has provided an unusual setting for the Shaw play. The cast is headed by Alan Mowbray and Doris Lloyd, and was selected by Director Claude King for certain Shavian knowledge and appreciation. It includes Evelyn Hall, Daisy Belmore, Paul Nicholson, Boyd Irwin, Olaf Hytten, Nellie Strong, Cyril Delevanti, Eric Snowdon, Chappell Dossett, Lillian Bond, Howard Davies, Arnold Walsh and Donald Murray.

GILBERT TO PLAY ROUGH, READY PART

"Way for a Sailor" Next at Loew's State Theater; Beery in Cast

John Gilbert dons dungarees and portrays a rough and ready sailor in his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, "Way for a Sailor," announced to start Thursday at Loew's State Theater.

Wallace Beery, featured with the star, and Jim Tully are the other two members of a trio of jolly sailors who fight their way through adventures, stormy thrills and barroom brawls.

Gilbert also has a private romance with Leila Hyams, the girl, who is "different" from all the others this sailor with a sweetheart in every port has encountered. Sam Wood directed, and the picture is an adaptation of the novel by Albert Richard Wetjen.

Will Rogers, appearing in person on the stage all this week at Loew's State, is attracting crowds. "Lilliom," is the Fox current feature.

Leo Carrillo Draws Throng to Playhouse

The opening Thursday night of "Mister Antonio" was a signal for well-wishers of Leo Carrillo to flock to the Hollywood Playhouse, where Henry Duffy is presenting the Booth Tarkington comedy, with the result that packed houses have been greeting the popular star.

In addition to his appearance in the comedy as the explosive Italian hurdy-gurdy man, Carrillo comes out before the curtain after the second act in ten minutes given over to a lively patter of dialect stories for which the actor is noted.

The whimsical character of Mister Antonio is said to be one of the most interesting in Carrillo's career and bids fair to exceed his previous record at the Playhouse, where he played last season in "Lombardi, Ltd."

Pantages Will Screen Cecil De Mille Film

"Madam Satan," Cecil B. De Mille's newest film production, starts its first Hollywood engagement Thursday at Pantages Hollywood Theater, where it will be accompanied by a Fanchon and Marco idea entitled "Way Back When," staged by Le Roy Prinz.

In the picture De Mille is said to revert back to the type of production which brought him note, the "spectacle." This time a ball on a Zeppelin is climaxed by an accident to the airship and the parachute descent of all the passengers.

The principal roles are played by Reginald Denny, Kay Johnson, Lillian Roth and Roland Young. Other members of the cast include Wallace MacDonald, Edward Davis, Tyler Brooke, Julanne Johnston, Katherine De Mille and Nora Lane.

SOUTH SEA DRAMA NEXT AT BELASCO

"Bird of Flame" Succeeds "Young Sinners" Sunday; Interest High in Play

Unusual interest is being evidenced in the forthcoming production at the Belasco Theater, "The Bird of Flame," starring Dorothy Burgess, the management reports. Seats for the opening week go on sale today and the box-office staff is expecting a busy day. The new play starts Sunday night.

DOROTHY BURGESS

The current presentation, "Young Sinners," is proving itself a popular attraction. Marian Marsh, John Darrow, Cecil Cunningham and Molly O'Day play featured roles.

In "The Bird of Flame" Miss Burgess portrays a primitive dancing girl from a South Sea island. Bramwell Fletcher and Robert Frazer are featured in the supporting cast.

Telescope Part of Display at Carthay Circle

Among the lobby attractions now being shown at the Carthay Circle Theater, the telescope of A. W. Armstrong is creating perhaps the most interest.

Armstrong was engaged by the theater to explain the mysteries of the heavens to patrons before they witness "Just Imagine." He is a well-versed astronomer and his telescope ranks with others in the city for power, it is said.

Another lobby offering of the theater is the model rocket plane, designed and built by Maurice Polrier. A flying model, when completed, will approach 1000 miles an hour, the Burbank inventor says.

Porcasi Begins Work in Film

Paul Porcasi begins work today at M.-G.-M. studios in the French version of "A Lady's Morals," playing for the second time the role of Maretti, Jenny Lind's manager, the characterization he created several months ago in the English version. The French edition of the picture is directed by Arthur Robison.

Porcasi has "doubled" several parts in English and foreign pictures, and is said to be fitted for such engagements by reason of his twenty years' experience on the American stage and his fluent command of French and Italian.

BURLESQUE ENJOYED

"Pretty Babies" is the title of the current burlesque at the Follies Theater. The show opens with popular song medleys and winds its way through a succession of comedy numbers, blackouts, songs and dances. A trio of dancing soubrettes, Verne, Leona White and Elvie Herndon, are much in evidence. The same is true of Pauline Elliott. Fagan and Clark are principal comedians and extract humor from various situations. Bob Stanley and Bob Jones sing their way to favor. The ensemble numbers are lively.

AMERICAN BARITONE TRIUMPHS

Enthusiastic Audience Greets Soloist Bonelli at Philharmonic

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Sunday concert series of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra had a brilliant opening yesterday afternoon when Dr. Rodzinski conducted the principal Beethoven overture, the third "Leonore;" the seventh symphony, which is a favorite; and Richard Bonelli of the Chicago Civic Opera sang three popular operatic successes. The audience was large and enthusiastic.

Rodzinski's "Leonore" was restrained, dignified and the acme of good taste. He played it with refreshing interest, and the response was spontaneous.

The tone of the orchestra is remarkable this year. It is gaining cohesion under the effective baton of this leader, and with the orchestra well in hand, Dr. Rodzinski is beginning to show his mettle. The Beethoven seventh symphony was a fit vehicle for his ardent spirit yesterday afternoon. It is essentially a symphony of rhythm and Rodzinski, being in time with his contemporaries, excels in rhythm.

The men of our Philharmonic play this work so easily and with such respect that it gives an aspiring conductor great opportunity. The majestic slow movement and the gay third were made the most of yesterday. It might be an interesting experiment to cut the first and fourth and to take the fourth a little less bombastically.

Richard Bonelli was warmly welcomed back to Los Angeles. Having sung here in opera and concert, his merits are known. Choosing to sing such universal favorites as the prologue from "Pagliacci," "Vision Fugitive" from Massenet's "Herodiade" and "Largo al factotum" from "The Barber of Seville," his success was assured.

Bonelli is one of the outstanding artists of this country. Although a young man he has acquired unusual musicianship. He began with the character of a typical New England American and a powerful baritone voice, and his continued training has done the rest. Both the "Prologue" and the "Largo" were exceedingly well done yesterday, but the difficult aria from "Herodiade" declared the depth and subtlety of his art.

After repeated recalls the hour was so late that "Till Eulenspiegel" was played to a diminished audience. The concert was complete without it.

Carl Laemmle Fetes European Film Notables

Significant of the cosmopolitan growth of Hollywood, since the beginning of foreign-language production of talking films, a reception and tea were given yesterday at the residence of Carl Laemmle, president of Universal Pictures Corporation, in Benedict Canyon, at which more than fifty European stars, directors and others concerned were present. The affair was in their honor, and was one of the very first to signalize in an elaborate way their presence here. Assisting Laemmle as host were his son, Carl Laemmle, Jr., his daughter, Mrs. Stanley Bergerman, and Paul Kohner, in charge of foreign production.

Those present included representatives of the French, German and Spanish screen art, and others, as follows: Arlette Marchal, Marcel De Sano, Ivan Petrovitch, Marcel De Garcin, Andre Nicolle, Tania Fedor, Olga Tschechova, Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Riemann, Lisel Arna, Erich Von Stroheim, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Junkermann, Miss A. Barthel, Celia Montalva, Barry Norton, Amelia Seniterra, Paust Rocha, Kurt Nuemann, Paul Morgan, Karl Freund, Tala Birrell, Wilhelm Dietterle, G. Ettlinger, Paul Stein, J. Frankel, W. Klingler, Anton Pointner, Arthur Gregor, Ernst Laemmle, Dr. E. E. Redlich, Heinz Roimheld, Manuel Arbo, Ricardo Barros, Soriano Viosca, Carlos Villar, Lupita Tovar, Eduardo Arozamena, Alvarez Rubio, Arnold Korff, Ivan Kahn, Sigmund Moos, E. M. Asher, George Melford, Paul Stein, Henry Henigson, Stanley Bergerman and others.

Film and Stage Veteran Enacts Pioneer Role

"The Big Trail," Raoul Walsh's epic film of pioneers, now showing at Grauman's Chinese Theater, will mark Tully Marshall's 355th role.

TULLY MARSHALL

Before his entrance to pictures Marshall was on the stage for forty-five years, and is remembered for his featured roles in "Paid in Full," "The City" and "The Trap." His first prominent role on the screen was in "Intolerance."

"The Big Trail" continues to interest audiences at the Chinese, where it is presented at two daily performances, with Seymour Felix's gay prologue. The augmented orchestra offers a medley of pioneer airs.

OUTSTANDING SHORT SUBJECT ON SCREEN

"Lost Gods," rated as an outstanding short subject, is an added feature on the current program at the Fox Wilshire Theater, playing a five-day engagement with "Those Three French Girls," farce-comedy.

The short subject is a camera-and-microphone record of varied religious beliefs and customs in foreign countries.

HARBOR'S TRADE GAIN DISCLOSED

Export Business Increases in Nine-Month Period

Aggregate of 5,276,790 Tons Worth $111,495,492

Imports, However, Decrease in Volume and Value

Export business through Los Angeles Harbor during the first nine months of this year showed an increase over the figure for the corresponding period of last year, but there was a decrease in the volume and value of imports, according to figures released yesterday by the foreign commerce department of the Chamber of Commerce.

The combined volume of exports and imports was greater during this period than in the same nine months last year, but the value of the combined exports and imports was less this year than in the first nine months of 1929.

Exports at the harbor for this period totaled 5,276,790 tons, valued at $111,495,492, as against 5,115,996 tons, valued at $107,896,778 during the corresponding months last year. Imports up to September 30, last, were 546,685 tons, valued at $37,380,247, as against 870,881 tons, valued at $41,720,621, during the same months last year.

A month-by-month comparison of exports and imports for the two years follows:

CARELESS OWNERS INVITE AUTO THEFT, SAYS SHERIFF

Automobile thefts would be materially decreased if automobile owners were as careful about locking their cars as they are about locking their homes, according to Capt. Bispham, head of the Sheriff's auto-theft detail.

While taking every precaution to secure their homes in their absence, many automobile owners with cars representing a cash value in many instances equal to the furniture and other effects in their homes will leave their automobiles on the street with the key in the ignition switch, Bispham said.

Bispham's monthly report for October shows that of 132 automobiles stolen during the month in territory outside Los Angeles city 130 were recovered, representing a total value of $34,101.

Citing that automobiles used in bank and highway robberies are often stolen, Bispham stated that if it is difficult to steal a car criminals and potential criminals will be still further deterred in the commission of crimes.

Speakers Will Voice Views on British Policy

Christian and Jewish speakers will express in addresses at Philharmonic tomorrow evening their feeling about the recent action of the British government in Palestine concerning the Zionist movement.

Speakers are announced as Mayor Porter, Dr. Edwin P. Ryland, Benjamin F. Bledsoe, Rex B. Goodcell, Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, Rabbi S. M. Neches and Chaim Shapiro. Mendel B. Silberberg will preside.

Resolutions of protest are to be presented to the meeting. Members of the resolutions committee are Judge Harry A. Hollzer, Rabbi Julius A. Leibert, Benjamin J. Scheinman, Lester W. Roth, Philip Stein and Louis Hamburger. Aaron Riche is chairman of the committee in charge of the meeting.

CHAMBER PARTY OFF TOMORROW

Mexico Excursion Group to Depart Via Espee

Hundred and Sixty-one Will Make Amity Jaunt

Trade Stimulation Expected as Result of Tour

One of the largest tours to Mexico arranged by the Chamber of Commerce will get under way at 3:15 p.m. tomorrow, when 161 bankers, manufacturers, business men and other excursionists start from Los Angeles on the Southern Pacific for the southern republic.

The expedition, the sixth personally conducted tour of the commerce body, will take the visitors to Mexico City for a stay of six days, to Guadalajara, and to sixteen principal cities and points of interest.

One of the incidental results of the tour is expected to be a stimulation of trade between Southern California and Mexico, since some of those making the trip have declared their intention of taking advantage of the opportunity to establish business contacts. They will return to Los Angeles on the 22nd inst.

President Austin of the chamber, his wife and three daughters are among those in the tour. The party will make its first stop Wednesday afternoon at Hermosillo. Following is a list of those who have engaged reservations on the tour, which is in charge of Charles P. Bayer, field secretary of the chamber:

GIRL SUES STEPIN FETCHIT

Stepin Fetchit, Negro screen comedian, failed to pay all of the $5000 he promised her if she would not file a breach-of-promise suit, Yvonne Butler, Negress, asserts in a suit filed against him before Municipal Judge Baird.

The agreement was made, according to Clarence Hull, attorney and assignee for Miss Butler, in August, 1929. It provided for $2500 to be paid immediately and the remainder at the rate of $50 weekly. Hull charges that Fetchit "forgot" to continue the weekly payments after making sixteen of them. He asks the remaining $1700.

Banker Up to Plead Today

Edison J. Young, former banker of Hermosa Beach, is scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge Cosgrave for entry of his plea on a charge of misapplication of bank funds. Young had formerly pleaded not guilty, but it is indicated that he will change his plea today.

JUSTICE OF PEACE CONTEST DROPPED

Because an application for an election to recall Justice of the Peace John Zaring of Belvedere township is before the county Board of Supervisors for approval, Attorney Ben Van Tress has dismissed his contest to be declared winner of the recent election at which Justice Zaring received a majority of 287 votes. The dismissal is on file in Superior Judge Edmonds's court. Van Tress contended in his petition that there were numerous irregularities in the Belvedere precinct election.

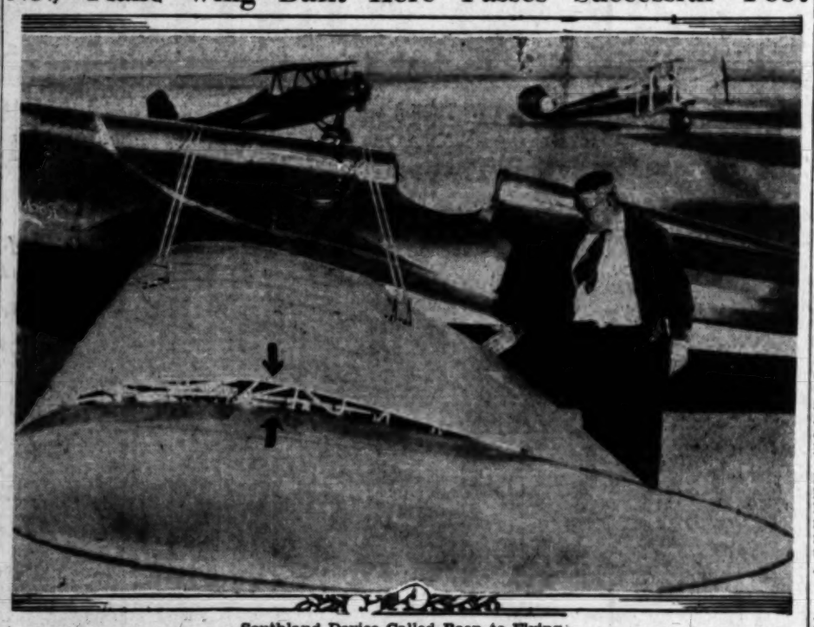
ANOTHER CHAPTER ADDED TO AVIATION

New Plane Wing Built Here Passes Successful Test



Southland Device Called Boon to Flying

H. D. Rocheville, inventor of new adjustable speed wing for airplanes, points out angle of difference wing makes with fuselage when set for heavy-load lifting. Arrows in foreground, near wing tip, show distance main section of wing can be raised to create a curvature for slow landing and quick take-off. When wing is flattened for speed main section is even with tip.

COMPARABLE to shifting gears on an automobile with relative increase in speed, an adjustable airplane wing has been secretly developed here and successfully test flown—a wing that demonstrated yesterday it meets the end toward which aeronautical engineers have been striving since man got off the ground.

The new device, hailed by aircraft experts who have seen it function in secret flight as an outstanding step in increasing the efficiency of present-type planes, is the invention of H. D. Rocheville, a Los Angeles man who has been identified with the aviation industry since 1912, with headquarters at Vail Field, Whittier Boulevard.

With his brother, Charles F. Rocheville, veteran pilot and aircraft designer, who flew for Commander MacMillan and Admiral Byrd on their North Pole expedition, Rocheville has perfected his discovery after three years of experimenting at a cost of $35,000.

The secret of the wing is its ability to change shape while in flight. Through a combination of adjustable ribs within the wing, controlled by turning a crank in the cockpit, the wing can be flattened for high speed or its angle increased for greater lifting ability, slow landing speed and quick take-off.

In a two-hour test flight Charles Rocheville showed that with the wing flattened the plane picks up twenty-five miles an hour without increasing the revolutions of the eighty-horsepower Cirrus motor of the orthodox-fuselaged experimental craft. He brought the plane to a landing eighteen miles an hour slower with the wing thickened than when it was flattened and got off the ground in half the distance on the thickened wing than when it was flat.

"Every airplane has a set wing angle," the inventor explained. "Some craft are built for high speed; their wing angle is flat; they land fast and take longer to get off. Others have a thickened wing. These land slow, but they fly slow.

"We have embodied the advantages of all types by giving the pilot an adjustable wing he can set to his needs. Thicken it up with a heavy load for an easy take-off, cut it down for greater speed when the load lightens.

"In a craft that could get off the ground with a load of 6000 pounds—1000 gallons of gasoline in a plane with a single motor of 450 horsepower, for instance—this variable camber wing would increase that craft's cruising range 1600 miles."

The new wing was constructed of duralumin, strongest metal for its weight in the world, without adding weight to an orthodox wing of similar size with 200 square feet of lifting surface.

A secret transcontinental flight last year with a larger wing proved the practicability of the invention and the second wing, with a few improvements over the first, is ready for United States Department of Commerce tests.

Wings embodying the new principle can be manufactured for any type ship now in operation, it was declared by the inventor. He constructed an ordinary fuselage with which to test his improvement.

SEWER HEARING SET

The ordinance of intention for the sewering of the One Hundred and Fourteenth street and Monitor avenue district, recently adopted by the City Council, has been set for the hearing of protests December 9.

POLITICS

THE WATCHMAN

Trend of Political Thought and Action

BY THE GENTRY ON HIS BEAT

With tomorrow's election presenting to the electorate of the State some of the most important decisions in candidates and propositions of various kinds, all forces joined yesterday in urging every citizen eligible, to get out and vote.

On the results of tomorrow's election the future of the State for the next four years will hinge as to important State officers from Governor down. In addition, constitutional amendments and initiative measures of vital concern to the humblest as well as the highest will be won or lost as the vote goes. Some of these twenty-six propositions on the State ballot should be defeated and others should be approved. This is an election that calls more than ever for the intelligent application of the citizens' privilege to vote. In each municipality or locality there are special elections of great importance.

Whichever way it is viewed, this is one State election in which the citizen cannot afford to lay back on the assumption that his own personal interests are not concerned.

With the great number of State propositions on the ballot, voters of Los Angeles are reminded not to overlook the important charter amendments and bond proposition in the special municipal election. These have been carefully analyzed in past issues of The Times, with a full presentation and recommendations in yesterday's issue. Mayor Porter has interested himself particularly in propositions Nos. 6-A, 7-A and 9-A as measures affecting the personnel of the city government and urges their adoption.

The proposed $13,300,000 power bonds continue to draw the fire of prominent men and civic leaders as being unnecessary at this time. One of the most important points advanced against the bonds is that the city's bond credit must be conserved for the more important project of bringing additional water supply to the city, according to William May Garland. "Water is the paramount matter with which we are concerned," said Mr. Garland. "Plans for utilization of the Colorado River as a new source of water supply are well in hand and we cannot afford to gamble with the success of this great measure by unjustified expenditures for projects of secondary importance at this time."

One of the new members of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners, Arthur Strasburger, yesterday issued a statement of his support of the bonds and expressing the belief that the issue is necessary to enable the Power Bureau to meet the increasing demand for electricity.

The City Purchasing Agent's office is advocating the passage of charter amendment 3-A, providing for the centralization of all equipment, supplies and materials for the city under one purchasing agent. Such concentration is followed by large business organizations with the result that better prices can be obtained.

The Republican County Central Committee of the Fifty-eighth Assembly District, has unanimously indorsed Superior Judge Carlos Hardy for re-election to the Superior Court.

Judge William Hazlett, candidate for re-election to the Superior Court, has announced the indorsement of the Federated American Patriotic Society, the County Federation of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Municipal League and the Voters' Protective League.

Supporters of Superior Judge Crawford, candidate for re-election to Office No. 3, have reminded voters to bear in mind that Judge Crawford's opponent, Dudley S. Valentine, is not to be confused with Superior Judge Frederick C. Valentine or with former Superior Judge L. H. Valentine.

Supporters of Proposition No. 12 say that the measure is desirable in that it will make it possible for the Legislature to direct all stenographic and clerical services rendered in connection with its work and pay for them from a fund regularly budgeted for that purpose. The present system is a haphazard one, they say.

Dr. M. Len Hutchins, "dry" candidate for Secretary of State, has just completed a campaign tour of San Francisco and the bay district, where she delivered addresses.

The California Manufacturers' Association is making a strenuous campaign against Proposition No. 26, the so-called Sunday closing law, on the ground that it will work a real harm on many industries of the State. Although originally proposed and talked of as affecting only barber shops, the proposed law includes practically all lines of work. The W. J. Latchford Company, manufacturers of bottles and demijohns, points out, for example, that its tanks have to be kept at a temperature of 2600 deg. all the time. Sunday closing would put it to a tremendous expense. It does not work its men seven days a week, however, it is stated.

Indorsement of Proposition No. 1, the Veterans' Farm and Home Aid Act, was announced yesterday by Will H. Fisher of the Southern California Edison Company, and R. O. Crowe, vice-president of the Los Angeles Railway, proponents of the measure stated.

military organization and to operate it as such.

"These have failed and will continue to fail," he states, "for the reason that in a military form of organization all of the planning, all of the thought, comes from ranking and commissioned officers and a private has practically no opportunity to exercise any individual initiative.

SYSTEM FAILS

"In a police department this theory absolutely fails because, while the police problem in general may be met by preconceived lines of attack, each particular occurrence or case throws the policeman—the private—upon his own resources. The situation must be handled promptly and instantly. By the time a superior officer arrives on the scene the matter usually is history."

The Chief holds that a police organization should indicate authority and detail responsibility so that the co-ordinated efforts of its members, each exercising to a certain degree his own initiative, will result in efficient and effective law enforcement at the lowest possible cost.

TRANSPORT COMPANY INCREASES CAPITAL

Increase of its capitalization from $20,000 to $250,000, is announced by the California Aerial Transport Company, operating at the Municipal Airport, through its president, Lawrence B. Talbot. The corporation, which conducts a commercial flying service and school, began its operations in 1927 at Clover Field, later moved to a field of its own on Pico Boulevard, and now is at Los Angeles Airport.

Graves Thanks Supporters and Recalls Feats

A message of appreciation to the voters of the Third Supervisorial District who have supported his candidacy for re-election was issued yesterday by Sidney T. Graves, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

"I am confident," Graves declared, "of my re-election. It has been my privilege to serve the Third District as Supervisor for the past three and one-half years. In that time I have had the pleasure of reducing the county tax levy by 10 per cent and I am confident that still greater reductions can be made, both in the levy and the overhead of county government."

Woman Loses Damage Suit

Injuries received while walking in the street failed to entitle Mrs. Charlotte Easton, real estate saleswoman, to damages, a jury in Superior Judge Hahn's court decided. Mrs. Easton and her husband, Fred G. Easton, sued H. A. Kennedy, city engineering inspector, for $21,000 for injuries received when the defendant ran the woman down in his car.

Mrs. Easton said she walked in the street because the sidewalk was torn up. This, Kennedy contended, was contributory negligence. The verdict was for the defendant.

"TIMES" ELECTION SERVICE

The Times has made arrangements to cover the general elections in California and other States tomorrow with its accustomed accuracy and dispatch and to make the results known as expeditiously as possible. Beginning at 6:30 p.m. and at frequent intervals thereafter until midnight or thereabouts election returns will be broadcast from KHJ, the Don Lee station. Results from other States will be given over a national hook-up of the Columbia system, with Frederick William Wile at the microphone in Washington. First California returns will be available probably about 7:30 o'clock, the polls closing at 7. In addition to the local and national broadcasts, returns will be made public in special street editions and by telephone to all who call The Times, MAdison 2345.

AIRPLANE TOUR OF STATE ENDS

About Forty Craft in Junior Chamber's Jaunt

One Pilot Safe After Forced Landing in Desert

Last Day Carries Party to San Diego and Home

The second annual good-will tour by airplane sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce came to an end after an eventful trip at the Los Angeles Municipal Airport near Inglewood yesterday afternoon. Approximately forty aircraft brought the party to the home port, where it was learned that the only mishap of the trip had a happy termination, and that Bob Lout, one of the most popular pilots in the party, was safe after a forced landing in the desert on the way from Yuma to El Centro.

Lout, who flew from Bradford, Pa., to take part in the tour, was known to have taken off from Yuma late Saturday afternoon. He did not show up at El Centro Saturday night and was not present when the start was made from Imperial Airport yesterday morning.

SEARCH ORDERED

When he failed to report at San Diego yesterday noon it was decided to make an intensive search for him. Six of the oldest and best flyers on the trip joined a fleet of army planes, under command of Lieut. Irving Woodring of Rockwell Field and started back to the desert country.

In the meantime Lout reached a telephone late yesterday and reported that he had veered from his course, darkness had overtaken him and that he had landed safely in soft sand southeast of El Centro. He said he remained with his plane overnight, but motor trouble developed when he attempted to start it yesterday morning. A mechanic will be flown to the grounded craft this morning and adjust the engine so Lout can fly home.

MANY AT FIELD

The last day of the tour extended from the Imperial Valley through San Diego and Santa Ana to Los Angeles. The start was made yesterday from Imperial county airport at 9 a.m. It was but an hour's run over the mountains to Lindbergh Field at San Diego, where the flyers were greeted by a crowd of several thousand who had gathered to extend a welcome to these ambassadors of good will who had flown from the northern part of the State to the Mexican border on a mission of friendship.

The good-will air tour will be recorded as the largest and most successful venture of its kind ever attempted. More than forty airplanes made the trip of 1687 miles; twenty-two cities were visited and approximately fifteen and a half hours were devoted to actual flying. The State was presented to members of the party in a manner never before realized and the cordial way the various communities responded makes certain that all the objects of the tour were accomplished.

TWO CHURCH DISTURBERS GO TO JAIL

Preachers Help Bring Pair to Law and Judge Gives Them Sentences

A religious meeting is not the proper site for an open forum on the virtues of atheists or agnostics, it was learned by John Manske and Herbert Drake, both 22 years of age, last night, when they were each given a ten-day jail sentence by Judge Miller in Night Court for violation of the law against disturbing a religious meeting.

Drake, who lives at 740 South Crocker street, and Manske, who gave his address as Wilshire Boulevard and Westmoreland avenue, were in the crowd at the outdoor service in front of the Downtown Mission at Winston and Main streets being conducted last night by Rev. N. K. Clarkson, head of the Mission.

According to Dr. Clarkson and his assistant, Rev. Grace Finch, the two youths kept up a steady flow of loud and disturbing conversation and then Drake suddenly shouted, "You're a liar" at the preacher. Drake admitted shouting the epithet, saying he did so because the preacher had called Voltaire, Col. Ingersoll and Tom Paine "devils."

Drake's shout was the signal for a melee which caused some one to phone a riot call into Central Station. It started with Drs. Clarkson and Finch, aided by Abelard Giroux, one of their congregation, grabbing Drake and dragging him into the Mission to hold him until a policeman came. Manske came to the aid of his comrade and people in the crowd came to the aid of the preachers.

Victory perched on the side of greatest numbers and when five policemen responded to the riot call, the two youths had been subdued and were being held captive. The only suffered in the fracas was Giroux, who got a large bump on his head and had his face badly scratched.

Bomb Blast at Altadena Home Follows Threat

PASADENA, Nov. 2.—What the Altadena Sheriff's office men declare to have been a home-made bomb of metal tubing filled with black powder, was exploded in front of the home of George Overson, 1941 Casa Grande Boulevard, tonight. The dwelling is in the county just outside the city limits of Pasadena.

The roar of the explosion caused a near-panic to residents of the neighborhood. Overson declared that he received a mysterious phone call Saturday night telling him that danger threatened him at midnight Sunday. Fragments of the pipe were found in his front yard. He declares that he has no enemies and is at a loss to explain the attack.

BANKS WILL ADOPT NEW NAME TODAY

Institutions in More Than 400 Points Affected by Financial Merger

At 438 points in California today the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association and the Bank of America, an affiliated State bank, open their doors for business as direct successors to the Bank of Italy and the Bank of America of California.

"Combined resources of the institution exceed $1,225,000,000 while the aggregate capital investment, together with the wholly owned subsidiary, Corporation of America, and the securities company, Bankamerica Company, will be $230,000,000," it was announced. "The new organization is the largest in the United States, in the scope of territory covered, the extent of branches, and the number of customers.

"Under the new set-up, Southern California has complete autonomy with administrative headquarters at the Los Angeles main office, Spring and Seventh streets. Meetings of the board of directors will be held alternating between San Francisco and Los Angeles."

Directors of the bank include both boards of the consolidated institutions. E. J. Nolan will be chairman, A. J. Mount, president, and C. R. Bell, Leon Bocqueraz, G. A. Davidson, W. W. Garthwaite and Orra E. Monnette, vice-chairmen.

Prominent among the committee appointments are James A. Bacigalupi, L. M. Giannini and P. C. Hale, constituting the advisory committee.

Other senior executives include H. H. Ashley, W. E. Blauer, W. A. Bonynge, T. J. Grant, W. J. Braunschweiger, H. R. Erkes, Louis Ferrari, J. E. Fishburn, A. P. Giannini, A. J. Cook, Morgan Gunst, W. H. Harrelson, Irving H. Hellman, Marco H. Hellman, W. J. Kieferdorf, A. G. Maurer, Louis H. Moore, W. F. Moorish, Stewart McKee, A. Pedrini, R. M. Philleo, J. H. Rosenberg, J. A. Taylor, R. E. Trengrove, A. E. Sbarboro, George A. Webster, E. J. Wightman, Howard Whipple, R. R. Yates.

"Although a purely California institution, Bank of America represents the culmination of a plan long under contemplation by A. P. Giannini, looking toward the ultimate advent of nation-wide banking," the bank announced.

BANDITS IN TWO RAIDS GET $7000

Trio Bound and Robbed in Home as Second Pair Hold Up Family in Garage

One group of bandits raided a home last night and procured estimated booty of $5000 in diamonds and silverware and at another place held up a man and his family as they drove in the garage and took jewelry valued at $2000, according to the police.

I. M. Hattem, 4152 Second avenue, owner of the Hattem Market, Forty-second street and Western avenue, with his friend, Edward Hohon, 2276½ Ewing street, and the housekeeper, Mrs. B. Baruch, were the victims in the first robbery. Detective Lieutenant Stowell, of University Station, said three bandits came to the door, forced their way in and bound the three victims with adhesive tape. They took a $3000 ring from Hattem, silverware and valuables to the estimated amount of $2000 and $50 cash.

H. D. Trout, 312 Mansfield avenue, together with his wife, his married daughter, Mrs. Gladys P. Behrer, and two grandchildren were held up by two masked bandits as Trout drove his machine into his garage. They took diamonds from Trout and three rings from Mrs. Behrer.

VICIOUS SUNDAY CLOSING LAW

A PERIL TO ALL INDUSTRIES
A MENACE TO ALL EMPLOYEES

The proposed Sunday Closing Act (Proposition 26, November 4 Election Ballot) threatens loss totaling millions of dollars to California industry. Approximately 2300 plants representing an annual production of one thousand million dollars would be affected.

Loss of employment to thousands of workers affecting practically every line of industry will result if this vicious law is enacted.

Misleading and loaded with jokers. "The Barber Shop Law," sponsored by barbers, is a proposed amendment that would make unlawful the performance of labor by any individual or the operation of plants or factories on Sunday, with certain ambiguous exceptions.

The first Section of No. 26 provides:

"It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association, or corporation to conduct, carry on, or keep open for business on Sunday any store, barber shop, workshop, factory or other place of business, or to perform or employ any labor on Sunday."

This law would prohibit such work as repairs on machinery and equipment, rush work to fulfill contracts on which a definite date is set and other kinds of work which practically every manufacturer finds necessary from time to time.

Where Sunday work is now in practice either the continuous work is virtually a matter of necessity or is performed by the employes because of the increased compensation.

This measure, if passed, will constitute an unwarranted attempt to interfere with the personal liberty of the individual. Let us not bow to a small minority of barbers who would compel this abridgement of our personal rights.

This is no time for throwing men out of work and California is no place for making Sunday idle, dull and dismal. Labor and industry should emphatically defeat the measure.

Guymon Company Acquires Property as Investment

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 2.—The largest real estate deal consummated here in some time, involving $1,000,000 and seven parcels of improved downtown property, has been closed by Southwest Union Securities Corporation and Guymon Company, Ltd. Coincident with announcement of the deal, J. H. Shreve and A. C. Shreve, president and vice-president, respectively, of the securities corporation, and E. T. Guymon, Sr., and E. T. Guymon, Jr., president and secretary, respectively of the company bearing their names, expressed optimism in future development of San Diego and declared the "time is ripe now for just such deals."

The most valuable parcel of property involved in the exchange is the new Southern Hotel valued at $500,000 and built on a lot 100x100 feet at the corner of Sixth and B streets. This property, formerly owned by the securities corporation, has been acquired by the Guymon interests. The building, besides housing the hotel, also includes the Worth company's store, offices of the Wetherby Kayser Shoe Company and other stores and shops.

Long-term leases are held by nearly all tenants in the building. Guymon, Sr., explained, and no changes or alterations are contemplated at this time. Both Guymon and his son explained they have acquired the property and improvement as an investment, which they believe will prove a profitable one.

Justice's Right to Preside Will Meet Opposition

REDLANDS, Nov. 2.—The right of Justice C. G. Potter of the Redlands township court to sit on the bench for Judge George Holbrook of San Bernardino is quite likely to be fought out to a finish for Attorney Lester King has denied the right of the Redlands jurist to preside in cases involving more than $200.

Attorney King says that the new legislation dealing with justices of the peace inaugurates rigid regulations to govern jurisdiction of this class of jurists. The point is an involved one and will probably require Appellate Court decision, according to legal authorities.

This new issue is the latest development in a long series of controversies relative to the jurisdiction of Justice George Holbrook since the question was first raised relative to his right to occupy the bench in a township of more than 40,000 unless he were admitted to the State bar and to the practice of law in California.

Justice Potter is an attorney, but King bases his protest upon the right of Justice Holbrook to call into this township a justice qualified and elected in a lower classification of jurisdiction. The San Bernardino court enjoys the special rating which makes it virtually a junior Superior Court.

CHAFFEY ANNOUNCES ASTRONOMY CLASS

ONTARIO, Nov. 2. — Complying with requests from a great group of men and women who wish to know more of the heavenly bodies, Dr. Ralph B. Larkin, authority on astronomy, will open a class in the subject at Chaffey Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. According to Mr. Larkin, Southern California is rapidly becoming the astronomical center of the world, due chiefly to the establishment of the Mt. Wilson Observatory, containing the most powerful telescope in the world. The greatest astronomical staff in the world is found in Southern California, Dr. Larkin said.

HORSESHOE LUCKY FOR YOUTH

Merle M. Stoner Champion of State

Congratulations in Order

Youthful champion and runner-up in yesterday's State title horseshoe pitching games being congratulated by their veteran contenders. Left to right are N. S. Benton, secretary of Covina Horseshoe Club; Merle M. Stoner, champion; Fernando Isais, runner-up, and J. R. Bleecker, president of the Covina club.

COVINA, Nov. 2.—Matched against veterans at horseshoe pitching, some five times his senior, Merle M. Stoner, 17-year-old youth of Southpark, today won the State championship at the tenth annual tournament of the California Horseshoe Pitchers' Association, held in the city park here.

Stoner played fifteen perfect games to win the championship title, and his nearest runner-up was Fernando Isais, 16, also of Southpark, who lost only one game.

The title games, of 50 points each, in which sixteen contestants participated, were played yesterday as the climax of a three-day session, as the first two days were devoted to elimination contests. Walter Krowell of Compton, last year's champion, lost his place in the elimination games.

The Covina Horseshoe Club, of which J. R. Bleecker is president, and N. S. Benton, secretary, were hosts to the visiting delegates numbering approximately 150, who represented twenty communities from all parts of the State.

Thomas A. Wrey, 80 years of age, of Pomona, won the championship title of players from 75 years of age, on up, and William Pound, 82, of Covina, won second place, while R. M. Foster, 79, took third place, and J. R. Bleecker, 78, fourth. The two latter are both residents of Covina.

Horseshoe pitching, which was originally a barnyard game at which cowpunchers and farm hands tried their skill, has invaded athletic activities of the present day to such an extent that in some school's and universities it is considered one of the most popular sports shared by both sexes.

MEXICAN SOUGHT IN HOMICIDE

Fugitive Whose Identity is Withheld Hunted After Guadaloupe Murders

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 2.—A State-wide search for a middle-aged Mexican, whose identity is being withheld by Sheriff James Ross, was under way today as the veil of mystery surrounding a double murder in a Guadalupe cafe late Friday afternoon was partially lifted at the Coroner's inquest into the killing of Mary and Pedro Flores.

A Coroner's jury in Santa Maria returned a verdict that Mary, the 19-year-old wife, was shot to death by her husband, Pedro Flores, and that the latter met death by a gunshot wound inflicted by a person or persons unknown.

Mrs. Flores, a waitress employed in the Sota Cafe in Guadalupe, was shot by her husband as she stood in the small kitchen. Four bullets were lodged in the vicinity of her heart.

A moment after her husband had fired the four shots and had fired another shot at Mrs. Louise Sota, Flores fell dead with a bullet in his back. Witnesses testifying at the inquest, said Flores apparently had been drinking.

After entering the restaurant, he went immediately to the kitchen and demanded that his wife take off her apron and go back home with him. She refused and he started shooting. The one shot fired at her went wild. Then he turned on Mrs. Sota. The middle-aged Mexican, known to many of those in the restaurant, who was seated at a front table pulled his gun and killed Flores, it was testified at the inquest. The Mexican fled out the front door during the excitement which followed.

A State-wide search for the Mexican was started today by Sheriff Ross.

Child's Thirst Saves Family in Home Blaze

YUCAIPA, Nov. 2.—The home of H. B. Duke on First street, just south of Arizona avenue, was destroyed by fire about 3:30 a.m. yesterday. The entire contents of the house were burned and Mr. and Mrs. Duke just barely escaped the flames.

There is a large family and but for the fact that one of the children woke and wanted a drink, the family might have been burned. For the roof of the frame house was all aflame when Mrs. Duke got up to get the drink.

Neighbors came to their help this morning and provided clothes for Mr. and Mrs. Duke and their six children and the house will be rebuilt at once. It was partially covered by insurance.

Duke stated that about $10 of church money, he being church treasurer, was burned in the fire.

Condemnation Suit Brought

REDLANDS, Nov. 2. — Redlands city, through its attorney, Walter H. Hartzell, has brought suit against the Redlands Security Company, owned by A. Gregory, the first steps in proceedings to condemn ten feet of land owned by the company at Orange and State, where Mr. Gregory is now erecting a new building.

The condemnation suit is for the purpose of having the court set a valuation on the amount of damage done to the old building torn down by Gregory to make way for the wider street. The commission appointed allowed him $12,000 for the land taken but nothing for the building, although the City Council had agreed to give him $10,000 for this.

The suit will be carried through and it is expected that the court will be influenced by the stipulation made between Gregory and the Council and allow him $10,000 damages to the old building. He is erecting a new store building and hotel to cost $85,000.

DESERT PLAY LEAD CHOSEN

Wallace McDonald Given Role of Young Indian Warrior in "Tahquitz," Palm Springs' Drama

PALM SPRINGS, Nov. 2.—Announcement that Wallace MacDonald, stage and screen star, will make his first appearance in outdoor drama in the leading masculine role of the desert play "Tahquitz," to open here on the 15th inst, has just been made by Phil Whiting, the director.

The star, who will portray the role of "Tenoc," the young warrior who overthrows a tribal medicine man's conspiracy in the spectacular play, recently played the leading male role in "Susanna" here. For ten years he has played leading roles in films.

"Tahquitz," based on Indian legends of the region, will be presented in a rustic canyon on the edge of the Agua Caliente Indian reservation as a community non-profit enterprise designed to perpetuate the traditions of the locale. The cast will include more than a score of prominent dramatic stars.

POLICEMEN TRANSFERRED

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 2. William C. Friend, police officer from Hollywood station, has been transferred to the San Fernando Valley police division. Officer W. L. Crowder of the Valley division has been transferred to the Hollywood station.

COUNTY ISSUES LOOM TUESDAY

Heated Campaign Coming to Close in Orange

Three Outstanding Contests Concluding in San Diego

San Bernardino Interested in Amendment No. 21

Tuesday will witness a general election in all counties of the State. Issues and candidates involved in the State election are so generally agreed upon that little interest is shown in that particular. Each county, however, has its own problems and local officers to select, so that much local interest is shown in nearly all the local contests.

Several of the most important choices in Tuesday's voting are discussed briefly by "Times" men on the ground and give a very fair picture of local conditions.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 2.—What has been described as the most heatedly contested pre-election battle in the history of Orange county is drawing to a close with no outstanding indications that victory will rest with any of the several candidates involved.

Three county contests and one contest for Supervisor have been the center of interest and one of these, involving the Sheriff's office, has been very warm, indeed.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan, seeking re-election, is opposed by Logan Jackson of Orange. Jernigan has made his campaign upon the results of his past administration and has cited the large number of arrests made and fines collected with a very small corps of deputies.

Jackson, strongly supported by the prohibition societies, has attacked Jernigan's administration and, if elected, has promised to bring about an improvement in alleged liquor conditions. Jackson has also attacked Jernigan because of an unsavory report concerning the Sheriff's office made by an Orange county grand jury.

Almost the same forces are matched in the election of a District Attorney. Sam L. Collins, at present assistant District Attorney, who very nearly had enough votes to be elected at the primary, has found keen opposition to his candidacy from those favoring Harry Westover, Santa Ana attorney. Because of the big lead amassed by Collins at the primary, political prognosticators believe he has the best chance of election.

The contest for election of a treasurer has been between Earl Abbey, deputy County Clerk, and E. B. Trago of Santa Ana.

Another hard-fought battle has been waged in the Fifth Supervisorial District, the coastline section, where County Supervisor George Jeffrey, seeking re-election, is opposed by Stuart B. Lucas of Corona del Mar. In Santa Ana a keen contest has been waged between Cornish Roehm and Vernon Barnhill, seeking election as constable.

Two county propositions will be on the ballot, one calling for the purchase of the Orange county fairgrounds site and the other providing for the erection of a county recreation building on the grounds after the land has been paid for.

SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 2.—Marking the most spirited election campaigns seen here in several years, three outstanding contests will be decided tomorrow by voters who participate in the general election.

The hottest contest probably will be that for Sheriff, with Ed F. Cooper, incumbent, and John D. Cornell strenuously fighting for votes via the radio and newspapers. They ran neck and neck at the primary and the opinion here is that it is anybody's race.

Another contest that will be watched with great interest is that for Coroner. S. C. Kelly, incumbent, and Chester D. Gunn have waged a hot campaign since the primary at which they ran a close race. Kelly seems to have a little edge on Gunn, but not enough to warrant a prediction of the outcome.

For County Treasurer, George W. Moulton, incumbent, will be at a slight disadvantage through his arrest recently on a drunken-driving charge. He will be opposed by James Hervey Johnson, who was a close runner-up at the primary.

A $500,000 bond issue for erecting a civic center on the tidelands also will provide a thrilling ballot battle. Many citizens here are in the habit of voting against any and all bond issues, regardless of their worthiness, and while there is much favorable opinion for these particular bonds, the two-thirds majority required to pass them is rather doubtful.

For County Assessor, George W. Heston, incumbent, will oppose Will S. Heller; the County Recorder's race will find Harriet E. Crane facing O. M. Swope and a three-way fight for constable will be waged by G. H. Cooley, Harry E. Webber and Howard S. Jopling.

Edwin Reed, incumbent, will oppose Le Roy Bailey for the office of public administrator, with Reed favored as the winner. In the contest for District Attorney Thomas Whelan and John Coker will oppose each other, following Stephen Connell's (present District Attorney) failure to make the ticket at the primary.

For city justice a warm battle is expected between C. L. Chambers, incumbent, and H. C. Hopkins, with the outcome in doubt.

William E. Harper, Republican, will oppose Charles E. Burch, Democrat, for State Senator from the Fortieth District, and George B. Bowers will be unopposed for Assemblyman from the Seventh-eighth District.

VENTURA

VENTURA, Nov. 2.—Locally, Tuesday's election interest centers in a contest for one county office, a contest for one township office, and a decision on the question whether Ventura city shall or shall not adopt a home-rule charter.

The county office is that of Tax Collector, with Robert Cooney of Santa Paula and T. L. Eustis of Ventura the runners-off. The township office is that of constable, with Ed Newby and J. J. Salcido making the race.

The proposed city charter was framed by an elected board of fifteen freeholders, consisting of Merle J. Rogers, James Blackstock, J. E. Rains, Robert Sheridan, W. H. Glover, Mrs. Grace C. Coffey, Arthur E. Wilvert, D. J. Reese, Floyd Hickey, E. E. Wiker, J. H. Hinsdale, John Lagomarsino, J. M. Argabrite, J. E. Barker and Joseph E. Noyes.

It provides for an elective council of seven members who shall appoint a City Manager to direct the administrative activities. It also contains a complete system of budget control on all municipal finances.

An active campaign for adoption of the charter has been conducted by a citizens' committee headed by George C. Power, pioneer resident. The opposition has been led by City Attorney Walter Fourt.

If approved by the voters, the charter will go to the Legislature this winter for ratification and will be in effect for the municipal election of next spring. In April it would then go into full operation with a newly elected Council in office.

RIVERSIDE

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 2.—Riverside county voters on Tuesday next will elect a Coroner. That is the sole county issue upon which votes will be cast, all others having been determined at the primary election.

The Coroner's race has developed into a neck-and-neck contest between Dr. C. S. Dickson, incumbent, and Ben White, Chief of Police of Blythe. Dr. Dickson, who has held the office for some thirty years, asks support upon his record and upon the asserted fact that a physician can save the county money. White points to his record as an officer and also pledges utmost economy.

SAN BERNARDINO

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 2.—Although there is not a single contest for a county office on the ballot, it is probable that between 30,000 and 35,000 of San Bernardino county's 50,000 registered voters will go to the polls Tuesday in California's general election.

The principal interest in the election involves Amendment No. 21, which would provide for the reimbursement of counties whose tax revenues are lost through State's taxing of public utility corporation-owned properties. San Bernardino county loses more than $200,000 annually in potential tax funds through the operation of Amendment No. 1 to the State Constitution, the act by which the State levies a direct tax on the utility properties. In San Bernardino county is an enormous assessed valuation in utility properties.

The Board of Supervisors has broadcast an appeal to the voters to support No. 21.

San Bernardino county is, too, interested in piling up a big majority for the Republican nominees, Mayor Rolph and Senator Merriam. All of the county officers were elected by virtue of receiving a majority of votes cast at the primaries.

In a few townships are contests for the offices of justice of the peace or constable.

In San Bernardino City a salary-raise issue for the city firemen is on the ballot.

KERN

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 2.—Only one contest will be balloted upon for Kern county offices next Tuesday. Allan B. Campbell is opposing Frederick Welsh for Superior Judge.

Voters residing within the incorporated limits of Bakersfield will ballot on two proposed charter amendments, both pertaining to the city fire department. One of the propositions calls for inauguration of a civil service system in the department, the other proposes a pension and disability fund to be raised jointly by city taxation and a levy upon salaries of department members.

KINGS

HANFORD, Nov. 2.—Only three local contests come up for settlement in Tuesday's general election, all other candidates having won or lost in the August primary election.

The outstanding Kings county contest is for the office of Sheriff. W. V. Buckner, who was Kings county's first Sheriff, but retired from political life after twenty years' service and broke into it again when he was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Frances Kimes, who died in office, is opposed by W. J. Hime, also a former Kings county Sheriff with a record of eight years in office. They stood only 132 votes apart in the primary election, with Buckner the favorite, and a third man, Oscar Moore, securing 330 votes. On the division of Moore's votes and upon the will of 1300 new electors who have registered since the primary, the coming battle for the office of Sheriff is expected to depend.

The only other Kings county contests are for justice of the peace in Hanford and Armona township. In Hanford, H. H. Warnock, the incumbent, is opposed by Harry V. Brenton, and at Armona Justice A. D. Shay is defending his position against C. L. Sewell.

Kings county, however, will take the same interest in the State-wide election and ballot amendments and propositions, as its sister counties.

MILLION IN CASH MOVED BY BANKERS

Coin in Bulk Trundled Through San Bernardino Streets

Vast Wealth Under Police Guard Transferred in Bank Merger

J. M. Oakey pills and J. R. Thomson pushes a million dollars through San Bernardino's downtown streets. Oakey and Thomson, executives of the former Bank of Italy, transferred the bank's cash to the Bank of America branch where the consolidated bank will open Monday.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 2.—Escorted by two policemen, executives of the former Bank of Italy moved $1,000,000 through San Bernardino's downtown streets late yesterday.

The occasion was the consolidation of the Bank of Italy and the Bank of America branches into the Bank of America Trust and Savings Association, which becomes effective with the opening of the bank for business Monday.

J. M. Oakey and J. R. Thomson, assistant vice-presidents of the former Bank of Italy branch, loaded the bank's cash on a hand truck, towing the money-laden truck to the Bank of America quarters at Third and E streets, a block from the former Bank of Italy.

Chief of Police Harry R. Heap and Officer Patrick J. Tighe escorted the bankers.

FINANCIAL TROUBLE SAID SUICIDE CAUSE

UPLAND, Nov. 2.—Financial affairs today were given as the direct cause for Henry Alfred Potter taking his own life by swallowing poison at his home above Twenty-fourth street on Euclid avenue. Potter carefully planned his own extermination, purchasing part of his poison potion one day, and another part the next day. Going to his home he drank the concoction and died ten minutes after he had been taken to San Antonio Community Hospital. Potter had lived here six months. He was a retired railroad conductor from Canada. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Lucy Potter, and one son, Harry.

VOTE SLACKERS DECLARED UNWORTHY OF FRANCHISE

Only Hope of Good Government Lies in Exercise of Ballot Right, Says Dr. Brown

"The man who fails to vote Tuesday should be ashamed to ask for his rights as a citizen," declared Dr. Bruce Brown in his sermon yesterday at South Park Christian Church. "The only hope of a popular government is the participation of good citizens in governmental affairs," said Dr. Brown.

"There is hardly a community in all this land in which the moral and justice-loving people do not constitute a majority. The real reason for corruption and favoritism in law enforcement is that the election of officers is largely determined by persons who can and do use them as their tools."

Stating that only about one-third of the persons in Los Angeles who were entitled to vote, participated in the last primary election, Dr. Brown said that a map with black circles, marking the places in which most arrests are made, shows that the largest percentage of votes were cast in those sections.

"This sinister fact shows that many of those who should give their support to just measures and men, fail in their duty as citizens and that the lawless and vicious elements are left to decide matters of greatest importance," said Dr. Brown.

CHURCH HELPS ONLY FAITHFUL MEMBERS

Declaring that the church always has made progress when its members have been faithful to the injunction of Jesus, "Confess Me before men," Rev. L. V. Lucas, pastor of West Adams Methodist Church, told his congregation yesterday that the declaration of allegiance to Christ is a source of strength in every hour of trial.

"Let us boldly confess our Lord," pleaded Mr. Lucas. "We sometimes think of creeds as limiting and cramping life. Here we find ample room for the greatest possible development of our talents. Here are guidance and help for both the little child and the most profound philosopher. We accept this faith as an aid for living, as a standard, or gauge, for action in our daily lives, and not as a statement of creed. The practice of this faith will lead to the most abundant life, both for the individual and for society.

"The church is not a perfect institution, nor is the hospital the home of perfectly well folks. The church is a nursery, a school, a hospital, and more. It needs our prayers. We are a part of it and it can be no better than we are. No army ever won a victory with the soldiers at home. The church can only help those who attend."

SALVATIONISTS HEAR BRIG. JAMES C. BELL

"The Greater Values" is the subject of a sermon preached at Salvation Army Citadel yesterday by Brig. James C. Bell of the Los Angeles and South Coast division of the Salvation Army. Brig. Bell said in part:

"We need the upward look. It is great for us to see iron swim and men fly, but the greatest thing in God's universe is when a man seeks first the Kingdom of God. The prodigal son was down, but he wasn't out. He looked up. He said, 'I will arise and go to my father.' He oriented himself, and that is what we must do. There must be a self-adjustment to time and eternity. We must, in sort, place correct value on both time and eternity. There was Paul and his connection with Demetrius. Demetrius, the silversmith, was interested in the money that was being made by the sale of images. His opinion was altogether different to the opinion of Paul. Paul was thinking in terms of eternity and Demetrius in terms of time. The man who thinks in terms of the latter fails. Thinking in terms of eternity, and striving for perfection, these are the marks of true success."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON ON SIN

"He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy." This maxim from Proverbs constituted the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Everlasting Punishment," yesterday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Among the Bible texts in the Lesson-Sermon were the following verses from Proverbs: "The righteousness of the perfect shall direct his way; but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness. . . . As righteousness tendeth to life: so he that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death . . . He that diligently seeketh good procureth favour: but he that seeketh mischief, it shall come unto him. . . . The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips; but the just shall come out of trouble."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following statements: "What a pitiful sight is malice, finding pleasure in revenge! Evil is sometimes a man's highest conception of right, until his grasp on good grows stronger. Then he loses pleasure in wickedness, and it becomes his torment. The way to escape the misery of sin is to cease sinning."

SPIRITUAL DECLINE CAUSES FOREBODING

"He who redeems the time, who extracts from its blessings and opportunities that shall engure for eternity, has redeemed it wisely," said Dr. J. George Dorn in his sermon yesterday at Hollywood Lutheran Church. Dr. Dorn spoke in part as follows:

"Oh, that we might learn that every moment has its significance, that every swing of the pendulum is full of immortal issues! In this day and age the forces of evil are operating openly and defiantly, vices of the most aggravating character pollute society. Millions do not believe in God and the better things of life. The condition that will confront us in a quarter of a century from now, when the 27,000,000 young people, who are growing up without any religious instruction, will take their places in public life, can only be guessed at. When we look for the causes of the spiritual decline of our times we must always start with the home and family life of our people. The home is no longer thought of as a sacred institution. Marriage is being defamed by all sorts of escapades all over our land. Divorce by the thousand are a sad commentary of our conception of marriage ties.

SKEPTICISM DECLARED TO BE DOOR TO FAITH

"A Religion for the Skeptical" was discussed yesterday by Dr. Sheldon Shepard at First Universalist Church. Dr. Shepard said in part:

"I have to be skeptical, because it is the only way I can be honest. I have to change my opinions. But at every rumbling obstacle of some dear faith, let me be the kind of skeptic who asks 'where is the greater good to take the place of this partial one which has succumbed before the currents of changing times?' Skepticism is the door to faith. One may have credulity without ever having doubted, but he cannot have faith. Faith is not doubt, but it is a child of doubt. Gullibility is the child of credulity, and faith is not even its cousin. Blessed are the doubters, for they, and they alone, shall find a greater truth."

FRANCES WILLARD'S MEMORY HONORED

A glowing tribute to the memory of Frances Willard was voiced yesterday by Dr. John M. Baxter in his sermon at Rosewood M. E. Church. Dr. Baxter said in part:

"There are those who are beyond eulogy and Frances E. Willard needs not the honor of mankind. But we that have entered into the heritage of her priceless service, were ungrateful beings, indeed, did we not acknowledge the influence upon our lives of that loyal spirit. The elements of beauty in her character were strikingly apparent. Love was the dominant trait of her character. She was beautiful because of her love for the beautiful. She caught the vision of a superior life and longed and worked for its realization, not only in her own heart but in the heart of the people of the whole world, whom she loved as her own soul. There was love for beautiful nature, people, and the beautiful God. Herein was the strength of her character. Those peerless powers and activities of her life were consecrated to her Redeemer."

PALESTINE DISCUSSED BY DAVID L. COOPER

Problems of the Jewish people with special reference to the Palestine situation, were discussed yesterday by David L. Cooper at Wilshire Christian Church. Mr. Cooper said in part:

"Voices here and there in Jewry are calling for the reorganization of their old Supreme Court. Last year the announcement was made that a certain Jewish laymen were sponsoring a movement to reorganize this body and to investigate the claims of Jesus of Nazareth. The promoters simply want the truth about Jesus so that they can give an intelligent, truthful answer to questions that are constantly arising concerning Him. Several rabbis have voiced the sentiment that the ancient court should be reorganized. I assure my Jewish friends that upon the basis of the infallible word of God, that the present situation in Palestine, though it is somewhat disconcerting for the time being, will not hinder the development of the Jewish nation and the reorganization of the Supreme Court. The plan of God for that nation is that it shall be restored to the land of the fathers and that that ancient court shall be reorganized."

Repairing of Padre Trail Bells Asked

Some eighty-five mission bells which in 1913 were placed on the trails of the old-time padres in Los Angeles county are sadly in need of repair, according to a letter from Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, past president of the El Camino Real Association which will be read today to the Board of Supervisors.

Mrs. Forbes states the county in 1913 placed forty bells on the highway. Added to these were twenty-five more supplied by various citizens, historical societies and civic bodies.

"Many of the standards have rotted and let the bells fall to the ground," Mrs. Forbes declares. "Others have been damaged by reckless auto drivers, while still others have been removed by contractors widening roads."

The board is asked to appropriate $850 for the repair of the unique markers.

PADDLER KILLS PARK'S SWAN

Valuable Bird Found Slain and Investigators Blame Ruthless Boatmen

Death of one of the valuable swans in Hollenbeck Park Lake has been reported to the Park Commission by park employees, who report that the dead bird bore marks as though it had been struck with a paddle in the hands of some ruthless patron of the boats on the lake.

Woods Argues With Figures

President's Chief Job Finder Shows Savings Possible in Present Period

Three New Aides Named; Many Men Called Back to Work in East

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3. (AP)—Figures compiled to show the economic advantages of immediate public construction were issued today by Chairman Woods of the President's employment committee to support his appeal for increased Federal, State and municipal building.

Simultaneously three more names were added to the group seeking to alleviate unemployment suffering.

In announcing the conclusion of a survey designed to show whether Federal, State and local governments can economize by building extensively at the present time, Chairman Woods of the President's emergency employment committee said it has shown savings of 9 to 20 per cent to the taxpayers would result.

The survey included data gathered from three government departments and covered various types of construction in all sections of the country.

VIRGINIAN NAMED

Frank Bane of Richmond, Commissioner of Public Welfare in Virginia, was the first named today by Col. Woods to aid in his task of job-finding. Bane will act as regional director, supervising unemployment relief in the southeastern section composed of Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi.

James C. Lawrence, dean of administration of the University of Minnesota, was named by the unemployment chairman to act as a "clearinghouse" for regional directors. Lawrence arrived in Washington today to take up his duties.

Col. Woods made known plans to appoint four or possibly five other regional directors. He has named Frederick C. Croston of Columbus, O., to supervise affairs in the section composed of Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia.

TAXIDERMIST WILL DIRECT LION ACTOR IN LAST ROLE

Numa, lion comedian of the Charles Gay Lion Farm and veteran of more than 200 film comedies in which he has scared more people than falls to the lot of fifty lions in the usual run of things, is dead.

He has gone to join his old pal Slats, who died several years ago, and will be stuffed and mounted beside his friend in the front room of the lion farm office. A cancer of the head wrote finis to the life of the beast who, during his eight years in the films, earned his owner more than $75,000.

Numa never bit a comedian. He scared Charles Chaplin in "The Circus" when the comedian got into his cage by mistake; he has snarled at Norma Shearer and at Gloria Swanson.

"As for bathing girls," said his owner last night, "he worked for years with Mack Sennett. He chased them down the beaches running and spitting. He has starred Charlie Murray and made it look real—but he never harmed anyone. He was a lion of rare intelligence and didn't mind things appointed. He has stopped custard pies in the old days and in the modern talkies has roared his way to a pay check time and again. We did everything we could to save him, but you can't do so little for wild beasts. He was 18 years of age and we had him eight years.

Numa has twenty-eight living descendants among the 180 lions now at the Gay farms. Pluto, one of his grandsons, is being groomed to take his place.
